VALLEY BACKS CHICAGO'S FIGHT FOR LAKE WATER

Point Out Its Needs for Waterways.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Chicago's right to a diversion of water from Lake Michigan, not on a sanitation but on a navigation basis, was made the key to the success of the whole inland waterways plan at today's session of the Mississippi Valley association.

It remained for a Missouri congressman, Cleveland A. Newton of St. Louis, to become the "angel of light" 'on this problem. In what is considered the most effective speech made before the convention, he visualized the vital need of a permanent 10,000 cubic feet flow through the Chicago river to raise levels of the Mississippi, attacked the great power interests of the St. Lawrence and Niagara Falls for opposing this measure, pictured it in national defense, and called on the 26 states in the association to get behind Chicago's fight for their own salvation.

Hull Backs Newton.

Congressman William E. Hull of Peoria late today followed up this move, which was supported by expert opinion, and called on the south, from Texas to Virginia, to help him in his new fight for a 10,000 foot bill in congress.

He said the Canadians were "the greatest water hogs in the world," and blamed them for much of the opposition. "Let the sewage question go, he said. It was not important in this crisis. The convention later passed a resolution urging the passage of legislation by congress "that will legalize the right to divert sufficient water from Lake Michigan for navigation purposes in the Illinois and Mississippi rivers.

The association also went on record for final conclusive action on funds to complete the inland waterways, a fixed policy for such completion within five years, and also a national plan by which such a policy could not be thwarted by any bureau or department. This is a slap at the budget director.

Appeal to Congressmen.

The congressmen from the 26 states were appealed to to get after the President and ask him to put waterways completion in his annual message. They also decided to go to the citizens in a campaign showing the practical benefits of the waterways and to urge coöperation with the railroads. They asked for a division of rates, but are not for railroad owenrship of the waterway lines.

James E. Smith of St. Louis was reelected president. Thomas F. Cunningham of New Orleans was made vice president at large. E. T. Harris is the Chicago district vice president. R. I. Randolph of Chicago, E. J. Kahn of Peoria, and E. A. Smith of Cairo are the Illinois directors.

Need of 10,000 Feet.

Mr. Newton's address brought to a climax the growing feeling among the delegates that this 10,000 feet flow through the Chicago river is a navigative necessity along the lower Mississippi.

"It is time Chicago changed its tune from sanitation to navigation," he said. "It is time the valley woke up to the fact that this is our problem, the most important one in the country today. This flow from Lake Michigan is necessary to us.

"The opposition has even been stirring up trouble in southern Illinois, turning them against Chicago," he continued.

"But you are about over that now, aren't you, Hull?" he asked Congressman Hull. Mr. Hull nodded.

"About time," said Mr. Newton. "We cannot plan in the Mississippi or in the Illinois until this is settled.

Asks for Public Sentiment.

"Now I'll tell you what to do. We've got the votes if you will get the sentiment of your people solidly behind this. Get back to the farmers. Let your congressman know that he need not be afraid of the cry of 'Pork.' Give us these votes and the river steamers will be whistling in 5 years."

There is no lake level problem any more, Mr. Newton said. As a member of the river and harbor committee in congress, he listened for six weeks to evidence on this diversion problem. The testimony of the engineers, both for and against diversion, he said was to the effect that lake levels have been lowered five and one-half inches.

"And the lowering is complete," he said. "Even though the diversion should continue for a hundred years the lake levels would not be lowered further.

"The people don't know this. I re-

GUN DISCHARGED BY DOG FATAL TO HIS MASTER

Gustaf Alvin Johnson, of 7729 Euclid avenue, foreman of the Schulze Baking company, accidentally shot and killed himself in the basement of his home last night when the family bull dog jumped up on him as he descended the stairs, revolver in hand, looking for a burglar.

Johnson, who was 44 years old, had spent the evening at home with his wife and six year old son, Robert. A telephone call came and Johnson failed to return to the room after answering. Mrs. Johnson, searching for her husband, found his body at the foot of the cellar stairs. She and the police at first thought Johnson had killed himself because of some message received over the telephone. Later investigation showed the call had been from a clerk at the bakery and unimportant.

Then Bobby informed his mother that he had told his father he had seen shadows in another room and that his father had left in search of a supposed burglar. The dog, it was then recalled, always sprang on Johnson in play when his master entered the basement.

ARREST POLITICAL LEADERS IN ROW WITH POLICEMAN

Two west side political leaders, Michael Rosenberg, a trustee of the sanitary district, and Mitchell Robbin, a member of the board of local improvements, were given a ride in a patrol wagon last night by West Park Policeman Thomas Pavlis, who charged both men with disorderly conduct and resisting an officer, at the police station they were forced to give $100 cash bail and will appear in the Maxwell street court this morning.

The narrow escape from injury of a woman pedestrian carrying a baby across the corner of Independence boulevard and Roosevelt road was responsible for the argument. A motorist swerved his car suddenly and successfully avoided the woman.

Rosenberg and Robbin, who live nearby, demanded that the motorist be arrested. The policeman refused and the argument became so heated that a riot call was sent in.

Burglars Get $450,000 in Palace of Alfonso's Cousin

SAN LUCAR DE BARRAMEDA, Spain, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Infante Alfonso of Orleans, cousin of King Alfonso of Spain, has been robbed of priceless heirlooms valued at 3,000,000 pesetas (about $450,000). Burglars entered his palace and carried off paintings, tapestries, and rare jewels. The precious stones of the collar of the Order of the Golden Fleece were removed and pieces of glass substituted.

Mrs. Allen Is Now a Patient in Sanitarium

Mrs. James R. Allen, whose infant son, James Raymond Allen Jr., was found chloroformed in his crib at the Belmont hotel, Nov. 17, was taken to a private sanitarium in Milwaukee yesterday.

Dr. James A. Garrity, 7 South Crawford avenue, said Mr. Allen took his wife to the institution by his advice. Mrs. Allen, he added, is in a serious condition both physically and mentally, and was overcome by a severe spell Monday.

Crowe Not Notified.

Neither State's Attorney Crowe nor Attorneys Charles Lederer and George Murdock, who represented Mrs. Allen while the death of the child was under investigation, was notified of her departure from the hotel.

Mr. Allen and his wife at first insisted that robbers had entered their apartment and killed their son. This theory, however, was abandoned by the state's attorney. An inquest into the death is set for Dec. 1.

Death Still Mystery.

The early investigation failed to throw light on the manner of the infant's death. The Allens, Miss Caroline Frogen, a nurse, and Lawrence Gardner, a friend of Allen, who was in their apartment when the body was discovered, were quizzed.

Gardner said that he and the Allens were talking together and that the baby, who was only 5 weeks old, was all right at 10:30 p. m. on Tuesday night. It was nearly 1 a. m. when Mrs. Allen left them, went into the room where the child was and returned crying that something was wrong with him.

A clerk in the hotel pharmacy reported that a woman had purchased chloroform from him two weeks before, but was unable to identify the purchaser.

FAMOUS CELLAR RAIDED; $80,000 LIQUOR DUMPED

Bath, N. Y., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Federal and county authorities tonight raided the White Top champagne cellars at Gibson's Landing, ten miles north of Hammondsport, destroyed 18,000 gallons of champagne, brandy, and rare wines, valued at more than $80,000, and four 25 gallon stills.

Charles Wheeler, owner, was arraigned here later charged with operating the cellars without a license.

The White Top cellars, long among the leaders in the Lake Keuka champagne country, has operated as a bonded warehouse since prohibition. It is alleged that the cellars had not renewed its bonds.

U. S.' RICHEST SYNAGOGUE SOLD FOR $7,000,000

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The Temple Emmanuel, 5th avenue and 43d street, richest synagogue in America, is to be disposed of for a consideration approximating $7,000,000, it became known today.

The congregation will receive in the transaction, it is said, the old William Astor home at 65th street and 5th avenue, and on that site build a new temple.

The purchaser will be the same Benjamin Winter, once penniless immigrant youth, who last May bought the Astor residence which he now is to exchange. The entire transaction, it was indicated, will involve $10,000,000.

The temple, built in 1868, was called the stronghold of Reform Judaism. Its members include some of the city's most powerful financial and professional figures.

LAWYERS SUING STOKES ASK FOR $1,000,000 LIBEL

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Announcement that W. E. D. Stokes has been sued for $1,000,000 for libel by his former attorneys, Daniel F. and John A. Nugent of Nugent & Nugent, was made today in the course of the hearing before Herman Hoffman, as referee, in the proceedings by Stokes to compel his former attorneys to return a number of documents used in the unsuccessful divorce suit of Stokes and Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes. The attorneys contend that they are entitled to keep the documents until Stokes has made a full settlement with them.

Daniel F. Nugent was one of the persons indicted with Stokes and three Negroes in Chicago on the ground that they conspired to injure Mrs. Stokes, but was exonerated by the trial judge.

CHEERS RING IN REICHSTAG FOR FRANCE, FRIEND

Poll Shows 302 for Locarno Pact's O. K.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—An overwhelming majority for the Locarno treaty was officially announced in the reichstag this afternoon when the party leaders made declarations of their followers' attitude toward the pact. The following are for the treaty: Socialists, 131; Catholics, 69; People's party, 51; Democrats, 32; Bavarian People's party, 19; a total of 302. The following are against the treaty: Nationalists, 111; Communists, 45; Fascists, 14; a total of 170.

The debate was featured by cheers for France as the friend of Germany when Foreign Minister Stresemann declared:

"We have confidence in France. We are not dealing with the France of Poincare."

The galleries, which were crowded, joined in the applause.

Urges Russia to Enter League.

Herr Wels, leader of the Socialists, opened the debate with a solemn warning to soviet Russia to mend its ways and abolish its isolation from all the world.

"As long as Russia holds itself aloof of its own free will her isolation will increase," he said. "The only way out of the dangers of isolation is for Russia to abandon its voluntary isolation, take up the road to the league, consolidate the country, and finally giving up its system of political terror."

Herr Wels declared Germany had only two roads before it—European peace based on the Locarno treaties, or an alliance with Russia, which must lead to war. Austen Chamberlain, he asserted, already had prepared the way to a closer British entente with France in his memorandum of Feb. 20. This memorandum would automatically come into force should Germany refuse the Locarno agreement. Germany in consequence would be treated as a potential enemy. Russia must also accept the responsibility for European peace, he declared.

Favors Coöperation with Soviets.

Count Westarp, for the Nationalists, declared he wanted an understanding with his neighbors, but it must be an understanding which takes hostile troops from German soil. He saw Germany's future in coöperation with Russia.

"If England is working with special energy for Locarno it is only to force Germany into the circle of nations of the west in the common struggle against bolshevism," he declared. "We, too, want to prevent the bolshevists from entering the country. But we know bolshevism is not identified with Russia all the time. Our political interests and economic needs point eastward. We must have full liberty of action in the east."

Stresemann Defends Pact.

Foreign Minister Stresemann, answering the criticism of the right and left extremists, showed his impatience with the oft repeated charge that the Locarno security pact was an alliance against Russia.

"We have so often declared our peaceful intentions toward Russia that it is time to close the question," he said. "On the other hand, it is high time that Russia declares its peaceful intentions toward the rest of Europe."

Herr Stresemann declared Belgium had announced the end of its legal proceedings against the so-called German war criminals. A similar decision by France is expected.

The debate continued well into the night. The enabling act, which will ratify the Locarno treaties, will have its second reading Thursday, and its third reading and vote on Friday.

FLEE CELLS AS JAILER PREPARES PRISONERS' FOOD

"We know it ain't mealtime, but we're hungry," wailed three prisoners at the New City station last night.

Lockup Keeper Patrick Nash, somewhat proud of his ability as a cook, promised food. If they would keep quiet a few minutes, he said, he'd go down and fix sandwiches and coffee.

They promised, and he went. While he was considering his golden deed and boiling the Java the three picked the lock and fled. When Nash returned the door of the cell was open. On a blanket was pinned a note:

"We like restrant grub beter."

Clara Harcq, Stepfather, Husband, Free

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Mrs. Clara Harcq was acquitted tonight of the charge of killing her mother, Mrs. Lillie Holt. Likewise Mrs. Harcq's husband, Albert, and her stepfather, Arthur Holt, were acquitted.

It was the first murder trial of a woman in Lake county in the last twelve years. Mrs. Holt died in her Fox Lake home on Sept. 20.

The verdict was read at 9:20 o'clock in Judge Claire C. Edwards' court, exactly five hours after the jury had retired.

While the jurors refused to discuss the number of ballots taken, it was learned that just preceding the final ballot the vote stood at eleven to one for acquittal for Holt and ten to two for acquittal for Clara. It was evident that Harcq, charged only with being an accessory before the fact, had been found not guilty early in the proceedings.

Spectators Applaud Verdict.

Applause of spectators in the courtroom, including a number of relatives of the defendants, was the only demonstration that greeted the verdict.

The defendants themselves never roused from the attitude they preserved during the entire twelve days of the trial, amounting almost to nonchalance. They never smiled or wept. Albert Harcq of the white hair and the youthful face, who was sitting beside his wife, leaned over without a word and kissed her.

The languid woman in the becoming mink coat, the snug little brown hat and the modish brown crêpe dress, from whose life a great load had just been lifted, smiled a little.

"Of course, I'm glad, but I won't really be able to think straight about it until I've got some fresh air, and rested up after this awful strain. It's been terrible, terrible."

Fairly Treated, Holt Says.

"The jury couldn't have done anything else," was Holt's comment.

"We have received absolutely fair treatment ever since we were brought into this courtroom and I had faith in that jury," Holt continued. "I bear not the slightest malice. Right now I'd be glad to shake the hand of Col. Smith, although he made out a terrific case against us for the prosecution."

Attorney James G. Welch, who put intensive work into his efforts in defense of his clients, was much more palpably affected than any of them. For several moments after the verdict had been read, he wept.

Mr. Welch's impassioned closing argument this morning, in which he begged the jury not to compromise on a manslaughter verdict, but to return a vote either of guilty or not guilty of murder, probably carried considerable weight in the deliberations of the jury.

Fatal Quarrel Last September.

Mrs. Holt died Sunday afternoon, Sept. 20, at her Fox Lake home after a violent quarrel with her daughter and husband. Four bullet wounds, three in her abdomen and one in her head, the last bullet entering through her mouth and killing her, were found in her body.

The arguments in the case centered mainly around the question as to whether, in the event of suicide, which the defense offered in explanation, the abdominal wounds would have prevented her from firing the last and fatal shot.

FIND ANOTHER BLACK BOOK OF BOOZE SECRETS

Bares Many Tricks of Rum Trade.

The government's five foot shelf of little black books has been joined by the most illuminating volume of them all—a record, operatives claimed last night, that tells more about booze corruption and liquor business methods than all the others combined.

Prohibition agents found the new volume in a raid on the sixth story establishment of J. B. Scheure & Co., 17 West Austin avenue, after they had discovered $200,000 worth of whisky and alcohol concealed on all the floors of the place.

Another development in the liquor situation yesterday was the issuance by Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe of padlock orders against nineteen establishments and temporary injunctions against sixteen others. It was the largest batch in the last three years and is said to be just the beginning of Judge Cliffe's program of granting booze restraining orders on a wholesale scale.

Find Is Carefully Guarded.

Although details of the seizure of the Scheure & Co. premises were made known at the time of the raid last Thursday, existence of the book was a carefully guarded secret until last night. High prohibition officials expressed anger that knowledge of the volume had leaked out before they had the opportunity to check on the important information it contained.

It was also revealed last night for the first time that when the raiders dashed into the big liquor caché, which is directly across the street from the Criminal Courts building, they came on one of their fellow agents, who seemed to be there for no reason at all. Officials refused to divulge the agent's name, but claim his presence establishes connections considered of great importance.

Inability of prohibition officials to open a large vault at the Austin avenue address has led to further complications and mysteries, it is said. The vault is under internal revenue department seals, it is reported, and legal technicalities thus far have prevented any one from breaking the seals.

Keeps All Night Vigil.

It was said that after Administrator E. C. Yellowley had read the little black book he ordered that only men tested for honesty and skill with firearms be assigned to guard the safe. On Monday reports reached prohibition headquarters that plans were afoot to open the safe and restore the seals. As a result Administrator Yellowley ordered Capt. R. Q. Merrick to maintain an all night vigil at the door of the safe. Capt. Merrick did not leave his post until 9 o'clock yesterday morning, it is said.

Despite the fact that little black books have been sending bootleggers to the penitentiary since shortly after the advent of the Volstead law, the principals seem to have learned no caution from precedents, officials said.

While some of the entries were in code, most of them were readily understandable, it is claimed. Among the items the book is said to contain is a virtually complete directory of the entire prohibition department, with notations as to those considered "dangerous," those who can be "seen" by certain individuals, and other data intimately personal concerning the enforcement staff.

Has the Dope on Agents.

Comment on the habits of some of the agents, with the time they generally leave home in the morning and return home at night, is contained in the book.

Although he did not reveal that records had been seized at the time of the raid, Capt. Merrick said after the seizure that he had positive evidence that liquor traffic approaching a volume of more than $1,000,000 a month has been passing through the Scheure plant. Contents of the black book are now said to have formed a great part of the basis for this estimate.

A four day investigation has revealed the source of a great deal of the quantity of alcohol found in the place. The discovery is expected to result in early revocation of the permit of one of Chicago's largest denaturing plants, according to prohibition officials.

According to one government official, the book contains traffic charts which completely eclipse the findings in the railroad phase of the government investigation of Chicago's $800,000 a month beer syndicate.

Details of safe ways to outsmart operatives assigned to railway and express shipments are contained in the book, with information regarding "right" railroad and express company employés, it is claimed.

At the time of last Thursday's raid an American Express company truck laden with "electrical supplies" was seized and the boxes were found to contain assorted booze. The shipment was consigned to St. Louis.

Acting on information said to have been contained in the black book, Prohibition Agents F. L. White and A. C. Townsend raided a warehouse at 247 East Illinois street, where they seized a truck containing 100 cases of Scotch whisky and a large quantity of other grog and booze cutting paraphernalia.

See More Padlocks on Way.

Judge Cliffe's action in granting the booze injunctions is declared to be only a starter for what is to come.

The places hit by permanent injunctions included the Hollywood club, well known political hangout in Kedzie avenue, near Lawrence; the Silver Leaf inn in Lyons, which was owned by Eddie Zine, who was murdered as he was returning from the funeral of Samuel (Samoots) Amatuna several days ago, and the Green Parrot, a popular resort in Niles Center.

It is said that affidavits against 175 places have been filed by under cover men. Temporary injunctions, at least are deemed certain in each of these cases.

BLAMES WRECK OF SHENANDOAH ON STORM ALONE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Terrific winds, rather than gas pressure or structural weakness, caused the destruction of the airship Shenandoah.

This was the testimony today of Charles P. Burgess, expert on airship construction, before the naval court of inquiry which is investigating the airship's destruction. Mr. Burgess stated that after careful calculations and a thorough study of the wreckage he was confident that gas pressure had nothing whatever to do with the ship's breaking up.

Answering a question by Rear Admiral Jones, president of the court, as to whether the tying off of a manifold which stopped the gas from circulating between the front and rear cells of the ship could have been responsible for the ship's failure, he replied that in his opinion it could not.

Mr. Burgess testified that the hull of the ship was heavier than that of the Los Angeles, but declared this extra weight strengthened the ship. He said criticism that the hull was overweight was unwarranted.

JUDGE SPEEDS TWO TO PRISON AFTER THREATS

John Keating, who has a record of twenty years in the penitentiary, and Harry Miller were given a sample of speedy justice by Judge William N. Gemmill yesterday. A jury found them guilty of robbery with a gun after five minutes' deliberation and the judge immediately sentenced them to ten years to life in the penitentiary.

Judge Gemmill was aroused when Assistant State's Attorney Emmett Byrne showed him a letter received yesterday morning by the proprietors of the Tokio restaurant, 704 West Madison street, which was robbed by the men last May. In the letter the complainants were informed that if they testified they were signing their death warrants. The judge ordered the case to proceed to trial immediately.

WINE PERMITS REVOKED IN NEW DRY CAMPAIGN

U. S. Commissioner Acts to Curb Drinking.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—A new move to curb the flow of illicit intoxicants by plugging up their sources, came today when Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair revoked internal revenue exemptions under which householders have been permitted to manufacture not to exceed 200 gallons of home made wine without payment of a tax.

Hundreds of thousands of the permits are in existence, it was discovered recently by L. C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement. All were issued under statutes passed before and not superseded by the Volstead act.

It has been determined, according to Brig. Gen. Andrews, that much of the home made wine has found its way into bootleg channels. More than 45,000 of the permits were issued in California alone during the last year.

Exemptions Revoked.

In spite of this order, some officials declared, the privilege the treasury previously granted through the permits was continued through court decisions under the prohibition law which have held specifically that householders may make fruit juices for their own use and that their intoxicating effect must be demonstrated.

Results of enforcement of the Volstead act since its passage five and one-half years ago—154,772 convictions in which fines aggregating $29,033,659 and jail sentences totaling nearly 12,000 years were imposed—are summed up in a department of justice report to Attorney General Sargent today.

4,865 More Cases Last Year.

At the end of the same period, June 30, 1925, there were 24,684 cases pending in federal courts throughout the country, 30,213 cases had been dismissed and 7,414 violators had been acquitted, according to the report. An increase of 4,865 in the last fiscal year over the record of the previous year is shown.

An analysis reveals, the report states, that the government is prosecuting larger and more important cases, making some progress in disposing of pending cases, and procuring an increasing number of longer jail sentences and heavier fines.

Jail Terms Increase.

The average jail sentence has increased from 21 days in 1923 and 34 days in 1924 to 43 days in 1925, an increase of 25 per cent in the last year. The average fine for 1925 was $200.

The increase in convictions and penalties during the last four years is indicated in the report as follows:

1923	34,067	2,003	5,832,491.18
1924	37,181	3,496¾	7,487,235.19
1925	38,498	4,569½	7,681,947.28

The northern district of Illinois, which includes Chicago, leads a group of eight federal court districts in the number of injunction writs obtained during 1925. In the northern district alone 617 temporary and 614 permanent injunctions were issued. In the eastern and southern districts of the state 188 temporary and 455 permanent writs were issued.

JARDINE TELLS FARM BODY OF U. S. INTEREST IN CO-OPERATIVE MOVE

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The interest taken by the United States department of agriculture in the agricultural coöperative movement and the aims and intentions of that department to further increase its usefulness to the farmers were outlined here today by William M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture. The address was made before the ninth annual meeting of the National Coöperative Milk Producers' federation.

"The coöperative associations in the United States are engaged in a far reaching undertaking which we believe to be vital to the welfare of agriculture," he said.

TELLS OF NAVY GAG ON CRITICS OF AIR SERVICE

Mitchell Witness Says They Feared "Guam."

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The principal bomb dropper in the Mitchell court martial today was Representative Randolph Perkins. [Rep., N. J.], who was the examiner of witnesses in the long session of the Lampert aircraft investigating committee last spring.

Col. Mitchell's counsel, Frank Reid, asked Mr. Perkins whether any officers of the army or the navy had ever come to him and said they feared to testify before the Lampert committee, lest they be assigned to remote and unpleasant stations. Representative Perkins replied:

"During the sittings of the Lampert committee, three lieutenants of the navy were brought before me for preliminary examination as to what they would testify to. Their spokesman said: 'Don't call me. If you do I won't tell you what I know. Because it's a long distance to Guam.' They refused to testify.

Afraid to Testify.

"I told them that they could come before us and testify freely and I asked them, among other things, whether they were in favor of a unified air service. They said they were, but that if I called them to testify they would deny they were in favor of it.'

"Were they navy officers of experience?" asked Maj. Gen. Robert Lee Howze, president of the court.

"One of them," Mr. Perkins answered, "was very experienced—one of the best air pilots in the navy, I was told."

Then came Rep. Fiorello La Guardia, half Republican and half Socialist of New York City and ever seething with temperament. He was a flyer in our army in the world war and flew over the Piave region. It was he who, before this court martial assembled, was quoted by newspapers as saying that Col. Mitchell would not be tried by a jury of his peers, but by "beribboned dog robbers of the general staff," dog robber being army slang for an officer's servant.

Compliment for MacArthur.

The generals of the court asked the congressman if he thus had characterized them and he replied: "I did not say 'beribboned,'" adding, "but when I said that I did not know that Gen. MacArthur was to be one of the judges."

The essential part of Rep. La Guardia's copious testimony was that the New York National Guard was equipped with "absolute obsolete planes that can be flown only under ideal conditions."

"It is unsafe," he added, "to permit those young men to fly in them."

Navy "propaganda" was the next object in the day's wash. The defense exhibited a copy of an official letter of March 21, 1925, relative to the navy education film called "The Eyes of the Fleet." The document bore this endorsement:

"The object of this film is to combat the effect of Gen. Mitchell's testimony [meaning his testimony before the Lampert committee] and to belittle the value of the airplane in war It is to be spread by the navy recruiting service—prabably this summer and fall, before congress meets."

Only Bombing Misses Shown.

This was one of the marginal notes: "Battleship bombing: Prints made of pictures showing misses only are to be used for this."

War department propaganda relative to the Mitchell trial was next. James T. Williams Jr., editor of the Boston American, testifying that accounts of the trial prepared by the war department, and containing highly editorial comment unfavorable to Col. Mitchell, were "available to the press," and had come to his attention.

James H. Collier, U. S. N., one of the Shenandoah survivors and manifestly still suffering from the effects of the experience, testified that to his personal knowledge the airship's automatic safety valves had been reduced from 18 to 8.

Mitchell Tells of Exile.

Col. Mitchell gave more testimony in his own defense, saying at one point: "As far as I am concerned, I'll tell the truth, but other officers are afraid to do it. The majority of officers are bluffed and bulldozed. I am one of the minority."

He said that being sent to "an out of the way place" was part of his punishment for telling the truth, and described San Antonio as "certainly an out of the way place, as far as influencing air service was concerned."

During his drastic cross-examination of the colonel, Third Assistant Judge Advocate Gullion, holding up a copy of Mitchell's "Winged Defense," shouted: "I am going to show that the accused cribbed page and page of this book on which he is making money!"

Here some of the spectators hissed.

Readings showed passages in "Winged Defense" to be identical with passages in a lecture given by Capt. Hart, U. S. N., at the war college. The court finally decided that if it went into charges of plagiarism the trial would last forever, and Gullion was shut off on that line.

But under further cross-examination on other lines, Col. Mitchell admitted that many of his most resonant charges on the state of military aviation were based on hearsay and general belief.

He shouted, "It is criminal negligence to keep us flying in planes that should have been done away with right after the war," and, in a more moderate tone, said, by way of farewell, that he had given information to the press, "because there was no other way of getting the truth out."

REWARD SPURS HUNT FOR BANK BANDIT GANG

Policeman Shot Guarding $57,760; It's Stolen.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Harry Miller and John Keating, robbery with a gun, 10 years to life in the penitentiary; Michael Geary, assault to rob, 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary; Harry Sues, robbery, 3 to 20 years in the penitentiary, and Mitchell Stafter, larceny, 1 year in the Bridewell, by Judge William N. Gemmill.

Six bandits who seized $57,760 yesterday after wounding Policeman Patrick O'Shea, who was guarding four employés of the Drovers Trust and Savings bank, were being trailed last night on a clew no stronger than the peculiar method they used in disguising themselves with their caps.

The six desperadoes, for whom a reward of $21,000 has been offered, left behind them nothing else as a means of betraying them to the authorities. The caps were used as masks and immediately discarded after the robbery. Each cap was found cut in such fashion as to become a mask when drawn over the face.

Because of the cap-masks, it is regarded as improbable that any of the bank messengers or the wounded policeman positively could point out the criminals if they are arrested.

Says He Saw Faces.

One witness, Raymond Lacy, 3820 South Wallace street, said he could identify the men, as he saw them before the caps were pulled over their faces in anticipation of the robbery.

The dealer's name was stripped from each cap. Only a tag under the sweatband was left, bearing the name of Frank & Reader, Detroit, as the maker, in one of them. On that slender thread the police must depend for the time being. The Detroit police were asked last night to do all in their power to trace that cap to the retailer. After that it may be traced to the purchaser.

Masks Astonish Capt. Hughes.

Capt. Michael Hughes, in charge of the investigation, said that in all his experience—he has until recently been chief of detectives—he had never seen such a form of mask used. It is unique. The holes in the cap would be unnoticed if the top were buttoned to the peak. The wearers could stand questioning or search by police and the crudely fashioned but effective mask would be on their persons, ready for instant usage.

The robbery itself was executed with cunning and daring. The robbers shot first and demanded the money later, the shots being directed at Policeman O'Shea.

Policeman Hit Many Times.

Policeman O'Shea was the only one of the money guards to be wounded, shotgun slugs tearing a piece out of the side of his head and Lueger automatic bullets lodging in his neck and arms. He has a chance of recovery, Dr. A. J. Welsh said.

The robbery and shooting occurred on Wallace street near 38th street at 10:30 o'clock. The bank's money, which was in old, worn and dirty bills, was being sent to the Federal Reserve bank in exchange for new money.

The occupants of the bank automobile, besides O'Shea, were Charles O'Neil, 5541 Elizabeth street, receiving teller; Louis H. Grebe, 349 East 50th street, bank collector; Henry Postena, 31 East 103d place, a mesenger, and Edward Ward, messenger. They were in a Reo auto with a California top.

As they turned north into Wallace street from Root street Policeman O'Shea noticed they were being followed. He told the bank employés to get down low in the car. In front of 3824 Wallace street the pursuing automobile, a Lincoln, forced the bank car to the curb and by that time the policeman and the driver, Grebe, were of the opinion the other car was a detective bureau squad car.

"Don't shoot, this is the bank's car," Grebe called when he saw the men with shotguns leap from the other car.

"Get the copper," one of the robbers shouted, and they did. In a second guns were thrust through broken windows on right and left sides of the car. The door was pulled open, the money pulled from under O'Shea who even then was trying to continue firing his revolver, but succeeded only in shooting off one of his own fingers.

Believes Robbers Wounded.

Grebe said he shot at one of the robbers and thinks he hit him and he believed O'Shea had wounded another. O'Shea, on the way to Mercy hospital, said he thought Leroy Marshall was one of the robbers. Marshall, who owns a saloon near the Drovers bank, quickly was arrested, but offered proof he was in his saloon at the time of the shooting.

CITIZENS BATTLE BANDITS

Cassopolis, Mich., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Sheriff's posses returned tonight after scouring southwestern Michigan in a fruitless search for the robbers who terrorized this village for more than two hours early today.

Leaving behind them one wounded resident, a badly wrecked safe in the offices of the First National bank and a crippled telephone system, the robbers sped out of town by automobile shortly before five o'clock this morning after the inner bank vault had baffled their attempt at robbery.

Praise Telephone Girl.

The number engaged in the attempted robbery is not definitely known, although those who saw them are positive there were five or more.

Residents tonight praised Miss Josephine August, telephone operator. With much of the telephone system put out of commission by the bandits, Miss August ultimately got a call through to Dr. James H. Kelsey, who armed himself and summoned Sheriff Earl Fill and Undersheriff A. K. Nixon. Nixon.

Arrival of the physician and the two officers precipitated an exchange of shots that lasted for more than an hour. Villagers, attracted by the firing, rushed out thinly clad only to dodge back again when the bullets flew close. George Jones, a stock buyer, was slightly wounded. More than 250 shots were exchanged. Windows in houses and business places were broken.

STATE O. K.'S LIFE TERM FOR KRAUSER, TWICE A SLAYER

WALTER KRAUSER

Walter Krauser, back of the yards gangster, who was once sentenced to be hanged, probably will spend the remainder of his life in the penitentiary, if Judge John P. McGoorty approves an arrangement made between the state's attorney's office and the defendant's attorney.

The youthful Krauser yesterday entered pleas of guilty to the murders of Policeman Ralph Souders and Bernard Grant, his pal in the killing of the policeman. It was announced that the state had agreed to a life sentence for the first killing and a fourteen year term for the Grant slaying, which occurred in the jail.

It was explained that the death penalty was waived because of the report of alienists on the mental status of the gangster. It was agreed that Krauser is not legally insane, but that his mind is affected to some extent.

QUIZ HUSBAND WHO ADMITS HE SHOT HIS WIFE

While Mrs. Annie Ondia, 44 years old, 5300 South Tallman avenue, lay critically ill at the county hospital last night, a bullet wound through her abdomen, her husband, Martin, was being questioned at the detective bureau.

Ondia was caught fleeing from his home by Detective Sergeants Flynn, Hanrahan, and DuBois of the detective bureau and later admitted he had fired the shot following a quarrel over a property sale.

Piecing the stories of the two, police learned that the couple separated several weeks ago, Ondia moving to 1445 West 51st street. At one time Ondia was an inmate of the Oak Forest infirmary, it was said.

COUNT SALM SAILS FROM FRANCE FOR AMERICA TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Nov. 24.—Count Salm von Hoogstraeten, husband of Millicent Rogers, sails for America tomorrow on the Majestic, and Suzanne Lenglen, woman tennis champion, quits Paris for the winter season at Nice.

Count Salm, accompanied by his mother, Countess Adolfine, is off to discover his exact status in the wealth of the Rogers family, deeming the situation of his enforced separation from his wife and child impossible and wanting a divorce, if it is not remedied.

Count Salm planned to sail on Nov. 15, but postponed his departure and took up quarters at an obscure hotel in Champs Elysées, in contrast to his accustomed splendor.

Count Salm, toiling with his royal crested luggage this afternoon, wrathfully refused to comment. Suzanne, however, wanted to talk. She said there was no engagement, because the count already was married.

Tinney, who returned from Europe yesterday, today went to his wife's home at Baldwin, L. I., where he was said to have received more of a welcome than Mrs. Tinney indicated would he his lot when she said she would "rather throw my arms around a coal man."

The two left their home together in an automobile for a day's outing, Mrs. Elias said, and while the reconciliation was not yet complete; they had decided to work together.

MACNEIL QUITS IRISH CABINET IN BOUNDARY ROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Nov. 24.—Prof. John MacNeil, who resigned as the Free State member of the Irish boundary commission, today tendered his resignation as minister of education to the Free State cabinet.

In explaining his resignation from the boundary commission to the Dail Eireann, Prof. MacNeil said the commissioners had arrived at a decision which it was hoped would bring an amicable solution to the border problem which has been vexing the Free State and Ulster for years. He added that as a member of the commission he believed himself to have a free hand in reaching a decision.

Eamon de Valera, leader of the republican party, in a statement on the situation, said it was clearly the intention of the commissioners to leave the boundary unaltered, although the treaty between the Free State and England was accepted because it provided that the Catholics of Tyrone, Fermanagh and other border districts would be freed from Ulster.

ALICE TO TELL HER COURTSHIP BY KIP TODAY

Rhinelander Raises New Legal Question.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Alice Beatrice Jones, daughter of a Negro hack driver, will tomorrow tell her version of her romance with Leonard Kip Rhinelander, wealthy young society man, who seeks annulment of their marriage.

For the last week young Rhinelander, stuttering and red of face, has told his story and submitted to a gruelling cross-examination of intimate questions of his love life. Today he took the stand for a few minutes to clear up a minor point and then stepped down, as his counsel announced that the plaintiff rested.

Alice was to have gone on the stand as the first defense witness, but she still was too shaken by her ordeal of yesterday, when she partly disrobed in a private room to permit the jury to see the color of her skin.

Legal Fight Seen.

Tonight Lee Parsons Davis, her attorney, announced that she will be the first witness called tomorrow.

Her appearance, however, may be delayed a little by a legal tangle which has come into the case because of an application by Rhinelander's attorney to amend the original complaint. In the complaint, the plaintiff alleges that by an affirmative action, Alice defrauded her husband by claiming she was white.

The amendment, sought today by Isaac N. Mills, Rhinelander's attorney, would charge her with defrauding him also by negative action in not telling him she was a Negress.

The amendment will be decided tomorrow by Justice Morschauser. Mr. Davis, in objecting to the amendment, contended that Mr. Mills sought to "put two arrows into his bow."

The morning session was occupied with testimony of the last of the plaintiffs's witness and was concerned with Alice's actions during the four days immediately following the breakup of her home with Leonard, when news of their marriage was first published.

Mrs. Joseph Rich, wife of a furniture dealer, with whom Alice sought shelter, testified that Alice laid claim to being of Spanish descent. She also said that Alice had told her Philip Rhinelander, Leonard's father, and some friends selected from the social register, were to be invited to a private dinner, when the wedding would be announced. The plan fell through when Rhinelander left his wife.

Kip Is Recalled.

Rhinelander, recalled by the defense, was asked whether the marriage clerk, in making out their license, had asked Alice about her color. "No," he answered, "he just wrote down white." The plaintiff then rested, and Mr Davis made the usual motion for dismissal of the action, which was refused by Justice Morschauser.

Three witnesses for the defense were heard in the afternoon, including Robert Brooks, Negro butler, husband of Emily, Alice's sister. Brooks testified that Leonard always had been "very friendly" to him, had played cards and dined at his house often, and called him "Bob."

He, in turn, he said, called Rhinelander "Len." All of his friends, Brooks said, were Negroes, and Rhinelander had played cards with some of them. He denied that he and Emily had been barred from the Jones house because of their marriage.

Kip's Counsel Called.

Leon R. Jacobs, associate counsel for Leonard, was called and denied that he was personal attorney for Philip Rhinelander, but admitted that, indirectly, he managed some of the Rhinelander estates. This information, contained in the bill of complaint, which Leonard has admitted contained five falsehoods, was obtained from the plaintiff, Mr. Jacobs said.

Mrs. Barbara Reynolds, a newspaper reporter, told of an interview with Leonard in which he admitted that he knew his wife had Negro blood. She could not, however, produce any paper which had used her story.

Rhinelander spent the day sitting stolidly in his chair, his face set, except for the few minutes he was on the stand. Alice apparently was dejected and tired.

call listening to a hearing upon this question before the Supreme court of the United States and I am especially impressed with a comment of one justice to the effect that if the diversion continued the lakes would ultimately be drained.

"But those who advocate this theory do not take into account the fact that the water which flows out of the Great Lakes comes in great quantities from the rain and melting snow of the watersheds in which they are situated. For centuries the water from these sheds have accumulated in the lakes, flowed through the lakes and the St. Lawrence into the sea. And as I recall this flow of water amounted at Niagara Falls to over 300,000 cubic feet per second.

"Expert river men tell me that for practical navigation the lowering of the lakes to the extent of five and one-half inches is not a serious menace to navigation.

"The bulk of protest in this country comes from representatives of cities located upon the great lakes, who insist that the depth of their harbors are being impaired and the most ferocious protest comes from Milwaukee.

"It is interesting to note that when diversion began at Chicago the harbor at Milwaukee was approximately five feet deep, while today it is more than twenty-one feet. This increase in depth was made at the expense of the whole country from funds appropriated by congress.

"I find that many who are most strenuously opposed to the diversion at Chicago have no qualms of conscience about advocating far more extensive diversion from Niagara Falls for the manufacture of electricity to be used by Canadian and American Power interests.

"I am persuaded, after a most careful study of this problem, that 98 per cent of the opposition to diversion at Chicago has been aroused and sustained at the expense and through the influence of the great power interests who seek to enrich themselves by power created at Niagara Falls and along the St. Lawrence, and they are not concerned with the transportation problems of our country.

"The impression is made that Chicago is violating sacred treaty obligations between the United States and Canada.

"The truth is we have perfect understanding with Canada regarding diversion, and I am fully persuaded that no protest would ever have been raised had it not been for the big power interests who want to use this water at Niagara and down the St. Lawrence."

He closed with an appeal for solidarity in congress. In the last vote on the contested river and harbor bill, he said, but eight of the forty-five from districts in valley territory supported the bill.

Halleck W. Seaman of Clinton, Ia., presided at today's session. Congressman Slefhe G. Porter of Pittsburgh told today of his bill for $204,000,000 in bonds to complete waterways, which will be pushed at the coming session.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

PLAN TO RETIRE TEACHERS AT 70 GOES TO BOARD

McAndrew for It; O. K. by Trustees Expected.

Two important issues in the Chicago school system will come before the board of education at its regular meeting today.

Action of far reaching consequences is expected in the fight between the board and Supt. William McAndrew over the reappointment of William H. Campbell, 74, a school examiner. At the same time the trustees will take up a proposed rule retiring members of the educational force at the age of 70.

Since Mr. McAndrew at the last meeting of the board was rebuffed by a vote of ten to one and ordered to submit today the name of a new candidate to replace Mr. Campbell the issue has remained unchanged.

Would Retire Teachers at 70.

Under provisions of the retirement rule, made public yesterday by Frank S. Righeimer, school attorney, no teacher will remain in the classroom who is more than 70 years old. On reaching that age all members of the teaching staff, including principals, assistant superintendents, superintendents, and examiners, will be placed in a new department, that of "emeritus service."

The teachers thus retired will serve in an advisory capacity, subject to call by the superintendent. Their salaries will be one-half their average salary for the ten years preceding their retirement, with a maximum of $2,500 and a minimum of $1,500.

The rule has the support of Supt. McAndrew, Col. Edward B. Ellicott, president of the board, and, it is believed, a large majority of the trustees.

Smietanka to Quit Finance Post.

In a communication to be presented at the meeting, Julius F. Smietanka will tender his resignation as chairman of the finance committee of the board, an office he has held since May, 1923. His reason is the growing pressure of his private law practice. Col. Ellicott will recommend acceptance of the resignation and name Trustee Charles T. Bryne to fill the vacancy. Mr. Smietanka will retain his membership in the committee.

In another communication, Supt. McAndrew will recommend appointment of the following principals of community centers in schools of the city: Armstrong, A. B. Reynolds; Clark, George A. Beers; Colman, Frances E. Rogers; Gallistel, James H. Henry; Kelvyn Park, William L. Smyser; Ryder, Minnie M. Tallman; Sawyer Avenue, Robert G. Jeffrey; West Pullman, Rose A. TO SMOKE OR NOT TO SMOKE: CO-EDS DECIDE

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Barnard college has never questioned the right of young women to smoke, according to a statement today by Miss M. V. Libby, assistant to Dean Gildersleeve.

"Smoking is not permitted in the administration building, but that is a precaution against fire," said Miss Libby. "It is left to the students themselves to say whether there shall be smoking elsewhere.

"They are permitted to smoke in dormitories. They vote as to whether they shall smoke in study rooms. Some years they vote yes and some years they vote no."

Bryn Mawr, it was announced yesterday, legalized smoking through the action of the Self-Government association which suspended the anti-smoking law of 1897 as unworkable.

Goucher college at Baltimore issued a rule last month that no student of that institution should smoke in college buildings or any public places. On the same day Massachusetts Institute of Technology ruled that young women would be permitted to smoke at dances and other social events.

A week ago the College Government association of Wellesley defeated a proposal to permit students to smoke when off the campus. The student body voted four to one in favor of smoking.

Mount Holyoke girls voted by 448 to 442 to modify the existing rule which forbids smoking.

The majority of girls at Smith college, it was said, favor smoking, but agreed to postpone any revision of the existing prohibitory rules.

URGE BETTER CANDIDATES FOR STATE ASSESMBLY

Resolutions looking toward raising the standards of membership in the state legislature were adopted yesterday at a conference at the City club called by that organization, the Legislative Voters' league, the Woman's City club, and the Cook County League of Women Voters.

The resolution proposed the organization of militant groups in the several senatorial districts of Chicago, urged better selections of candidates by political leaders.

FEDERAL TRADE BOARD CENSORS TRUST SCENARIO

Producers Given Villain Roles in Complaint.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Whether there is a moving picture trust which must be busted to restore freedom of competition in this great industry will be decided by the federal trade commission in the light of testimony and arguments of counsel for and against the accused film magnates, which were concluded today.

There is no want of plot and action in this actual tragedy of the films, according to the presentation of the case against Adoplh Zukor and his associates by W. H. Fuller, chief counsel for the commission. He pictured them as conspirators compared with whom the williest knaves of the silent drama are dear, sweet grandmamas.

A Peaceful First Scene.

Once all was serene and peaceful in the old town, according to the Fuller scenario. The townspeople were happy and free. They paid a nickel or a dime, mayhap, for the laughs and thrills they got from the silver screen. The exhibitors who owned or leased the little movie houses, were contented with a fair reward for honest endeavor. But little did they reck what was being cunnningly plotted to blot the joy from this idyllic scene, to still the prattling of innocent children, and do a deed more dastardly than any yet depicted by scenario or caption.

"Comes the morn," and we perceive that the old town is not what it was. Joy is fled. The people are sad. The exhibitors are paying more for their pictures and hardly making both ends meet, and the patrons are digging deep for the price of their thrills and laughs.

Then Comes the Villain.

Whose foul work is this? We naturally inquire, and Mr. Fuller promptly flashes the caption, "Adolph Zukor, the arch villain." At last Zukor has the motion picture industry in his power, according to Mr. Fuller, and, though she begs him to spare her cheild, the villain still pursues her.

Then, in about 36 reels and half a million words of testimony and argument, Mr. Fuller proceeds to delineate the wicked plot that led to the di-i-rty work at the crossroads. He pictures Zukor, Jesse L. Lasky, and their associates "conspiring and confederating together to unduly hinder competition in the production, distribution, and exhibition of motion picture films in interstate commerce."

He tells how the Famous Players-Lasky corporation acquired other concerns and how it controls by contract the distribution and exhibition of the pictures of numerous other producers.

But this didn't plumb the depths of the conspirators' cunning, the commission counsel averred. They organized the Realart Pictures corporation, he charged, to masquerade as an independent which would pretend to compete with the trust. Then Mr. Fuller told how the alleged trust acquired a multitude of motion picture theaters, chiefly theaters for the first run of a film in a locality.

Now Mr. Fuller portrays an up to date version of Simon Legree cracking his whip and Uncle Tom cowering beneath lash. The trust is Simon Legree, the poor movie house owner is Uncle Tom.

Uncle Tom on the Block.

The trust "compels and coerces exhibitors" by the block booking system to take all the pictures of the trust, the bad as well as the good, and so consume the available exhibition time that the theaters are closed to the competitors of the trust.

As a result of the acquisition of first run theaters and the imposition of the block booking system, Zukor and Lasky and Famous Players-Lasky, said Mr. Fuller, have gained "a dominating control of the motion picture industry," and are taking toll from the exhibitors and indirectly from the public at their sweet will.

But, as always happens in the films, the villains did not completely cover their tracks. Of course, it was the finding of the long lost, mysterious pa-a-pers that betrayed them into the hands of the avenging hero, which, it appears, is none other than the federal trade commission, protectors of the people.

Aha! The Evidence!

From the telltale pa-a-pers, Mr. Fuller learned the full infamy of the trust and how it hounded its victims.

When exhibitors refused to buy the trust pictures, the trust launched what Mr. Fuller called "shock advertising." The local newspapers would be filled with advertisements inquiring how long this town is to be behind the times without a single Zukor-Lasky picture. Curiosity was aroused, a demand created, and presently the movie house owner would find himself compelled to take on the pictures of the trust.

Another device for harrying the exhibitor, said Mr. Fuller, is "clocking." The trust orders an exhibitor clocked to check up on his attendance and determine whether he is paying the trust all the traffic will bear. The trust clocker stations himself at the theater and counts the patrons.

Mr. Fuller quoted liberaly from the testimony of Roxy to show the evils of block booking and of Mary Pickford to establish other iniquities on the part of the trust.

Producers Given One Reel.

In the last reel of the piece, we were given the other side of the story from the battery of the Zukor-Lasky counsel, headed by Paul D. Cravath. According to the defense, these corporations, organized by Messrs. Zukor, Lasky and their associates, do not constitute a monopoly, trust or combine. Far from it. They produce only a negligible fraction of the pictures annually put forth. They control only an infinitesmial proportion of movie theaters. They never have conspired, confederated, contrived, instigated, coerced or otherwise departed from an upright course of dealing with the exhibitors and the public generally.

So far as concerns what Mr. Fuller is pleased to denominate "shock advertising," that is a perfectly legitimate means of arousing a demand for their pictures on the part of the public, says the defense, and anyway, it was only done once. Clocking, the defense maintains, to be a wholly legitimate means for determining whether an exhibitor is telling the truth when he says he cannot pay more because he is exhibiting to empty seats. You have no idea how some exhibitors falsify their books to make a showing of poverty, the defense contends.

Have to Guess at Last Scene.

The allegations of wrong doing the defense pronounced the most monumental mass of falsehood and innuendo on record, Mr. Cravath et al. waxing in turn indignant at the outrage of such persecution by an arm of constituted government and tearful at the sufferings of Mr. Zukor, Mr. Lasky and their associates, who have striven and—though with aching hearts—are continuing to strive to uplift their public to a higher artistic and moral plane.

Right there we are left with the commission taking the allegations and the defense under advisement, and everybody wondering whether the piece is or is not to have a happy ending.

Chang Reported Prisoner of Chinese Revolutionists

PEKING, Nov. 24.—Dispatches received here from Mukden, Manchuria, today report that Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord, is a prisoner following a revolution. The Mukden dispatches have not been confirmed.

SON TESTIFIES AGAINST RUSSELL AT MURDER TRIAL

William T. Russell, suspended police sergeant who is charged with the murder of his wife, Mary, on Aug. 28, sat in the courtroom of Judge John F. McGoorty yesterday and listened to his fifteen year old son, William, give testimony against him which Assistant State's Attorney Michael Romano hopes will send him to the penitentiary and perhaps the gallows.

The boy described acts of brutality on the part of his father toward his mother which ended in the fatal shooting in the Russell home, 4722 West Monroe street.

The gray haired police official held his hand over his face while his son related the various beatings which his father gave his mother. Russell shed a few tears as he leaned forward to consult with his attorneys, William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien.

Miss Eva Russell, a daughter of the policeman by his first marriage, will testify in his behalf today.

CITY'S FIREMEN ASK TAX BOOST TO INCREASE PAY

File Complaint with the Board of Review.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The association of city firemen and Ald. Nelson (46th) filed an elaborate complaint with the board of review yesterday against the capital stock assessment of thirty-five corporations. The firemen desire the increased taxes so that there may be sufficient funds with which to increase their salaries.

The board decided to summon each of the thirty-five corporations next Friday morning. The representative of the fireman was told to return at the same time. The board will listen to what each side has to present, which forecasts action by the reviewers later.

One list against which the firemen and aldermen complain is as follows: United States Gypsum company, Armour & Co., Diamond Match company, the Fair, H. W. Gossard company, Hibbard, Spencer & Bartlett, Illinois Brick company, B. Kuppenheimer & Co., Borg & Beck, Albert Pick & Co., and Crane.

Cite Stock Valuation.

The complainants assert that the net capital stock value on April 1, 1925, of these establishments was $265,484,135. They also represent that the board of assessors for 1925 has fixed a capital stock value for Armour of $500,000, for the Illinois Brick of $25,000, for Kuppenheimer of $10,000, and for U. S. Gypsum of $1,000, and has placed no assessment of capital stock against each of the others.

The firemen and aldermen ask that an aggregate capital stock assessment against these eleven concerns be "approximately $84,000,000."

The significance of the move is indicated by comparison of that figure with the following paragraph from the complaint: "The following table shows the capital stock valuations for Cook country for the past five years as fixed by your board: $28,846,880 in 1920, $37,689,250 in 1921, $45,170,116 in 1922, $46,374,278 in 1923 and $46,193,613 in 1924."

Other Concerns Named.

Regarding other companies the complaint reads:

"We also demand that the following corporations, in addition to many others, should likewise be assessed on their capital stock values in accordance with the legal rule above set forth: Agar Packing and Provision Co., All America Radio, Bunte Brothers, Butler Brothers, Chicago Fuse Manufacturing company, Consumers company, William Davies Co., Eddy Paper corporation, Hurley Machine company, Interstate Iron and Steel Co., Kellogg Switchboard Co., James S. Kirk & Co., Kraft Cheese Co., Liquid Carbonic Co., Lindsay Light Co., Ludlow Typography Co., Lyon & Healy Co., Northwestern Yeast Co., Pullman Co., Real Silk Hosiery Mills, Inc., Ryan Car Co., Swift and Co., Vassar Swiss Underwear Co., and The Wahl Co."

Called Ridiculously Low.

The complainants refer to the capital stock valuation of $46,000,000 for 1924 as "a ridiculously low figure," and then add:

"It appears that most of that sum was made up of capital stock assessments of Cook county corporations that were taxed by the state tax commission."

The intention of the firemen was disclosed by George L. Franck, president of the association. He said: "Every time we appeal for an increase in salary we are told the cupboard is bare. The school teachers found themselves in the same position twenty years ago. They made a fight to have the capital stock of the public utility corporations assessed and they won, although they had to go to the state Supreme court. We have taken a page from the teachers' book. We now propose to have all the corporations in Chicago that are assessable by the board of review pay their share of taxes."

LAW IN CONTEMPT AT ITS SOURCE.

Fifty-five members of the Illinois legislature met at Springfield Monday to organize their defense in the suit filed by John B. Fergus of Chicago. The members of the legislature have been served with summons to answer why they have refused to obey the state constitution, which commands them to redistrict the state and give citizens representation as they are entitled to it.

The legislators swear to uphold the constitution when they take the oath of office. They then perjure themselves and nullify the organic law of the state. They sit through the session in open lawlessness, adjourn with the constitution in contempt, and go about their business until they are reconvened. Then they perjure themselves again, again deprive citizens of Chicago of their basic rights in a republican form of government, and the constitution remains nullified.

The suit in the Supreme court is one of the means adopted to see if there is no remedy for this lawlessness in the state lawmaking body. The legislators are required to answer by Dec. 1. They are organizing and collecting a defense fund, just as other lawbreakers in the state do when a crime brings one or more of them into court.

The lawlessness here exhibited results in twenty seats in the general assembly being taken away from the people of Cook county who are constitutionally entitled to them and given to other people downstate who have no shadow of a right to them. That means that the people of Cook county and Chicago are less and less able in sessions of the legislature to protect themselves from repressive and prejudicial laws passed particularly for their government. Their loss of rights is converted into the loss of liberties. They are governed from rotten boroughs. Their own votes are taken away from them and a squirarchy at Springfield rules by law breaking, nullification, and perjury.

Respect for law is said to be one thing in which the United States conspicuously fails. It isn't strange when contempt for law is continued session after session by the makers of law who have taken oath to support it, defend it, and obey it. There is no escape from the odium of this in the thin theories that equal representation would be politically bad for the state or in the self-righteous doctrine that the downstate people who can produce Herrin with all its lawlessness and Rock Island with its—to mention two—are morally and politically superior to the people of the metropolitan area.

We hear a good deal that if a law is bad the way to treat it is to enforce it until in the proper way it is repealed. The downstate people cannot win an argument that this constitutional provision is bad law. It is just and equitable, the foundation of representative government and of political liberty. An injury to the law is an injury to essential political rights, and that injury is not merely offensive to principle but it is materially injurious. Yet there is supposed to be a moral gloss over the perjury and lawlessness which accomplishes these ends.

This is the example of law breaking which the lawmakers of Illinois give all people who want to break a law to get something they want or to dispose of some one they do not like.

THE WORLD COURT SHOWS ITS HAND.

The world court has handed down its judgment in the Mesopotamian dispute. This is the first important decision of the tribunal which the President wants us to join. The decision is concerned with the rival claims of Great Britain and Turkey to 2,500 square miles containing the richest oil field in the world. The league of nations referred the issue to its court for an "advisory opinion." The court has now decided that the council of the league is legally empowered to decide who gets the oil.

The decision would be of no great importance to Americans except those in the oil business but for one fact: it clearly indicates that the world court intends to make of itself a lawmaking body. In this, its first important decision, the court has taken unto itself the right to interpret the covenant of the league to mean something directly opposed to the plain words of the covenant. If the court can interpret the covenant freely, we see no reason why it cannot with equal freedom interpret any reservations we may make in joining the court.

The covenant of the league says "except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant" decisions of the council of the league shall "require the agreement of all the members of the league represented at the meeting." During the fight over the league of nations in the senate the advocates of the league based their case on that provision. They insisted we could join the league with perfect safety because all its important decisions would have to be made by unanimous vote. Unaided, we were told, we could veto any objectionable proposal.

Now the world court has thrown that provision to the winds. The court says the decision of the Mosul dispute by the council must be unanimous, but "unanimous" for this purpose means "unanimous except for the votes of the parties to the controversy." We do not know under what clause of the covenant the dispute can be referred to the council at all unless it is the first clause of article twelve or the first clause of article fifteen. Neither of these clauses in any sense modifies the general requirement for unanimous decisions.

It is hard to find fault with the court for interpreting the covenant out of its original meaning. The covenant as written made it impossible to reach a decision in a vital dispute because the interested parties were allowed to vote. The court saw the absurdity of that situation and decided to remedy it. Similarly, the judges may say that the United States, in reserving the right to refuse to submit certain cases to the court, is behaving absurdly. The court may, by judicial decision, make so much scrap paper of our carefully considered reservations. Indeed, the Mosul decision suggests that the court will lose no time in so doing. The court is conscious of its strategic position in the scheme of the league and it proposes to make the most of it.

We kept out of the trouble which the league might have made for us by refusing to join even with reservations. We can keep out of the trouble the court can make for us in exactly the same way. The world court is the creature of the covenant of the league. If the covenant is not sacred to the court, is there any reason to suppose our reservations would be?

NOT SO GOOD AT NORTHWESTERN.

It is not entirely clear whether Northwestern was trying to show how glad it was or how mad it was when the boys and girls stepped out Monday night to beat up the police and burn down the town. There is a report that it was indignation and not enthusiasm. Because Yost of Michigan was to give his players gold footballs, emblems of conference championship, the Northwestern student body decided to burn down its own university football field stands. In that line of protest Stagg at Chicago might have told the squad to clean up Kernwein or McCarty because Grange had signed to play professional football with the Chicago Bears.

Baker, Lewis and other Northwestern players persuaded the students not to burn up the stands and they were content to fire a vacant frat house and put everything they could find loose, except some Christmas trees, on a bonfire in Fountain square, to knock the firemen about, fight the police, sock the mayor, scare the merchants into closing their places and bring out a squad of Chicago police and an organization of world war veterans in defense of the realm.

It was a serious breach of the peace, as the responsible people in the university realize. There are occasions when students think it not only proper but required that they give a town a run. It is not peculiarly American. English town and gown riots go back to medievalism and the English universities now have rules growing out of them.

The police, overpowered by the rush of numbers and some of them roughly treated, treated the students with a consideration they could not have given any other disturbers threatening to do so much damage and so defying authority to preserve order. The young men in these demonstrations are trading on this leniency. It takes account of the basic decency of the individuals who have gone riotous on a spree. The police would have shot other incendiary rioters. The students were having a gay time at the expense of the community and not taking many chances. In that way of looking at it it was not so he-mannish.

The university is asking the Evanston council for a special order permitting the construction of a great stadium for football. An amendment to the building law is needed for the design the university wants.

Mayor Bartlett, who was slugged when he tried to quiet the students down, says that the university took a queer way to get it. Whoever started that disorder showed rare judgment in picking the time and the place to protest against Yost giving gold football emblems to a team Northwestern beat, 3-2.

SELF-GOVERNMENT AND IMMIGRATION.

Poland is in trouble, politically and financially. There are twenty parties in the Polish parliament. Other European countries have nearly as many, but Poland's parties are peculiarly incapable of coöperating. The essence of any sound parliamentary system is compromise and the Polish leaders seem incapable of it. Perhaps, in consequence, Poland's new monetary unit, the zloty, has hit the toboggan.

Poland is by no means the only country in which the parliamentary form of government has broken down. Italy and Russia have each abandoned it. So have Spain and Greece. The Balkan countries are presumed to be governed by parliaments, but there is no health in their parliamentary institutions.

Parliamentary government is successful in Great Britain and her dominions, in Holland, and the Scandinavian countries. It works fairly well in Germany, France and Belgium.

When protests are made against the present immigration laws, it is well to remember that the law has served to limit the number of immigrants from countries which have shown a marked incapacity for self-government. At the same time, it has encouraged immigration from countries which have successfully employed representative government.

We can admit the northwestern Europeans with confidence that in so doing we are not undermining our own political institutions. We can admit them knowing that it will not take them long to adjust themselves to our way of political thinking. There is little in the political traditions of some of the southern and eastern nations to merit the same confidence.

Editorial of the Day

THE LASH DOES STOP CRIME.

[The Vancouver, B. C., Sun.]

According to a few letters received by this newspaper, there is still a minute section of public opinion that does not believe in the lash and the gallows as crime deterrents.

Of course, it is not true justice to punish one man for the potential sins of another. No one says it is.

But the nearest we can get to justice in this age of confusion and imperfection is to protect society, that is to say, to protect normal people from the ravages of the abnormal minority that wants to get something for nothing.

Lashing and hanging in a degree do afford that protection. They may not give pure justice to the criminal. But they give expedient justice to the bulk of society.

Jail sentences, even long sentences, only make a cheap hero of the criminal. The sob brigade sends him flowers. Young boys admire him in secret. Weak-minded sentimentalists make a martyr of him. And then the wild orgy of crime goes on.

Short sentences and lashes put the criminal where he belongs. They knock out his superiority complex. They make him ashamed of himself. They make him FEAR the law.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. TO KEEP INFANTS ALIVE.

To keep a baby alive and in good health until it reaches one month of age is an art—and a difficult one. So great are the difficulties that we are stalled. Baby life is reasonably safe and getting safer so far as babies three months old and older are concerned. The problem which is baffling us just now is how to make the life and health of the baby under one month old safe.

Here is some advice which came out at the last meeting of the Illinois Medical society. Dr. F. E. Inks advised that the newborn baby be put to the breast when it is six hours old. It should be given the breast every six hours thereafter until there is a full flow of milk. He does not say whether or not he approves of putting the baby to the breast when it is about an hour old, or as soon as it has been bathed and dressed. But immediate breast feeding is done for another purpose rather than supplying something the baby needs. It is done to safeguard the mother against hemorrhage.

The breast milk which the baby gets when it is six hours old is called colostrum. It is laxative; it contains substances which protect the baby against infections and other substances which are needed for nutrition. At the moment of birth the baby's blood and tissues contain enough glycogen to last 24 hours. When this has been used up the baby is liable to develop a hunger fever unless some of it is supplied.

The newly born baby needs at least 12 ounces of fluid in the first 24 hours. If this is not supplied there may be a thirst fever. Therefore, Dr. Inks adds to the fluid which the colostrum supplies some boiled water. In some cases he adds a little sugar and milk to the boiled water and feeds the baby a little of this mixture after each nursing.

If the baby is too weak or too lazy to suckle, the breasts are milked and the colostrum, or milk, is fed with a medicine dropper or a bottle. As soon as the free flow of milk is established Dr. Inks puts the baby to the breast every four hours. Both breasts are emptied at each feeding.

Dr. J. C. Krafft was not in accord with the latter part of this plan. He feeds young babies oftener than once every four hours. The fat babies do well on the four hour schedule; underweight babies do not. Nor does he like the idea of giving babies water-milk-sugar mixtures in addition to breast milk. It has been his experience that once that plan of helping out is started it is not long before breast feeding is discontinued, and breast feeding is the all important part of the plan.

WORN OUT ARTERIES.

B. M. writes: An old man is told that he suffers from "a chronic cardiorenal-vascular disease." He is now 79 and for the last 30 years that I have known him he has seemed to have unusually good health. His parents died fairly young. His children seem to have fairly good health, though not all his grandchildren do.

1. Did he inherit this disease?

2. May the disease be transmitted to his children and grandchildren?

3. Would it be dangerous to marry one of his children? The young man in question seems to have very good health and, to my knowledge, passed a physical examination which included the Wasserman test.

4. What symptoms should one look for in the children to see if they suffer from effects of this disease?

REPLY.

1. Neither. He probably earned it.
2. No.
3. No.
4. Examination of the heart, the urine and the blood vessels. People 79 years of age frequently have diseased arteries and kidneys—or, rather, worn out arteries and kidneys.

SPINAL CURVATURE.

J. B. S. writes: I am a young lady, 19. At the age of 3 I fell and since then I have had curvature of the spine. Have had treatment for this, but without result. I expect to be married soon and would like to know whether there will be harm in doing so in years to come.

REPLY.

A careful physical examination would show whether or not you can bear children.

ALDEHYDES IN MOONSHINE.

M. M. H. writes: What are the abnormal constituents in moonshine that makes it more toxic to man than ordinary brandy?

REPLY.

Aldehydes.

PROTECTION FOR INVENTION.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am an inventor of a small article and want to protect myself, but am not financially able to patent it right now. I have been told that by describing my invention in writing and declaring myself the inventor before two persons or before a notary public my invention is protected for three years. Is this true? O. H.

The effect of such a declaration is to put you in a position to prove priority in case of interference between two simultaneous applications for patent, or in case you wish to attack a rival patent, but it does not take the place of a patent even before the period of three years.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TO RECLAIM FLORIDA LAND.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—In the year 1885 my father moved his family north, leaving eighty acres of land in Florida. We have paid no taxes nor have we heard anything of the deed. What is the legal status and what are the prospects of reclaiming this land? E. L. S.

Your chances depend largely upon the facts as to adverse possession. Even if some other person has title by adverse possession, they might be willing to pay something for a conveyance from you in order to make their title more clearly merchantable. If you are sure that your father did not convey or mortgage the property it would seem worth while to employ an attorney to investigate the matter for you.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SETTLING PARENTS' ESTATES.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—How would an estate be divided which was in my father's name only? My mother has a will made leaving a small amount to her grandchildren and the rest to her two children. My father's estate has not been settled and he has been dead almost three years. In case my mother dies before my father's estate is settled, how will it be divided? A. L. K.

Upon your father's death your mother would take one-third and the children would take the balance. Your mother's one-third would, upon her death, go in accordance with her will. We are answering under present Illinois law. The lawyer whom you have employed is in a better position to advise you than we are.

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

NOVEMBER 25, 1865.

DENVER. — William Gilpin was elected as Colorado's first state governor.

LOUISVILLE.—The Western Associated Press was organized with J. D. Osborne of the Louisville Journal as president and Horace White of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE as a director.

WASHINGTON.—Maj. Gee, former keeper of rebel prison at Salisbury, N. C., was secretly brought to Washington and confined in old Capitol prison.

WASHINGTON.—An official document, filed at the Indian bureau, contains a tabular analysis of the cost per head to the government of killing Indians and squaws on the western plains. The average cost of killing an Indian has been about $500,000, while for squaws the cost has been nearly $2,000,000 each.

FORT PULASKI.—Ex-Gov. Magrath of South Carolina, now a war prisoner here, made a lengthy appeal for release. He is the only rebel state governor incarcerated, he claims.

LONDON.—The Shenandoah, rebel pirate ship, in hands of British at Liverpool, was formally demanded by the United States.

WASHINGTON.—A tax of $2 per gallon on whisky is excessive, it is claimed, and a campaign is on to cut it.

CHICAGO.—During the year a total of 9,000 buildings have been erected at a total cost of $6,100,000. Labor is scarce, strikes are threatened, and wages are high. Carpenters get from $4 to $4.50 per day.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

NOVEMBER 25, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Fred W. Upham, president of the board of review, declared for Graeme Stewart as the next Republican selection for mayor at a dinner at the Marquette club, and he was cheered and cheered. He said that when the north side nominated a candidate for mayor he was elected, and that that was more than Mr. Lorimer could do.

PARIS.—The reception to Paul Kruger by the people of Paris is bound to remain one of the most gloriously intoxicating events of history. Enormous crowds lined the route of his passage through the streets. All precautions, all careful neutrality arrangements to keep from offending England, were swept aside as the populace acclaimed the Boer leader.

CHICAGO.—Harry Farress, foreman in the John A. Gauger & Co.'s sash and door factory, was waylaid and murdered as the result of ill feeling engendered by the strike of the woodworkers' union, which has been on for three months.

CHICAGO.—Chief of Police Joseph Kipley issued an order that all slot machines in the city must be removed from places in which they are being operated.

NEW HAVEN.—Yale defeated Harvard by a score of 28 to 0, the largest total it has rolled up against the Crimson on the football field in more than a dozen years.

PHILADELPHIA. — President McKinley, addressing the Union League club, in his first speech since the election, said: "Be not disturbed; there is no danger from empire; there is no fear for the republic."

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

NOVEMBER 25, 1915.

LONDON.—Confidence is felt here that the danger of a break with Greece is about over. All Greek steamers held at the Island of Malta under the blockade order have been released and it is understood that the Greek premier has given all the pledges demanded by Great Britain.

CHICAGO.—Jacob Loeb, veteran of many battles as a member of the school board, and Max Loeb, one of Mayor Thompson's new appointees to the board, led opposing forces in a heated session in which the repeal of the Loeb rule, aimed at the Chicago Teachers' federation, was the issue. The vote against repeal was 11 to 7, two of the new members, Harris W. Huehl and Mrs. F. E. Thornton, voting against the repeal.

DETROIT.—Henry Ford announced he will take a peace expedition to Europe to attempt to end the war. He will invite leading American pacifists to join the expedition as well as peace advocates from other neutral countries.

CHICAGO.—The Rev. Oscar C. Hemling, pastor of the University Congregational church and chairman of the religious education board of that church, was arrested when he attempted to stop a policemen, who he says, was "beating up" a striking garment worker. The minister was in a cell thirty-five minutes before he was released on bail.

CHICAGO.—Miss Ruth Lamson Lobdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lamson Lobdell, 3958 Ellis avenue, and Ralph Newberry Gardner were married at the First Presbyterian church.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

SOME OF YOU contribs wail mightily because you do not make the Line after a few efforts, or that you do not make it every time you send in a contribution. Well, now, listen. We were down at Sam Insull's civic opera last Sunday afternoon and sat right in the front row, just to one side of the conductor. We took the deepest personal interest in the violins and the French horns and the lady harpist who sat very chummily all around us. One man, a nice looking young man, interested us very much. We wondered what he was doing in the orchestra. He had no violin or horn or drum or musical instrument—no, not even a saxophone. He just sat and watched the score and turned the leaves of his music—and nothing more. Carmen proceeded, act after act, and still the nice young man who wasn't doing anything still sat idle down there in the orchestra. Finally came the fourth act—it was half over—then the nice young man reached into his coat pocket and produced a little flute about as big as a lead pencil. He looked at his score, glanced up at the conductor, and then putting the little flute to his lips played a few notes that were as wild and free and beautiful as ever came from a skylark. Then he called it a day and put the little flute back in his pocket. Just a few wonderful piercing notes, but we'll never think of Carmen again without hearing once more those sweet, throbbing tones. Well, contribs, writing for the Line is something like that. And life is, too.

A HEROIC HIGHWAY POLICEMAN.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—On Monday, July 27, Mr. E. J. Harvey was struck by a truck on the road near Joliet. Mr. Harvey was picked up and rushed to the hospital by Officer Joseph Smith of the state police. Arriving at the hospital, Smith volunteered a blood transfusion in an effort to save Harvey's life, staying at the hospital for some time, until the doctors found the opportune moment to make the transfusion. Smith was in no way acquainted with Harvey, simply making this sacrifice gladly in an effort to save the life of a fellow man.

Smith's action typifies the great sacrifices made daily by police officers, their only thought being to do their duty as they see it. H. M. CARLSEN.

MEDICINAL LIQUOR.

Fond du Lac, Wis., Nov. 18.—Is this country facing a shortage of medicinal liquor? That is a question which looks for its answer not to the flow of illegal or so-called synthetic liquor but to the actual supply of liquor as contained in bonded warehouses.

On Jan. 1, 1918, six months before the prohibition amendment went into effect, there were stored in government warehouses about 297,000,000 gallons. Since that time the withdrawals of liquor for medicinal purposes and the shrinkage due to evaporation, etc., have made great inroads on the available supply, so much so that on July 1, 1925, there were only about 13,000,000 gallons left in the bonded warehouses.

This amount in simple figures means that there are only about two pints left for every family in the United States, and these two pints must be sufficient for that family for the next four years at least, as under the revenue laws liquor cannot be bottled for consumption until four years old. Under the Volstead law no liquor may be manufactured until all liquor in bonded warehouses has been withdrawn. As a result should a law be passed permitting the manufacture of liquor it would still be four years under our present revenue law before the same could be bottled and sold for consumption. A. F. W.

THE SALARIED MAN'S WOOING.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Only the other night the girl complained 'cause I didn't caress "like Rudolph." He's a menace to the young girl who expects the salaried man to have art in his wooing.

Wo do try to be sincere. But trying to turn a solicitor into a symphony of green is dangerous in more than one way. He'll not only lose his job and be unable to marry but his fellow-man is likely to do him bodily violence! CLASSIFIED.

GRANGE.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Why should there be so much criticism of the fact that Red Grange wants to play professional football? Every young man, when he finishes school, goes into business and usually picks that line that he is best at. If Red Grange can play football better than he can sell bonds, etc., and would be more successful in that line, why not? The world will have professional football and in view of that we want the cleanest sportsmen and the best players in it. RUSTY.

THE SPIRIT OF ROMANCE.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Why don't we try to feed our daughters with Beethoven and Tennyson instead of sending them to the show with its cheap, farcical interpretation of the spirit of romance? We might get as a result less second hand romance and a better understanding of love and poetry and music, which are the creation and food of women and men who know the value of unsatiated hunger. A MAN.

WHAT ONE HIGH SCHOOL DID.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The Wendell Phillips Hi-Y club challenges any other Hi-Y club in the city of Chicago to equal or better the record made by the club in its support of education throughout the country during American Education week.

During an assembly in the school auditorium last Tuesday, Charles Allen, president of Phillips Hi-Y club, presented to a special representative of Hampton institute of Virginia a check for $150, which is to be used in the school fund for better equipment and buildings on the campus. Another check for the same amount was presented to Mr. Evans, the principal, for the Wendell Phillips school fund. This sum made a total of $300 given by one club for the support of education. SAMUEL SHEPARD.

THE CLOSING OF THE WENTWORTH BATH JUSTIFIED.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—I would like to call to the attention of your correspondent, Joseph G. Dytrych, that within one block of the Wentworth bath is located Mark White square, where the south park commissioners have been duplicating the service given by the city in giving public baths, soap and towel included, free of charge—an excellent service.

Under these circumstances there is, of course, no hardship rendered upon this community by the closing of the Wentworth bath, due to lack of funds.

LIBRARY SALARIES AND BUILDINGS.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Mr. Carl Rodin of the Chicago public library in his address before the Association of Commerce discussed the building of five new branch libraries a year, covering a period of ten years. The branches will cost the city $4,500,000.

Mr. Rodin has a wonderful vision, but does he realize that to operate these new institutions efficient and well educated persons are needed to supply the public with information; but efficiency cannot be maintained on the salaries that the employés are now receiving.

I sometimes wonder if the people in Chicago know that there are university graduates being employed in the library on a salary ranging from $45 to $140 a month.

What the Chicago public library needs is not an increase in the number of branches at the present time but an increase in salary to give the employés a living wage. B. RAY.

FRIENDLESS DOGS.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—I would like to make an appeal for the homeless, hungry, cold dogs which one sees so many of at this time of the year.

I work in the vicinity of Fulton Market and Ann street, and for the past two days a poor little dog has lain by the sidewalk on Ann and May streets without stirring. I suppose he is too weak from hunger and abuse to move.

Why don't the dog-catchers pick these stray dogs up? It would be more humane to put them to death than permit them to starve to death. J. PHELAN.

FRANCE TURNS TO CORSICA FOR NEW FINANCE DOCTOR

Paul Doumer Will Try to Form Cabinet.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Nov. 24.—After vainly seeking sufficient support to insure a majority vote in the chamber of deputies, Aristide Briand this afternoon abandoned his attempt to form a cabinet.

President Doumergue immediately summoned Paul Doumer, entrusting to him the job of organizing a government, which it is believed he will be able to do, although students of the situation are pessimistic over the life of his outfit.

Will Take Finance Ministry.

After a two hours' conference with President Doumergue, the little white bearded Doumer, who comes from Corsica, which gave Napoleon to France, told THE TRIBUNE tonight:

"I cannot state anything definite now. I must have twenty-four hours for conferences with my colleagues. Then I will call on the president and give my decision. If I form a cabinet I certainly will retain the ministry of finance myself."

M. Doumer is a brilliant finance authority and already has held the ministry of finance three times.

M. Doumer is expected to be able to form a concentration cabinet whose strength from the center parties will make it independent of the Socialists and embrace elements of the old national bloc. The hybrid character of the organization creates fears that it will be short lived, although it may be able to hold out long enough to jam through a modified financial project.

M. Briand sought to create a big left combine with the aid of M. Painleve, M. Herriot, M. Blum, and Paul Boncour, but met certain obstructions from the Socialists. M. Herriot was unwilling to resign from the presidency of the chamber for an ephemeral post in the new ministry.

Demand Half of Cabinet.

PARIS, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Socialists' demand for half the portfolios in the new government, the right to name the new premier and dictate the financial policy blocked the cabinet making negotiations today and spoiled the efforts of M. Briand to form a ministry likely to enlarge the government majority in the chamber. The Socialist group in caucus also adopted a resolution that they could support the government only on condition that it adopted the Socialist project for a capital levy.

Senator Paul Doumer, who agreed to try to form a cabinet, started on his task at once by obtaining M. Briand's assurance that he would stand by him as foreign minister.

Radicals Want Herriot.

The senator apparently is so sure of success that he went to work this evening on financial projects he proposes to introduce in the chamber immediately if he becomes premier, leaving further consultations until tomorrow.

Senator Doumer's plan is based on an increase in existing taxation, which he contends would furnish sufficient additional funds not only to balance the budget but meet the requirements of the treasury and redeem the national debt fairly rapidly.

M. Doumer rules out not only any capital levy, but also forced consolidation of part of the short term debt and taxation of government rentes. He estimates that the increase in the business turnover tax will yield at least an additional four billion francs yearly. The first year's yield will be applied to reduction of the fiduciary circulation, which would have to be increased to meet the maturities on Dec. 8.

Favors Balanced Budget.

A strictly balanced budget naturally is an essential of M. Doumer's program, which will be completed by a set of measures tending to stabilize the franc and restore government rentes.

There was less confidence among the deputies in M. Doumer's ability to solve the situation. The Socialists declared they would have none of him at any price. The radicals are divided; a considerable number are hostile because M. Doumer is not regarded as a man of the radical-Socialist coalition. The uncompromising attitude of the two groups is said by the leaders of the other party to indicate a disposition to force President Doumergue to call on M. Herriot to form a radical Socialist cabinet.

PROMINENT FIGURE FOR YEARS.

Senator Paul Doumer, who sits for Corsica in the upper chamber of parliament, has been a prominent figure in French politics for more than thirty years. It was in 1895 that he was called to his first cabinet post, that of minister of finance.

Ten years later he became president of the chamber of deputies and at that time was considered of premiership caliber, for President Loubet called him in January, 1905, to form a new ministry, but he did not accept. The following year he made an unsuccessful campaign for eleciton as president of the republic, being defeated by M. Fallieres.

A decade of semi-retirement followed, but during the war he emerged to become minister of state and member of the war council in M. Painleve's cabinet in 1917. Early in 1921 he took the portfolio of finance in M. Briand's seventh cabinet.

U. S. AUTO PRODUCTION SETS NEW HIGH RECORD IN MONTH OF OCTOBER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—(AP)—October automobile production set a new high record, the commerce department reported today, with 392,648 passenger cars and 44,129 trucks turned out in the United States. With Canadian production added, the North American output of passenger cars for the month was 406,569, and of trucks 45,823.

The previous high record was established in April of this year, when 375,787 passenger cars and 46,247 trucks were produced in the United States. For the 10 months of 1925 the United States produced 3,073,007 passenger cars, against 2,771,719 in the same period of last year, while the truck production was 404,510, against 307,187 last year.

[Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Some inquisitive person has made the disconcerting discovery that the machines used by the British postoffice for cancellation of postage stamps, with the words "Buy British Goods" and "British Goods Are Best," are of American manufacture. The postmaster general told parliament the machines were obtained from America because so far as he is aware no British firm makes them.

BUNDESEN MILK ORDER TIED UP BY INJUNCTION

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

"If it is within my power I'm going to see that every drop of milk that all of my six children and the milk that other children drink in the city of Chicago is safe and pure if I have to go to jail to do it."

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner, made this statement last night when asked if he knew Circuit Judge William J. Fulton, Geneva, Ill., had granted a temporary injunction, restraining the commissioner and Chicago Milk distributors from putting into effect a proposed order barring all milk from Chicago that comes from herds not tested for tuberculosis.

Serve Writ Today.

Commissioner Bundesen said that up to that time no such order had been served on him.

The order, granted yesterday afternoon, will be served on Dr. Bundesen and more than twenty other defendants probably this morning. Copies of the order also will be mailed to 485 other Chicago milk dealers who are said to deliver seventy-five per cent of the milk in the city.

The injunction order is a move by one group of milk producers to oppose the plan of Chicago health officials and milk distributors to have all herds in the Chicago milk producing area tested for tuberculosis by next summer.

Signed By Producers.

Frank A. McCarthy, an Elgin, Ill., attorney, and Kirkland, Patterson & Fleming of Chicago filed the bill, which was signed by Julius Schramer, William Hardt, Herman F. Heine, Robert Omann, Andrew Faber, F. C. Klahn, and Henry Wilkening, all milk producers.

The order restricts and enjoins Dr. Bundesen from "stating, representing, threatening, or ordering, by word of mouth or otherwise, or from causing the same to be done, that he individually, or as commissioner of health of the city of Chicago, will in any manner prevent the sale of milk in the city of Chicago which has not been produced under state and federal supervision, or which has not been produced by cattle tested by the so-called tuberculin test——"

Applies Also to Dealers.

The order also restricts the dealers and other defendants from requesting producers with whom they have contracts to sign agreements to have their herds tested.

Defendants, in addition to Dr. Bundesen, include the Bowman Dairy company, Sidney Wanzer & Sons, Inc., Liberty Dairy Products company, Logan Square Dairy, Murphy-Ward Dairy company, Borden Farm products company, Wieland Dairy company, A. J. Olson company, City Sanitary Milk company, and the Model Dairy company.

Hearing on a permanent injunction will come up in February.

It is charged that Dr. Bundesen and the defendant dealers entered into a "conspiracy, agreement, and understanding, with the object and purpose of violating and evading" the Illinois law of 1911 and the Illinois tuberculin act, "for the purpose of injuring, damaging, and ruining the producers in the Chicago district."

HELD FOR STEALING CANDY.

Martin Porter, 35, 111 West Chestnut street, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of stealing three five pound boxes of candy from a store at 4622 Lincoln avenue.

RAINEY AND HULL PREPARE ATTACK ON NEW TAX BILL

Object to Cut in Exemptions.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Although a nonpartisan tax bill has been unanimously ordered reported by the house ways and means committee, dissenting views relating to certain features of the measure will be filed by two of the ten Democratic members, it was announced today.

Representative Cordell Hull [Dem., Tenn.], former chairman of the Democratic national committee, one of the two dissenters, issued a statement today, suggesting that it would have been preferable to have given more relief to those with incomes between $25,000 and $80,000 instead of increasing exemptions applying on small incomes and reducing surtaxes on large incomes to such a great extent.

Criticizes Estate Tax.

He also criticized the retroactive repeal of estate tax increases of the 1924 act. He would have preferred to have repealed or reduced more of the excise taxes, also.

Representative Rainey [Dem., Ill.], the other Democrat who will file dissenting views, will advocate amendments on the floor of much the same character as favored by Mr. Hull.

"Had the maximum graduated rates on incomes and inheritances been dropped to a 25 per cent maximum and the exemptions for married persons left at $2,500 with $400 for dependents, congress could have repealed all or virtually all temporary war and nuisance taxes, and also given substantial relief to those with incomes of $25,000 to $80,000," Representative Hull said.

"It is never justifiable to reduce our permanent taxes to the lowest peace level until temporary war taxes are first removed. In view of revenue necessities, the wisdom of the action of the committee in departing from this view, as well as its action in making the repeal of the higher estate tax rates retroactive to June 2, 1924, is questionable. This latter action grossly violates every rule of sound public policy. The committee should have avoided this $20,000,000 loss in revenue, and at the same time effected other reductions and repeals to the extent of $350,000,000."

Bill Fundamentally Sound.

Representative Hull said that with the important exceptions as indicated the bill approved by the committee is "a wise and splendid bill, and the harmonious, constructive manner of its preparation is proof that internal taxes are essentially nonpolitical."

He added that the bill illustrates what the committee would doubtless have accomplished much earlier, "had not officious, outside interference obstructed the legislative situation."

COOLIDGE WORKS TO COMPLETE HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—President Coolidge is spending every available moment working on his annual message to congress and hopes to have it completed by next Monday. The calling list at the White House has been cut to a minimum, and today only two callers were on the list.

With the conference with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday Mr. Coolidge has virtually completed his preliminary work and now is engaged in writing the message. The President has announced that he will not deliver his message in person.

COOLIDGE WILL REPLY TO LEWIS' SOFT COAL QUERY

But Asks Time to Study Miners' Charges.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Receipt of the miners' union complaint that some bituminous coal operators were disregarding the Jacksonville wage agreement was acknowledged by President Coolidge in a letter today to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, at Philadelphia. In it the President said he would make a full reply after study of the allegations.

The complaint, which was made Sunday in the form of an open letter to the President, said the wage contract had had the approval of government officials when drawn up, and asked whether the federal government cared to intervene or would consider the miners justified in taking steps to enforce it.

These "steps" were not described, but the threat of labor disturbance in the soft coal fields seen in the statement is understood to have occasioned White House conferences in which not only cabinet members but William Green and Frank Morrison, respectively president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor, have participated.

Says Operators Reject Peace.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Continuance of the strike in the hard coal fields was placed on the shoulders of the anthracite operators tonight by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Mr. Lewis, who was the dinner guest here last night of Alvan Markle of Hazleton, chairman of the joint wage conference of anthracite miners and operators, said that he had made overtures for a resumption of the wage negotiations, but that they had been unheeded by the mine owners.

The miners' leader said he would sit with the general wage scale committee of the miners and the negotiating committee of the operators to hear the fifteen demands of the miners without passing judgment on the demands until they had been fully presented. He said he took this stand because of frequent statements by the operators that they would consider nothing that would disturb the factor of mine costs, which would eliminate the request of the miners for a 10 per cent increase in wages.

Towns Try to End Tieup.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Representatives of civic organizations from cities and towns throughout the anthracite region were in conference today in an effort to devise a plan to bring about a resumption of the wage conferences between the hard coal operators and miners.

WOLFF'S SPECIAL VINCI INQUEST COMES TO HALT

Crowe Warns of Giving Aid to the Accused.

Humble rites put Mike Vinci, slain gunman and bootlegger, into his grave yesterday while the sharp verbal battle of officials over the usefulness of coroner's juries, a battle precipitated by the gangster's murder, went animatedly on.

Vinci's murder not only rid the city of a most undesirable citizen, it was remarked by officials yesterday, but it also brought to light the need for a reform of the coroner's jury system.

Gets Special Jury.

Coroner Oscar Wolff, who says he has long recognized that the men who usually serve on his juries are not what they should be, and that he has striven to find a solution, impaneled a specially chosen jury to inquire into the murder of John Minatti, who was killed by Sam Vinci at the inquest into the death of Mike Vinci his brother.

The new jury plunged immediately into the question of what was wrong generally with coroner's inquests, but before they had gone far the hearing was indefinitely adjourned.

State's Attorney Crowe issued a statement referring caustically to the "high grade" coroner's jury investigating a murder for which the murderer is already under indictment.

Crowe Warns Wolff.

Coroner's juries should not delve into murders at all, Mr. Crowe declared, the only result of an extended public inquiry by the coroner being to acquaint the defense with the state's testimony, and "to make it easy for the defense to frame against it"

"An attempt on the part of the coroner to have an exhaustive hearing after the grand jury has indicted the defendant, as they have in the Vinci case, is an effort by the coroner," the state's attorney said, "to hinder me in the discharge of my duty, and to obstruct public justice."

The only legitimate function of the coroner's office, Mr. Crowe continued, is to ascertain the cause of death.

Verdict Not Evidence.

"A verdict of the coroner's jury cannot be introduced in evidence in either a criminal or civil case," the state's attorney asserted. "In a number of progressive communities they have no coroner's jury, but merely a physician who certifies to the cause of death.

"In counties where they only have a grand jury sitting several times a year a coroner's jury might be necessary for the purpose of holding a defendant in bail until the grand jury would convene. In Cook county we have a grand jury sitting constantly, and the proceedings before it are secret."

Coroner Wolff's reply was a reference to the statute concerning his office, which states it to be the duty of the coroner to inquire the manner and by whom or what the dead body came to its death, and of all other facts concerning the death.

"Apparently Mr. Crowe is ignorant of the law," the coroner remarked. "As to the state's attorney's humorous jibes at this office I should like to ask him whether he can laugh off the lack of convictions obtained by him and his office force in the last four years, and the resultant wave of murder and violent crime."

One carriage of flowers, as compared to more than twenty at Samoots Amatuna's burial, was all that his friends could muster for Mike Vinci. The dead gangster's mother and widow were hysterical as his body was carried out to the hearse waiting to take it to Mount Carmel cemetery.

NATTY STRANGER FADES WITH A $1,075 PAY ROLL

While W. G. Simmons, manager of the Dress Well Accessory company, 307 West Van Buren street, was at the Continental and Commercial National bank obtaining a pay roll of $1,075 a stylishly dressed man entered the office and inquired when Simmons would return. When told the manager would be in any minute he stepped out into the hall.

Then Simmons entered, tossed the pay roll on the desk, and left his office a moment to hang up his coat. When he returned the money was gone. Simmons reached the door just in time to see the man dash down the steps. South Clark street police are searching for the stranger, who was described as about 35 years old, wearing a gray overcoat and gray fedora hat.

"'Tis the end of a most prosperous voyage, Captain. Yon chests hold the wealth of a Croesus."

"Ay, Mendez. Yet, the baubles somehow please me not overmuch today. To my eye our bullion looks tawdry and dull beside the warm glory of this sunshine. Our sapphires not half so blue as the bay. Nor can the most brilliant of our diamonds match the sparkle of those billows. Look you at that woodland. Can any bit of jade we have approach its color?"

"Pfah, Captain, and since when have you turned troubadour? Be done! Oaths and not odes are for such as we."

"'Tis true, but a strange mood is on me, Mendez. 'Twill pass, quickly. It is this glorious place that makes me so—this Sarasota Bay."

U. S. WARSHIP LEAVES CANAL FOR ARICA DUTY

Replaces Flagship; Chile Row Halts Parley.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALBOA, C. Z., Nov. 25.—Admiral Latimer, commander of the special service squadron aboard the flagship Rochester, yesterday sent a wireless message from Arica ordering the U. S. cruiser Denver to stand by at Balboa in readiness to proceed to Arica, and the ship sailed at midnight under "secret orders."

The Denver is a unit of the special service squadron of which the Rochester is the flagship. The Rochester carried Gen. Pershing to Arica.

Pershing Wants Trip North.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The cruiser Rochester, on which Gen. Pershing went to South America for the Tacna-Arica negotiations, has been ordered relieved for a trip to the United States by the cruiser Denver. It was learned today that Gen. Pershing has wanted to be in the United States during the Christmas holidays. Latest available information here, however, is that he probably will not come. The official explanation is that the Rochester is in need of repairs.

OUTCOME IN DOUBT

BY GERALD MARTIN.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ARICA, Chile, Nov. 24.—There is an air of uncertainty here as to the next move in the deadlock in the Tacna-Arica plebiscite situation. Agustin Edwards, the Chilean delegate, is standing firm for his government's demand that an electoral law and plebiscite date be given the first consideration.

The plebiscitary commission's meeting, which was set for today, has been indefinitely postponed. It is believed this is due to the fact that Gen. John J. Pershing, president of the commission, has not yet replied to the note of Señor Edwards, the Chilean delegate, announcing Chile's withdrawal from the commission's negotiations.

Asked regarding the possibility of a breaking off of relations between Chile and the United States following Chile's withdrawal from the commission last Saturday, Señor Edwards said he did not think it probable or necessary.

The resolution passed at the last session of the commission calling for the control of residents in the plebiscitary area, seems to be the biggest thorn in the Chileans side. The Chileans are claiming the Chile has only on one or two occasions deported undesirable foreigners and that the commission's resolution is entirely contrary to the Chilean constitution.

Chileans Are Angry.

The feeling among the Chileans here is intense. Señor Salomon, the Peruvian delegate, considers Señor Edwards' action in withdrawing from the commission will help the situation and ultimately increase the authority of the commission. He is confident that Saturday's resolution was necessary for the holding of a fair plebiscite.

Former President Alessandri of Chile, in a speech yesterday at the funeral of a carabinero killed in an attack on a post near Morutia on Friday, accused the Americans in Arica of stirring up "conflict, discord, and hatred" between Chile and Peru instead of trying to solve the Tacna-Arica dispute.

ANNUITY GRANTED BY CARNEGIE HELD EXEMPT FROM TAX

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 24.—(AP)—An annuity of $5,000 provided in the will of Andrew Carnegie for the late John W. Beatty, former director of fine arts of Carnegie institute, was held exempt from federal income tax in a decision by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker, made public today. The decision was expected to have an important bearing on other bequests made by Mr. Carnegie. Among those given annuities in his will were the widows of former Presidents Theodore Roosevelt and Grover Cleveland, Chief Justice Taft, and former Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain.

The decision was given in the suit of Mrs. Cora B. Beatty, executrix of her husband's estate, for the return of $572 paid as income tax on the annuity in 1920. Judge Schoonmaker held that Mrs. Beatty was entitled to a refund of the amount paid but granted Collector of Internal Revenue D. B. Heiner 15 days to file a supplementary affidavit of defense.

"Customer" Robs Dealer of Auto Being Exhibited

Charles Leek, an Aurora automobile dealer, was forced to walk some distance into Plainfield yesterday when a prospective customer he had taken for a ride to demonstrate the merits of a car, turned out to be an automobile thief. The man thrust a gun against Leek and commanded him to get out and walk.

CAPT. HINES TO TAKE OVER NAVAL COMMAND TODAY

Capt. John F. Hines, new commandant of the Ninth Naval district, including the Great Lakes Naval Training station, who arrived in Chicago yesterday, will take over his command at 10 a. m. today, relieving Capt. Waldo Evans. The relieving of Capt. Evans will be formal and featured by a review of the station's forces on the parade grounds.

Capt. Hines, who was born in Kentucky in 1870, was appointed to the United States Naval academy in 1888. He attained his present grade in 1917 and until recently has been attached to the office of naval operations, navy department, at Washington. He is a graduate of the Naval War college and holds the navy cross and the war department's distinguished service medal.

Capt. Evans, who has been retired from the service after three years of duty at the naval station, expects to go to Florida for the winter.

Ex-Queen of Burma, Made Famous by Kipling, Dies

[Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Nov. 24.—Ex-Queen Supiyalat, widow of Theebaw, last king of Burma, died this morning of heart failure at Rangoon. She became world famous not because she was a queen, surrounded with oriental magnificence, but through Kipling's line in the poem "Mandalay," describing his heroine, "And her name was Supiyalat, just the same as Theebaw's queen." After the Burmese war of 1885 Theebaw was dethroned and banished to the island of Ratnagiri. The queen was a pensioner of the British government and will be given a suitable state funeral.

CAVALRY CHARGE ON DRUSES FREES FRENCH CITADEL

Poilus Fight Out 4 Day Siege; 400 Rebels Dead

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

RASHAYA, Syria, Nov. 24.—Facing the fire of Druse riflemen, THE TRIBUNE correspondent entered Rashaya at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon with the victorious French infantry. The cavalry captured the city at 4 o'clock, giving the French their first victory in the Lebanon offensive as well as their first objective in the extensive campaign to extinguish the Druse rebellion.

Yesterday's maneuver through Bekka plain culminated in a magnificent charge by the Spahi cavalry to relieve the garrison in the Rashaya citadel, on a small ridge of Mount Hermon. In the four days' siege the Druses almost succeeded in wiping out the garrison of 250 men.

Druses Capture Tower.

The bombardment yesterday was the most violent part of the siege, the Druses actually capturing the right tower of the Christian citadel. Capt. Landriot of the French foreign legion charged the Druses within the citadel, defeating them. Then the rebels undermined the citadel, and had hoped to blow it up this afternoon, when the French cavalry charged, dispersing hundreds of rebels along the slopes of Mount Hermon.

The French counted 400 Druses dead.

Cavalry Charge Besiegers.

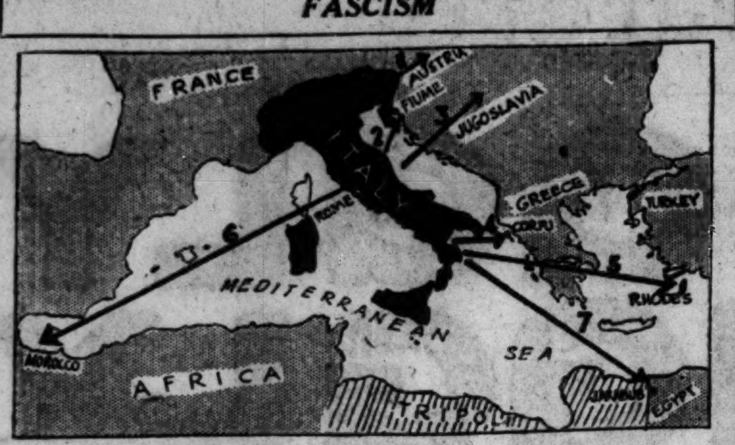
The cavalry charged under a barrage of French machine gun fire. The 75 millimeter guns in the meantime were bombarding the Druse villages.

The troops who entered the village of Akaba were met by weak rifle fire from the enemy. Soon I saw them engaged in house to house fighting, killing Druses from their shelters. Occasionally the Druses fired from the roads.

The Druses and French both fought heroically at the Rashaya citadel. The little garrison fought without food and with almost every cartridge gone, while the Druses attacked them with hand grenades.

Airplanes spread death among the Druses by bombing them as they retreated to the hills after the relief of the citadel.

FASCISM



The Italian government, under the pressure of the dictator, Benito Mussolini, is demanding that Egypt reply favorably to its demand for the oasis of Jarabub in Cyrenaica (7), and a report from Cairo says that Egypt has agreed to a conference to reach an accord this week. If Egypt yields, the Egyptian nationalist, Zaghloul Pasha, and the acknowledged leader of the tribes of Cyrenaica, Sayed Safieddin, promise to make interesting Italy's effort to occupy the region where the people object to being delivered to Italian rule.

This, however, is only one of Mussolini's drives for conquest, with which, his enemies charge, he hopes to distract the attention of the Italian people from home affairs. Radich, the Croatian leader, recently returned to power in Jugoslavia, has warned Mussolini that Italy's threatened encroachments on the Dalmatian frontier (3) will not be tolerated peacefully by Jugoslavia or by the little entente. The seizure of Fiume (2) still rankles in Jugoslavian hearts.

Mussolini has aroused the bitter enmity of Austria (1) because of his threat of war unless the government apologized ceremoniously for a denunciation of him in Austrian Tyrol by a minor official. Vienna apologized.

The enmity of Greece has been gained by the Italian seizure of Rhodes (5) and the threats against Corfu (4).

Mussolini tried to insert Italy into the French and Spanish conquest of Morocco (6), but was rebuffed and was compelled to withdraw.

DICTATOR LAWS OF MUSSOLINI MAY PASS TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Nov. 24.—The chamber of deputies will resume its sitting tomorrow. The legislative program of the Fascist revolution has been practically all approved by the committees, as originally framed, except for the law reinstating local officials, which has been changed to include cities up to 10,000 instead of 5,000. This latter law will probably be adopted on Thursday.

The government let up a bit today on the opposition, permitting three of the suppressed papers to resume publication. They are the Avanti, the Unita, and the Justicia of Milan.

The Coriere d'Italia today attempted to enlist the support of the Vatican against the anti-Masonic law recently passed by publishing a long article charging American Masonry is the chief enemy of Catholic schools in America and quoting President Coolidge as warning the Masons against religious persecution.

NAMES COUNCIL SUBCOMMITTEE TO TALK TRANSIT

Members of the subcommittee of the council committee on local transportation, which will make a study of the traction situation and recommend a method of procedure, were named yesterday by Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th], chairman of the committee.

The five appointed, representing different sides of the city are: Ald. Donald S. McKinlay [19th] and Patrick Ryan [18th], south side; Ald. John Touhy [27th], and John Toman [23d], west side, and Ald. E. I. Frankhauser [49th], north side.

With appointment of the committee, Ald. McDonough hopes that traction problems will have prompt consideration and that it will not be necessary to wait for a quorum of the transportation committee, which caused cancellation of so many meetings when Ald. U. S. Schwartz was chairman.

John Codash, 1068 Fry street, died yesterday from injuries Sunday night when he fell in front of 755 North Curtis street.

267,904 TOOK PART IN 1925 MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Figures released by the war department today disclosed that a grand total of 267,904 citizens participated in the summer military training activities held in the various camps during the summer of 1925.

These figures include all arms of the National Guard, both commissioned and enlisted, the R. O. T. C., and C. M. T. C., and that part of the regular army assigned to summer training camp activities.

The figures show that 36,838 citizens received military training at the citizens' military training camps. They also disclosed that 84.3 per cent of the membership of the National Guard attended summer camps.

FACES BAD CHECK CHARGE.

Isadore Greenberg, who gave the address 28 South Dearborn street, was arrested in the People's Trust and Savings bank yesterday on a charge of operating a confidence game. It is alleged that he deposited $900 in the bank, drew $400, and then issued a check for the full $900.

Cream Still Fresh

After A Week-End Trip

ALTHOUGH he no longer cracked ice or emptied the drip pan, Walker did not share his wife's enthusiasm for their system of electric refrigeration.

It wasn't until they returned from a week-end trip and found the cream as sweet and fresh as when they left that he became a Copeland enthusiast.

When he later discovered that fruit can be kept indefinitely and that meat and vegetables remain fresh for a week and longer in a refrigerator equipped with the Copeland System his ardor exceeded that of his wife.

The Copeland Bond, issued with every installation, guarantees replacement of defective parts, necessary service for one year and eliminates all doubt of satisfactory performance.

The Copeland System can be conveniently and quickly installed in your present ice box. Deferred payments arranged if you wish.

OUTCAST

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

A band of crooks, stumbling on the fact that Sir Adrian Shale's wife is alive, when supposedly she had died six months before in Italy, arrives at Grantwick, Sir Adrian's home, for the purpose of blackmailing him. Mimi Winchell, one of the crooks posing as a widow, obtains a letter of introduction to Sir Adrian, who is kind to her and her "daughter," Doris. The girl is beautiful and possesses the only shred of respectability the gang can lay claim to. She is in reality an orphan whom Mimi has befriended. One of the crooks, Beauty Bill Gibbons, asks Doris to marry him. She refuses. A few days later Sir Adrian angers Mimi by announcing he would like to marry Doris. She tells him she knows his wife is alive, and demands fifty thousand pounds for silence. Sir Adrian does not believe her, but agrees to pay the money. She returns to London immediately and discovers that Sir Adrian has tricked her. Somewhat disturbed by Mimi's story, Sir Adrian decides to make an investigation. His wife's former maid, Anna Ferguson, failed to come back to England after Lady Shale's death in Italy. In attempting to find her, Sir Adrian calls on her sister, Madam Georgette, a fashionable London dressmaker, who is unable to give him any information. Doris rebels at the life she is forced to lead with Mimi and her husband, Uncle Charley, and takes a job as mannikin at Madam Georgette's. Uncle Charley, ill, sends for Doris and while she is with him he dies. She is late returning to Madam Georgette's and is scolded by Madam's husband for refusing to tell where she has been. She leaves Madam's house and her employ. While waiting to keep an appointment with Bill, Doris is accosted by a detective who questions her.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Slowly Doris recovered her self-possession as the sense of personal danger passed. Out of the chaos of thought in her mind one definite, insistent question was forcing itself. It was the outcome of resentment. Hadn't Bill lied to her about his honest business?

Without stopping to consider what she said, she threw an eager question at the detective.

"I want to know why you are looking for Mr. Gibbons," she demanded with unexpected heat. "Is it for something he's done long ago, or something recently? I believed he was living honestly, now—O, yes, I know he was not always straight—but tell me this, why do you want him? I have a right to know."

For once Inspector Ingle was taken aback. To guile he was well accustomed; to cunning lying and hypocritical tears; but not to such a direct and patently sincere questioning as this. It upset all his preconceived notions.

"It's over the Hobson business," he replied in surprise. "A stolen car—and one or two others."

"When?" Doris rapped out the question in much the same manner as he had adopted to her but a few minutes before.

"The day Hobson died."

Doris gave a little moan. So it was true—Bill had been trying to fool her, to trap her.

"Who stole the cars?"

"Hobson—and passed them to Gibbons. He was the fence."

A feeling of great weariness now replaced Doris's former terror. She was frightened no longer; she was almost happy, though why she was unable at the moment to explain. It took some seconds for the full significance of the detective's words to become clear in her mind. This meant she was free—free of her obligation to Bill. She need never see him again. At last she could cut clean out of that bad old life. She was sorry for Bill, but O, so glad for herself.

—lay the limp body of Doris Winchell—

Ingle, more puzzled than ever, was a little piqued at having been surprised out of his professional manner. And he had advanced no farther in his search, either.

"So you won't give me any information about Gibbons?" he queried with a return of his sharpness.

"I can't. I know nothing more than what I've told you."

"Do you realize the danger of being suspected as an accomplice?" he tried as a last shot. "I'm afraid I must ask you to give me your address. It may be necessary to see you again."

He watched her face keenly, and the look of panic that flashed into the eyes caused him to believe that after all this girl was not quite so ignorant as she professed to be. It would be best to let her go now, he decided, and to shadow her. There was a good sporting chance that she might lead him straight to the man he sought.

But the anxiety that Doris showed was purely on her own account. She had been dreaming of herself free at last from the clutches of the old crooked past, and now the vision changed swiftly to one of this policeman spying about the St. Osythe's hotel, questioning Miss Dawes, carrying tales of the old life into the new which would cause her once again to be an outcast.

Relief turned in a second to carking fear. Yet she must answer the inspector. She told the address, and he was again all suaveness.

"Purely a matter of form, Miss Winchell," he said, shutting up his notebook. "I'm much obliged to you, I'm sure. But don't let this worry you. Perhaps it will be a warning to you of the sort of company you keep." He was speaking with the smug satisfaction of a schoolmarm. "Good evening."

He raised his hat and, with a friendly nod, crossed the road into the darker shadows of the square, leaving Doris, bewildered in her misery, standing, uncertain on the deserted pavement.

She turned at hazard down one of the side streets that lead into Soho's restaurant land, and walked on slowly, as one not quite awake. She wanted to get back to the hotel, to be alone in her own room, to think.

Unostentatiously, not far away, Inspector Ingle loitered. He was thinking quickly. There was a lot to be done over this Gibbons case. The fellow had been dealing in stolen cars in a big way in the last few months, and there would be much commendation for Inspector Ingle if he could lay hands on Bill without delay.

He crossed the road furtively, under cover of a stationery van, as Doris hesitated at the corner of Old Compton street. Now which way would she go? She was scared; there was no doubt about that from the dazed, absent minded manner in which she was walking. But she had never looked back, nor tried to dodge him. Crooks generally did that, even though they suspected they were being followed.

Doris turned to the left, and Ingle hurried forward from the sheltering doorway from which he had been watching. She was going eastward. That tallied with the address she had given. Now she was half way across the crowded road in front of the Palace theater.

The girl must be crazy to be dithering about like that in the traffic. She didn't seem to know what she was doing. Instinctively Ingle started forward. But at that moment there came a harsh warning cry, the grinding hiss of braked wheels, a crash, as a big oncoming car turned in a swift but vain effort to avoid the stupefied girl, and caught the side of a passing motor bus.

Ingle found himself running with the crowd, through suddenly halted traffic, to the center of the road where, mudstained and limp, lay the slight body of Doris Winchell, half hidden beneath the bonnet of the big car, from the seat of which a white-faced, frightened chauffeur was climbing frantically.

* * * * *

Mimi's preliminary call upon Madam Georgette was more or less in the nature of a reconnaissance. The Honorable Mrs. Walter Holden—Mimi had to retain her old nom-de-guerre—referred to her previous visit, and explained that she was going away for the whole of the winter and wished to replenish her wardrobe before leaving.

To Georgette this vivacious piquant little woman appealed both as a promising customer and as an amusing one. Mrs. Holden's quick, apt comments, which told of an experienced and instructed taste, drew the normally unapproachable Madam from her professional reserve. Mrs. Holden promised the best of references, money down, and was to call again.

Georgette, noticing in her list of engagements a few days later that the new customer had an appointment at 11 o'clock, was rather looking forward to seeing her. Mrs. Holden was the type of woman who would do credit to Georgette creations; a woman who knew how to dress and make the best of herself.

Mrs. Holden arrived, a carefully arranged ten minutes late, in a quietly smart saloon car driven by Bill Gibbons, correctly attired in dark green livery Madam saw Mrs. Holden at once. It was a joy to attend on this woman, Georgette thought she knew her own mind, and when she asked for advice she accepted it.

Within an hour Mimi had chosen half a dozen dresses, then smilingly she said: "I positively daren't let you show me anything else, madam. Everything is so attractive—and I'm really terrified lest I should outrage one of my few principles. Yes"—she tossed her head in a confident, laughing way—"I'm one of those rare women, madam, who will not run into debt." Then the bright, [illegible] eyes grew suddenly serious. "I learned my lesson once—when I was a good deal younger." She fumbled in her bag. "Take me somewhere where I can write you a check, and please thank your charming assistants for me for all the trouble they have taken."

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

He's fast on his feet and has a way with horses, this slim "western" player of F. B. O.'s. And he looks like Herbert Rawlinson—which is another point in his favor so far as us girls are concerned.

In this picture, which is not at all unusual but quite as good as ninety per cent of its kind, he is discovered walking the ties—apparently one of the world's most unfortunate hoboes. We leave him rich, happy, and riding in his own shiny roadster, cuddled up to a dizzy and adoring little blonde.

You know during the first reel that Bart Andrews is young Lawrence, expected to arrive to take charge of his ranch near Frying Pan. But of course the folks in the picture have no idea the dilapidated bum unceremoniously hustled into their midst is the man they have been eagerly looking for.

So, Bart Andrews as he calls himself, is put through his paces for a few reels. Proves himself a master of horse flesh. Prives himself a Dempsey and a Sherlock. Proves himself a great lover—and, after he has saved the cattle and captured the rustlers, proves that his name's Bart Andrews Lawrence—and there you are.

A number of scenes from the Alturas wild west and rodeo add authenticity and atmosphere to the piece, which is improbable and impossible in many instances and isn't funny where it tries to be.

But—Fred Thompson is likable and his cohorts are earnest and willing workers. Little Clara Horton is the girl in the case and Elmo Lincoln is pretty good as the sly and husky head villain.

Silver King, a beautiful white horse, shows a lot of intelligence, is sure easy on the eyes, and can he go—Bebby!

Speaking of being easy on the eyes, the scenery is that little thing, too. Which concludes this morning's essay on "All Around Frying Pan."

CLOSEUPS

Natalie Kingston, the nineteen year old Sennett comedy girl, who boasts that in eighteen months of leading woman work in twenty comedies she has never appeared in a bathing suit, is about to obtain release from her Sennett contract to become a free lance.

"The Non-Stop Flight," a dramatization of the recent naval air flight to Hawaii, will shortly be produced by Emory Johnson for F. B. O. It will have an all star cast, we're told.

The first finished print of "Irish Luck," Thomas Meighan's current picture, was equipped with a set of Gaelic titles and shipped to Theodore M. Sadleir, registrar of Dublin Castle, Dublin. It will be stored in the vaults of Dublin Castle along with old mansucripts, seals and government documents. Many of its scenes were, you know, filmed in Ireland.

School Children Give to City's Needy Today

The annual collection of the School Children's Aid society, asked for each year in the schools of the city at Thanksgiving time for a fund used to provide adequate clothing for pupils from the homes of the poor, will be taken up today. The society, founded by Mrs. Murray F. Tuley, was reorganized in 1888 by Mrs. Oliver H. Hicks, as an auxiliary to the Chicago Woman's club. The officers and workers give all of their time and services without charge, five of them being present at the headquarters, 840 South Des Plaines street, every day except Wednesday and Saturday. Mrs. George Allen MacCorkle, 4656 Beacon street, is president of the society. Persons who wish to make contributions may send them to any public school teacher, or to Mrs. George F. Koester, 4606 North Hermitage avenue, treasurer.

Hoosiers to Give Thrift Banquet; $15 a Plate

Economy is to be the watchword at the annual banquet of the Indiana Society of Chicago, which will be held Dec. 5 at the Congress hotel. It will be $15 a plate.

George Ade, in his announcement to the members, asserts that the dinner will be "a loud and emphatic indorsement of the general economic policy urged by President Coolidge," Among the guests who will attend are Senators Watson and Robinson, Gov. Jackson of Indiana, Mayor Lew Shanks of Indianapolis, and Judge Kenesaw M. Landis.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Marian Rothenberg, 1743 East 67th street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

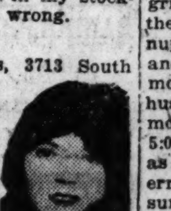
La Salle street at Washington.

The Answers.

Mrs. Ella Brueck, 2320 West 19th street, housewife.—We sure do. Every one does, providing the men themselves are attractive. It wouldn't do us any good to object to that, anyhow, because men will cast glances, all of them, even married men. They simply can't keep their eyes away.

Miss Anna Petersen, 5801 Berenice avenue, agent.—Sometimes. It all depends upon how good looking the men are, and upon the glances. One can read a lot in a glance. By even so slight a move some men win respect; others — well, the less glancing they do and the less said about it the better.

Mrs. Mildred Miller, 3713 South Kedzie avenue, housewife.—Sure, we do. Upon second thought, I don't care for them, because they make me wonder if I have too much cosmetics on, if my hat is on straight, or if there is a hole in my stocking or something else is wrong.



Mrs. Benjamin Yards, 3713 South Kedzie avenue, housewife.—Some of them. I like to glance at the men if they are nice looking. I even like to glance at women if they are attractive. We can learn from them. But I don't like people to look at me in a scrutinizing, critical manner.

Miss Inez Clark, 1918 West Monroe street, clerk.—Honestly, we see so much of that we get sick of it. Their glances are often anything but elevating or inspiring. They are often annoying, irritating. I sometimes think it would be better if our faces were covered, like Mohammedan women's.

"Legend of Nile" Opens at Coliseum Tonight

The Illinois Club for Catholic Women opens a twelve days' engagement with "The Legend of the Nile" at the Coliseum tonight. The proceeds will be devoted to the erection of a clubhouse and home for girls in the loop district. The program includes the famous disappearing water ballet, previously staged at the New York Hippodrome, with many of the original aquatic stars in the production, which is headed by Lottie Mayer, champion woman diver of the country.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

It was erroneously stated in THE TRIBUNE yesterday that Johnny Coulon, former bantamweight champion, had taken out a marriage license. Mr. Coulon says this couldn't be: "In the first place, because my wife wouldn't let me; and second, because I would lose another fighting championship if I ever attempted it."

THEATER

"THE KISS IN A TAXI":

Farce, in three acts, adapted from the French of Maurice Hennequin and Pierre Veber by Clifford Grey: made known in Chicago (by A. H. Woods) November 23, 1925, in the Adelphi Theater, with this cast:

Léon Lambert	Arthur Byron
His wife	Janet Beecher
Ginette, his rigola	Claudette Colbert
Angèle, a typist	Lee Patrick
Le Sage, his friend	Edward Rigby
Maraval, his clerk	George Graham
Lucien, a novelist	John Williams
Victor, bar-man	Arthur Bowyer
Armand	Frank Sherlock
Bergéot	Harry Hanlon
Gilbert	Charles Mather
Julie	Patricia O'Connor
François	Marios Underwood

Here is a farce that is genuinely funny, but made a little less so by efforts to make it a little more so: whose efforts I am not certain; but I should say that some of them are Mr. Woods' efforts, and others are the actors' efforts. A better farce of its sort has not been imported from Paris in many seasons,—or, if imported, has been destroyed by the importer without my seeing it. It is the Continental farce of marital infidelity and its consequences at its best,—meaning that, while shopware, it is a first-class staple. . . . Somebody has foolishly changed its original title, "The Five-O'Clock Man," which was bully, for the present name, which is silly; and somebody else has stuck in two or three lines that would make blush the author of the Leonard Kip Rhinelander letters. One of them, spoken by Mr. Byron, might have been gagged in by Eddie Cantor: that's the kind of a line it is. But Mr. Grey's version for the American theater is pretty good: good enough, I should say, to warrant the actors' letting the play take care of itself while they give their attention to the plain intent of the original authors.

That intent is to tell the jolly tale of a married stepper-out who explains his succession of amorous misdeeds as so many tests of his basic devotion to his wife. She, naïve and childless, leaps at the chance of adopting a pretty grisette from the Butte when told that the latter is the offspring of an antenuptial liaison between her husband and a duchess. The girl is really the most recent beneficiary of the errant husband's fancy: she has daily for six months been his hostess afternoons at 5:00 when, through with his duties as a banker, he calls at her little tavern in Montmartre. He is ready, from surfeit, to drop her when she, from love, drops him: a rapturous boy who seeks to turn his adventures into romantic literature catches her fancy. She explains away her banker to this young dreamer as her "natural" father; and the boy rushes off successfully to urge the banker's wife to adopt the girl and thereby do something in the interests of eternal justice. . . .

Once this posture is "set," the fun of the farce is fluent and furious; for the plot is rich in comic fancy, and is expertly maneuvered. The piece is in kind, as I have tried to say, the best Chicago has had in years.

Mr. Byron has, as the troubled banker, the best rôle he has drawn since "The Boomerang"; and he is funny—nearly as funny, indeed, as he could easily be by trying less. He is a good comedian, with intelligence for the theater and a seasoned ease that is his most enviable attribute, and gives immense gusto and vitality to his playing through his trained feeling for a situation; but he errs, as more than nine in ten actors err, in overlooking that it is not the business of a goat to know that it is a comic animal: my sought point being that the banker in "The Kiss in a Taxi" is the victim and not the maker of the fun. . . .

His associates play in the traditional manner of American actors called upon to play French characters. The only one who is really Gallic is Mr. Rigby, who is not an American, and is a Cockney. Miss Colbert is perfectly the type in a rôle containing six or seven times as much as she takes from it; mais elle à beaucoup du chien—the which, I believe, is the current dernier-cri in Paris when the idea is to imply that a girl is topping.

"Chenier" Sung by Muzio with All Stops Out

She Puts Lots of Thrills in Her Performance.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

"Andrea Chenier," by Umberto Giordano, is an opera about the French revolution, prescribed to be sung with all the stops out. When a certain episode or emotion is to be illustrated one of the characters steps up and sings a loud solo. For another episode or another emotion another character sings a loud solo. Loudness is the order of the performance.

Of course, they cannot keep this up unchanged all evening. Occasionally they need a little contrast. So sometimes they sing louder.

Just the same, Claudia Muzio took the credit of having sung the most thrilling performance of the season when they gave the opera at the Auditorium last night. She is a person to make one sit up and lean forward. Whether by singing or action, by stage demeanor or personality, or a combination of them all, she knows how to take a tragic situation and make it transmit chills and excitement. Try it some time in the third act of this work.

A great artist, Miss Muzio, and with plenty of good associates in the performance. Her Madeleine and Cesare Formichi's Gerard are a pair to create violent and unclaqued applause. I believe it is the best thing he has done here, and he has done many good ones before.

Antonio Cortis went on in the name part in place of Charles Marshall, indisposed, and acquired a considerable meed of credit for himself as well. Meanwhile Giorgio Polacco with eloquent baton was lashing on the performance to all the fury that is in the score, and there is plenty. Also there were at least a dozen first class minor parts.

Mrs. Coolidge Is Honored.

Orchestra hall made a musical connection with Washington yesterday afternoon. The occasion was a concert in compliment to Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge and the program was a repetition of the one played at the formal opening of her auditorium in the library of congress.

Frederick Stock conducted an orchestra of some thirty-five from the Chicago symphony in a set of works written for an organization of this size; Povla Frijsh sang in two of them; Alfredo Casella played the piano in a third, which was of his own composition. The program was interesting, in some cases highly so.

Charles Martin Loeffler's "Canticle of the Sun," the words by St. Francis of Assisi, was the first. It is a cool, unpulsating, unemotional, mystical work, using plain chant in connection with Mme. Frijsh's solo voice and the orchestra with rather extraordinary skill. Then came a great contrast, Mr. Casella's "Partita," in three sections. In at least two of them he made a fine impression of vitality, music that really should have been written. Even the third, which would seem to have been founded on the Italian equivalent of "Dixie," was exhilarating from its speed. The whole work, touched and flavored with acrid harmonies and good melodies, is worth further acquaintance.

The third was Frederick Jacobi's "Two Assyrian Prayers," setting of poems translated from ancient inscriptions. It may be that I suddenly became deaf to the delights of modernism here, but I could find little in them except a tremendous task for Mme. Frijsh. Finally came Mr. Stock's "Rhapsodic Fantasy," composed during his last summer's vacation.

It was a pleasant vacation, that is sure. Never has he written music so light hearted, with such a sparkling lilt and color and zest. And there were times when by his skill as a composer he made it sound as though there were at least ninety men in the orchestra. It should be heard not once but many times again.

Two recitals, morning and evening, were added to the day's musical events. Renee Chemet, violinist, and Thomas Denijs, baritone, the latter a newcomer, appeared jointly in the first at the Blackstone hotel, leaving pleasant if not overwhelming memories behind them. The second was another joint appearance, Leon Benditzky and Vitaly Schnee at two pianos in Kimball hall. They are good individual players and they have played together until they have acquired a rather accurate degree of what is sometimes called team work and at other ensemble.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Difference Is Great.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 17 and love a fellow of 30. We quarreled but now he writes me a proposal and asks me to wait a year for him. My parents say he is too old for me.

"BLACK EYES."

Thirteen years is a great difference, and particularly where you are so young. You should mingle with boys your own age or thereabouts.

Mandolin or What Have You?

"I am writing for an ex-service man who has been in a hospital for almost two years. He is a Seneca Indian and was a first lieutenant in the army during the war. He is interested in music and would like to have some instrument to help him pass the time. I hope some one who has a mandolin or some other instrument no longer in use will read this and give it to him.

"L. J."

Here is a chance to help an American who did his best for you during the war. We hope some one has an instrument to give him.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Carrot Plum Pudding.

The Puritans were English enough, in truth, as English as the English. That is why they had plum pudding on their holiday menus, for there is no viand more English than plum pudding. Carrot plum pudding is probably more wholesome, and it certainly contains fewer calories than those of bread, and more vitamins. And it is English enough, too, for we find a recipe for carrot pudding in Mrs. Glasse, which is ancient enough, as everybody knows, and in almost every cook book published since that famous dame got out her book has had about two recipes for carrot pudding in it.

It is no trick at all to find fifty versions of this recipe, but the one I like best reads: One cup each of sugar, grated raw carrot, grated raw potato, one cup of chopped suet, one cup seeded raisins, one cup currants, one and a half cups flour, one teaspoon of soda. Steam for three hours and serve with plain cream, using whipped cream as a garnish.

Another good version is: One cup of grated raw carrots, one cup of grated raw potato, one-half cup of melted butter or substitute, one cup brown sugar, one cup flour, one teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, two cups of raisins. Mix carrots, potatoes, and melted butter and sugar, then add flour mixed and sifted with other dry ingredients. Add the raisins after dredging them with a little of the flour. Steam two and a half hours or less if the molds are small.

Hard sauces are perhaps most favored of all for plum puddings, and today are frequently made with a minimum of butter, or only two tablespoons per cup of powdered sugar, but if you like granulated sugar best use one-third cup of it with one cup granulated sugar. Cream the butter—unsalted is best—and almost grind the sugar into it so that it is partly dissolved, and flavor to suit. Vanilla, lemon juice, etc., are used.

Impressive Proof Is Given of Authenticity of Antique Settee

BY NANCY R——.

Accidents will happen, even in the most perfectly managed household. This one took place the other day in one of our swankiest Lake Shore drive mansions—a favorite of friendly bus conductors pointing out points of interest in Our City. The chatelaine of the mansion is famed for her collection of rare and beautiful antiques, among them a charming little settee from 'way back when.

An important gathering was gracing the drawing room, also graced by the little settee, on which were seated the hostess and a guest. A second guest of slightly buxom outlines approached and sat down to take part in the conversation, when crack! went the settee, and settled suddenly to the floor, letting its occupants down to a much lower level. Heigh-ho such is the way of the genuine antique!

Does the name Mrs. Aksel Faber ring a bell in your memory? I thought not, but you may know her by her professional name, for she's none other than Eleanor Sawyer, granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Perry Smith and the niece of Mrs. John V. Farwell, and she's singing with the Civic Opera company here this season. If you notice that she's flashing an especially cheery expression tomorrow evening when she sings Desdemona to Charles Marshall's Othello it's because she's had good news this week—her husband has been ill in Paris with typhoid fever, but he's now recoverig so satisfactorily that he is planning to come to Chicago for Christmas—a reunion that will probably entail no little social gadding for this pair of talented persons.

I hear the McKinlocks and Muriel McCormick are trekking to Palm Beach in a delightful way this winter—a la caravan. Their luxurious motor car will head a procession of vans loaded with things for their southern house, which overcrowded freight trains cannot transport for them. They'd expected to leave Chicago before this, but the Red Cross drive has kept the feminine two-thirds of the trio on the hop, skip, and jump for three weeks. They're loyal workers, and wouldn't for anything leave until their quota is filled—but I have an idea that they'll be going southward toward the end of next week.

Day's News in Society

Two large social events this evening, the Bachelors and Benedicks' ball at the Congress hotel gold ballroom, and the debutante dinner dance which Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Noyes are to give for their daughter, Miss Florence Noyes, at the Saddle and Cycle club, will provide entertainment and gayety for both the old and young members of society. William H. Mitchell is chairman of the Bachelors and Benedicks' ball, which is the first and one of the most exclusive of the strictly society parties of this season. Miss Elizabeth Newberry and Mrs. Charles Fargo are among the hostesses who will give dinners before the ball.

Mrs. Howard Linn and Mme. Dimitri Ivanenko will be hostesses on Friday and Saturday at the home of Mrs. Linn's father, Edward Blair, 1516 Lake Shore drive, the occasion being a sale of exquisite French frocks and lingerie, collected by Mme. Ivanenko on her recent trip to Paris. A group of chic young women will act as models to show the gowns and wraps, the group to include Louise Mitchell, Janet Fairbank, Mrs. Shreve Badger, Rue Winterbotham, and Genevieve Carpenter. Mme. Ivanenko is using her energies and her taste thus to help her many friends among the Russian aristocracy now exiled to Paris and other corners of the world.

The Thursday morning reading class will be held this morning at the residence of Mrs. Bronson Peck of 25 East Walton place.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Loesch of the Drake have cards out for a reception from 4 to 7 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Several dinner parties will precede the Red, White, and Blue ball on Saturday evening. Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman is to entertain for Mrs. Frank C. Letts, who is to come from Washington, D. C., to receive at the ball. Other hostesses will be Mrs. Charles L. Strobel, Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, Mrs. George Halleck Taylor, Mrs. Robert J. Dunham, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Miss Edith Cummings, Mrs. Charles E. Brown Jr., Mrs. Ralph Shaw, and Miss Freda Foltz.

Mrs. Thornhill Broome will give a luncheon on Friday at the Casino for those who are to take part in the cabaret of the Red, White, and Blue ball, and the members of the entertainment committee.

There is to be a meeting of the St. Luke's ball committee at the residence of Mrs. Wilhelm Ludwig Baum, 1508 State parkway, on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to meet new members of the woman's board and to hear the final reports of the ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chatfield-Taylor are to name their son, born on Nov. 8 at the Michael Reese hospital, Richard. The Chatfield-Taylors are residing at 1317 Ritchie court for the winter.

Miss Florence Lowden has returned from a visit in Minneapolis, where she was the guest of Mrs. Folwell Wells Coan.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Black of the Lake Shore Drive hotel are to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Wilder in Kansas City, Mo.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

When Jimmy left the table before the others had finished eating he was careful to say "'Scuse me, please," to which his mother or daddy would always reply, "Very well."

One day they were busy talking and didn't notice Jimmy's repeated "'Scuse me."

Finally, in a disgusted tone, he said, "Can't nobody here say 'very well'?"

Community Powder Puff and Cold Cream Need to Be Outlawed

by Antoinette Donnelly

In offices it is not an uncommon happening for one girl to request another's cold cream jar for an emergency cleanup. Sometimes a powder puff is borrowed, yes, and even a lipstick.

By all the rules of fair play, to say nothing of hygiene, the request should never be made. No one has so close a claim on another as to ask such a favor. I feel particularly strong on the subject today because of a report made to me within the week of a peculiar infection caught through this particular borrowing habit.

Not in one' family even should there be a common cream jar, a common powder puff, or a common lip stick. Each individual should have her own private comsetic equipment and no amount of pressure should prevent one from indulging her right to be selfish about it. Skin diseases are transmitted easily through these toilet articles. And while we are on the subject of private ownership, washcloths and brushes and combs should be included. None of these articles should be subjected to borrowings and lendings any more than the toothbrush.

Cold cream jars and powder boxes should be kept closed when not in use. As an extra precautionary measure you are advised for powder applications to use tiny absorbent cotton puffs and discard them after one using. This, of course, is for home treatment. They would not be practical for street or office use, naturally. With so many repeated powder applications during the day, one must be scrupulously clean about powder puffs.

Before using a cleansing cream, wash the hands. Don't dig soiled fingers into the jar and then rub the face. We've seen jars with the top layer of cream almst black. One does not need to be a skin specialist to realize what rubbing dirty cream into the pores will do.

Some particular women use the absorbent cotton pads to apply cleansing cream with, but I find them "linty" and unsatisfactory. A little strip of fresh cheesecloth, torn off a bolt daily, is preferable. And women with dry skin, who use cream only for cleansing, should wipe the face with a fresh cloth after the first cream has been removed.

These are not small details to observe in the care of one's skin. They are important items of consideration.

Well Meaning, These Parents, but They Can Make Mistakes

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"This is an epistle from a Happy Wife," writes Mrs. H. K. "and it may help your girl readers to make decisions over which they have been reluctant.

"When we were going together, my husband was forbidden to come to our house and I was forced to meet him outside. This neither of us relished. Time and again I asked for an explanation of the treatment, but all I got was scorn. He asked to have a talk with my family to vindicate himself of whatever he had done to win such hearty disapproval. This was refused.

"A little later, Miss Blake, after we were engaged I was informed I must have a perverted mind to receive such literature from a man, the literature being his love letters to me which had bee nopened and read for my own good.

"His letters were not weather reports or copies of correct business correspondence, to be sure. Neither were they pages from some lurid novel. They were merely proof that fine art of letter writing still exists, and being seven hundred and seventy miles away from his beloved at times makes a young man say more than he should—in letters.

"However, I was forced to leave home, as the jeers and fun poked at him became unbearable. I was told I would not receive one cent in any will if I married him. But money is so tawdry compared to love, that did not influence me. Two months later we were married in church quietly and alone, but happy.

"That was over two years ago and I have known nothing but the tenderest love and devotion, despite the numerous warnings I received. We have a little darling just a month old to seal the love they called perverted.

"We are making payments on a home, and saving, too. He brings his pay home and hands it to me. It is kept where we both can get it, and as it is needed we take.

"Sometimes it is a little hard to make dresses over or save for a new one when you might have had most anything you really wanted if you had stayed single, but isn't anything worth giving up or enduring, Miss Blake, for such a love as I have won?

"He is so thoughtful about me and would tempt me to extravagance, but at such times I remember he needs a new shirt or perhaps his socks are worn. And so it goes. Always give and take, if marriage is to be a success.

"The family thinks he's quite all right now. Is it not queer it has turned out so, after such opposition as we met in the beginning? Parents are not always right, are they?"

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Losing the Groceries.

My most embarrassing moment came when I was delivering orders for the grocer next door. I had delivered one load and I was going on the second. The basket had a round bottom and I went down a curb with my wagon. It was too late to grab the basket, it rolled off and its contents spilled all over the street.

You may be sure I have taken better care of other people's groceries since then.

Disparaging.

I seem to have a talent for saying the wrong thing at the right time. Here's one of my numerous blunders.

A few weeks ago at church some friends offered to bring me home in their car. Knowing they always spent some time socially, after the service, I thanked them and said I'd just walk, as I was in a hurry!

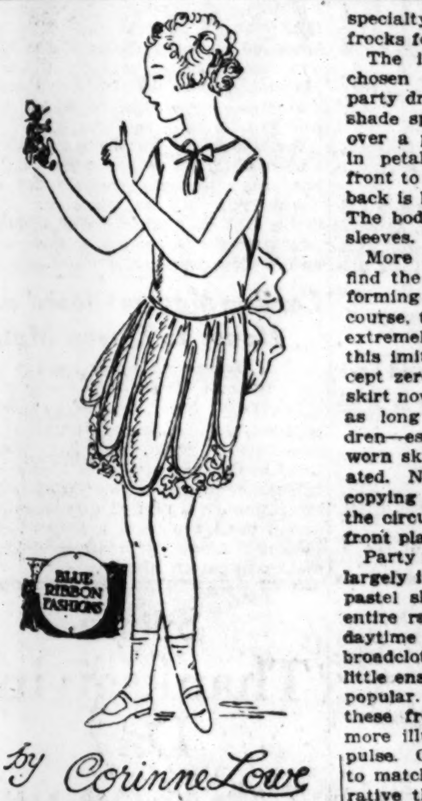
Petal Skirts Invade Juvenile Frocks



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—It doesn't take a wedding to produce a little flower girl nowadays. Any sort of party will do it. The petal formation of the skirt is a mode quite as much favored for little girls as it is for grownups. Indeed, one Paris designer, Suzanne Dubin, has made a specialty of this treatment of formal frocks for children.

The innocent sketched today has chosen this charming style for her party dress of taffeta. Tea rose is the shade sponsored. The skirt, dropping over a petticoat of silver lace, is cut in petals graduated in length from front to back. A large puff bow in the back is held by a band of tiny flowers. The bodice is plain, and there are no sleeves.

More than ever this season do we find the silhouette for little girls conforming to that of their mammas. Of course, that adult tendency toward an extremely short skirt is not a part of this imitative impulse. For what, except zero, can reduce the length of a skirt now as short as possible. Almost as long as we can remember, children—especially French children—have worn skirt lengths extremely abbreviated. No, the line that youngsters are copying today is the raised waist and the circular and godet treatments and front plaits stressed for mature modes.

Party frocks for juniors are executed largely in dull crepes and georgette of pastel shades and tones covering the entire range of greens and reds. For daytime wear, kashas, velveteens, and broadcloths are used to fashion the little ensembles which have become so popular. In the trimming used on these frocks and coats one sees one more illustration of the initiative impulse. Gilt kid appliques and fur dyed to match the fabric are favorite decorative themes.

Thanks Day Ball.

The entertainment committee of the South Shore Country club announces the annual Thanksgiving day ball at 9 o'clock this evening.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Gaining in Favor.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—There was a time, shortly after the war, when formal dress had fallen into disuse so much that the dinner jacket was about the most ceremonious article of apparel seen hereabouts.

Gradually, the formal tailed coat has gained in favor over the dinner jacket until now the latter is considered almost as informal as the business coat and will not do at all for even semiformal affairs.

So much has there been of this trend towards the formal attire that there is today an informal full dress which with many men now serves to take the place of the dinner coat.

There is no trick to the attire at all. Instead of the white vest, a black cloth vest is worn. The shirt instead of one stud has two. Otherwise the outfit in every way is the full dress.

It is the black vest, those who know have decided, that lends the necessary degree of informality to the outfit.

This innovation will probably be a welcome one to many men who look well in a tailed coat and who like to wear them—tall well built men, whose figures are well set off by the garment.

DR. E. M. STIRES CONSECRATED TO NEW BISHOPRIC

Former Grace Church Pastor Here.

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Surrounded by thirty-five prelates from every Episcopal diocese in the United States, the Rev. Dr. Ernest Milmore Stires was consecrated with impressive ceremony today as bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Long Island in St. Thomas' church, of which he has been rector since 1901. He formerly was pastor of Grace church, Chicago.

The ceremony, attended by the clergy and lay members of the churches in and about New York was a Low church consecration service which filled St. Thomas' with one of its largest congregations.

"Broaden Church."

Bishop Brent, of the West New York diocese of the Episcopal church, in his consecration sermon called for a "broadening of the church for tolerance and for unity of Christianity."

Urging understanding and coöperation between the churches, Bishop Brent declared "unity of christendom is no longer a beautiful dream, but a pressing necessity. Until the churches unite we will walk lamely and haltingly."

"Soulless Science Menace."

"While it is not primarily the function of the church to interfere in matters of state and similar fields," said Bishop Brent, "science without a soul is a menace, just as the state, industry and society without a soul are a menace."

The consecrators, besides Bishop Talbot, the presiding bishop of the church, were Bishop Murray and Bishop William T. Manning of the New York diocese.

SCHOOL DISPUTE IS GIVEN AIRING BEFORE BOARD

Twenty-five parents of children attending the Murphy school, Central Park avenue and Grace street, who recently called a strike to protest a change in school boundaries, laid their case before a special committee of the board of education yesterday.

Ald. C. A. Jensen [40th] acted as spokesman for the parents. Small children were shifted from the Murphy school to the Henry school, St. Louis and Cullom avenues, he said, causing them to cross dangerous intersections on Irving Park boulevard. The distance was too great for the children to get home to lunch, he added.

John A. English, chairman of the committee, promised to present the case to Miss Elizabeth W. Murphy, division superintendent in charge of the schools affected, and adjust it, if possible.

The trustees include: Lewis E. Meyers, chairman; Jesse Binga, Britton I. Budd, Joseph D. Bibb, Melvin J. Chisum, Oscar DePriest, Ernest Graham, Samuell Insull, Robert Klees, Daniel J. Schuyler, and Edward H. Wright.

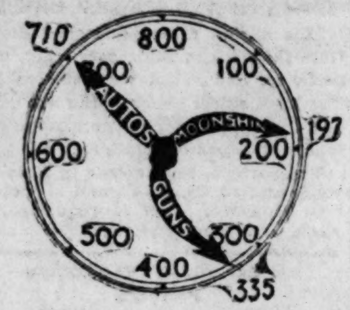
HANDS OF DEATH



The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the three hundred and twenty-eighth day of 1925.

DISMISS OBSCENE PICTURE CHARGE AGAINST KROCH

Nudity in art is one thing and the point of view toward it quite another, said Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court yesterday in discharging Adolphe Kroch, book seller, 22 North Michigan avenue, arraigned on a charge of selling obscene pictures.

The paintings involved were thirteen picture postcard reproductions of as many famous paintings exhibited in leading European art galleries. Mrs. William Harrison Cade, law enforcement chairman of the women's clubs, chanced to see a man on a street car exhibiting the cards to a friend and noted Kroch's name on the envelope. She promptly swore out a warrant and Policewoman Mollie Oliver served it.

Attorneys Seymour Stedman and Philip Davis, representing Kroch, introduced testimony from Ralph Clarkson, the portrait painter; Robert B. Harshe, director of the Art institute, and Miss Jessie Binford of the Juvenile Protective association.

Mr. Clarkson said no man could be a more bitter foe of obscenity than him, but could find no grounds for complaint against the pictures. Judge Olson said he might as well order the Art institute closed as to place a ban on the pictures under dispute.

COUNTY'S AUTO TOLL IS RAISED TO 710; TWO DIE

Driver Loses Control of Car; Hits Pole.

Two deaths due to automobile injuries yesterday raised the motor death toll for the year in Cook county to 710.

David Jaffe, 53 years old, 4653 West Jackson boulevard, died in the Norwegian American hospital of injuries he suffered Nov. 17 when he was struck by an automobile driven by Jack Drocker, 1135 North Mozart street. The accident occurred at Division street and North California avenue.

William Davis, 40 years old, 1843 West Cullerton street, died at the county hospital from injuries suffered when he walked in front of an automobile on Nov. 21 near his home. The car was driven by R. Marden, 3629 South Hermitage avenue. Davis suffered internal injuries and a broken collar bone. Marden was not held.

Seized with an epileptic fit, Walter Smith, colored, 3636 Rhodes avenue, chauffeur for Samuel Adelman, 800 Buena avenue, lost control of the automobile he was driving in Lincoln park and crashed into a cement electric light pole on Lake Shore drive opposite Roslyn place. The pole was demolished. The other occupants of the car, Mrs. Samuel Adelman, Mrs. Harry Cohn, 2125 Ridge avenue, and Mrs. Louis I. Hirsch, 702 Margate terrace, received only minor injuries.

W. T. Brown, Official of Railroad Telegraphers, Dies

ORGANIZER OF NEW UNION IS TWICE WOUNDED

Ernest Delmar, 5630 South Throop street, was shot in the leg and foot last night by two men who crashed into a meeting he had called at 4512 South Marshfield avenue to organize a new union of butchers' helpers.

The pair and eight or ten of Delmar's friends fled after the shooting. According to the police, Delmar was attempting to draw his members from older unions and the shots were intended as warning for him to cease proselyting. The wounded man was taken to the German Deaconess hospital.

A protest against the alleged high handed methods of another labor group, local No. 14,872 of the Sign and Bulletin Board Workers' union, was taken to Capt. John Stege of the detective bureau by a delegation from the Chicago Tent and Awning Manufacturers' association.

They asserted that the union men had been terrorizing them and breaking their windows, requiring that guards be placed over each factory. They offered a reward of $500 for the arrest or conviction of any person damaging members' property.

RUSSIANS SCORE CHALIAPIN; 'SOLD SOUL TO MAMMON'

MOSCOW, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Moscow theatrical circles express some resentment over the long absence from Russia of Feodor Chaliapin, famous Russian operatic basso. Many attempts were made by the theatrical authorities, but without effect, to persuade him to return to Moscow this season.

The soviet press accuses the singer of having "sold his soul to Mammon." A member of the Moscow Theatrical guild, who interviewed Chaliapin in Paris before his departure for the Metropolitan season in New York, quotes him as saying:

"I have concert engagements in America and Australia for several years, and am obliged to carry them out. I left Russia without a cent and found it necessary therefore to sell my soul to the devil. Yes, I sold it, and it is not my fault. As soon as I fulfill these contracts I hope to be able to accept your invitation to come to Moscow and Leningrad."

The park is already equipped with tennis courts, athletic fields, and a swimming pool, improvements costing the board $278,000. The original cost of the park land was $136,000.

JAMES SHEEHAN, PIONEER PACKER, IS DEAD AT 79

For 55 years he was in the packing business, being a pioneer at the Union stock yards when the late P. D. Armour, George F. Swift, Nelson Morris, and others were conducting small plants there.

Before the present stock yards were established, Sheehan ran a sheep killing plant on Polk street, which then was a center for the wholesale meat trade. Sheehan retired from the packing business about five years ago.

Who that has ever seen it standing out of the night in its dazzling whiteness can forget the Wrigley Building framed in the massive aisle of Michigan Boulevard?

To maintain one standard of accuracy for each of the many million parts that go to make the nation's telephones—that is the day-to-day practice at the Western Electric Hawthorne Works.

Elmer Reveals His Views on Japan's Music

And Lauds Other Good Radio Programs.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

This typewriter does not write Japanese and I believe we have no Japanese type in our linotypes, so in plain English we must deal with a very interesting and unusual program presented at WEBH, 7, in behalf of the American Red Cross drive.

Teijoro Tamura, Japanese consul, expressed Japan's appreciation of the work of the American Red Cross during the last earthquake.

Tamaka Miura, soprano and grand opera's own petite "Madam Butterfly," followed with three folk songs: "Expecting Sweetheart in Vain," "Don't Tie Tony on the Cherry Blossoms," and a geisha song. The first two were so short they were over almost before they were begun, and the geisha song lasted 43 seconds exactly. I wonder if brevity is Japan's middle name.

The Illinois College of Music program, W-G-N, 8 to 9, was a good one by whatever angle of approach. It was good music, well arranged and well presented, whether done by the ensemble, male quartet, women's vocal trio, or, and, nowhere near least, Almada Jones, violinist. In a few words of assumed Japanese brevity, this was a very enjoyable concert.

Merit again compels us to give a hand to Mrs. Amanda Burhop, pianist, WMAQ, 8:20. The program called for many grades of pianistic skill, from sustained tone melody, staccato, rapid runs, to technical études and bravura playing, and the artist was more than equal to the requirements.

The Uptown theater program, WEBH, 9, was consistently high class from start to finish.

By the Uptown theater string quartet the Chicago radio audience was presented for the first time with chamber music by a string quartet—first and second violins, viola, and cello. The tones were full, rich, etherial.

Ruth Racette, soprano, also at the Uptown theater, offered something unusual. Her voice is so highly pitched that it sounded an octave higher than actually sung, yet of timbre strangely fine and soft and clear and fascinating.

At 9:44 a switch was made to the orchestra pit . . . orchestra tuning up . . . Americanized Chinese effects . . . a gong beating time at about 40 quarter note metronome marking—solution: piano striking the "A" note for the instruments to be attuned to.

Orchestra in tune at 9:47, and closing this hour and this review to the quaint and plaintive and colorful tunes of the "Martha" overture with its interpolated "The Last Rose of Summer." Summer's roses, like music's musings, die and fade and cease to be.

STATE MAY O. K. HIGHER RATE OF SUBURBAN FARES

With the Illinois commerce commission meeting this week in Chicago, it was said yesterday there is in preparation an order which will grant permission to railroads in the Chicago terminal district to raise suburban commutation fares.

It was pointed out that the order must be signed not later than Dec. 9 in order to be issued before Dec. 15, the date the proposed fare increase schedule would become effective through default. The railroads have asked for permission to raise the suburban rates 20 per cent.

Suitor Whose Shot Killed Husband Held for Murder

Robert F. Murphy, who shot and fatally wounded William H. Bigelow, 1425 East 66th place, was held to the grand jury for murder at the inquest yesterday on Bigelow's death. Mrs. Bigelow, 45 year old widow of the slain man, testified to telling her husband of attentions she said Murphy had paid her. She said that Bigelow then went to warn Murphy to stay away from her. Murphy maintained that he shot in self-defense.

BANKERS CONFER ON CREDITS FOR IOWA FARMERS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—On the invitation of Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, Chicago bankers and others interested in the agricultural situation in the middle west were in conference today with government officials. After meeting with Secretary Jardine they visited officials of the treasury and the federal reserve board and also called on President Coolidge.

The Iowa situation caused by the drop in the price of corn and the need of additional credit facilities was the chief matter under discussion. The bankers were sounded out on the feasibility of promoting the formation of agricultural credit corporations which may rediscount farm paper with the federal intermediate credit banks.

No definite conclusions were reached today. It was indicated that a further conference will take place in Chicago next week. There seemed to be a feeling that government officials may be unduly concerned over the situation and that it may work out satisfactorily without any special financing arrangements.

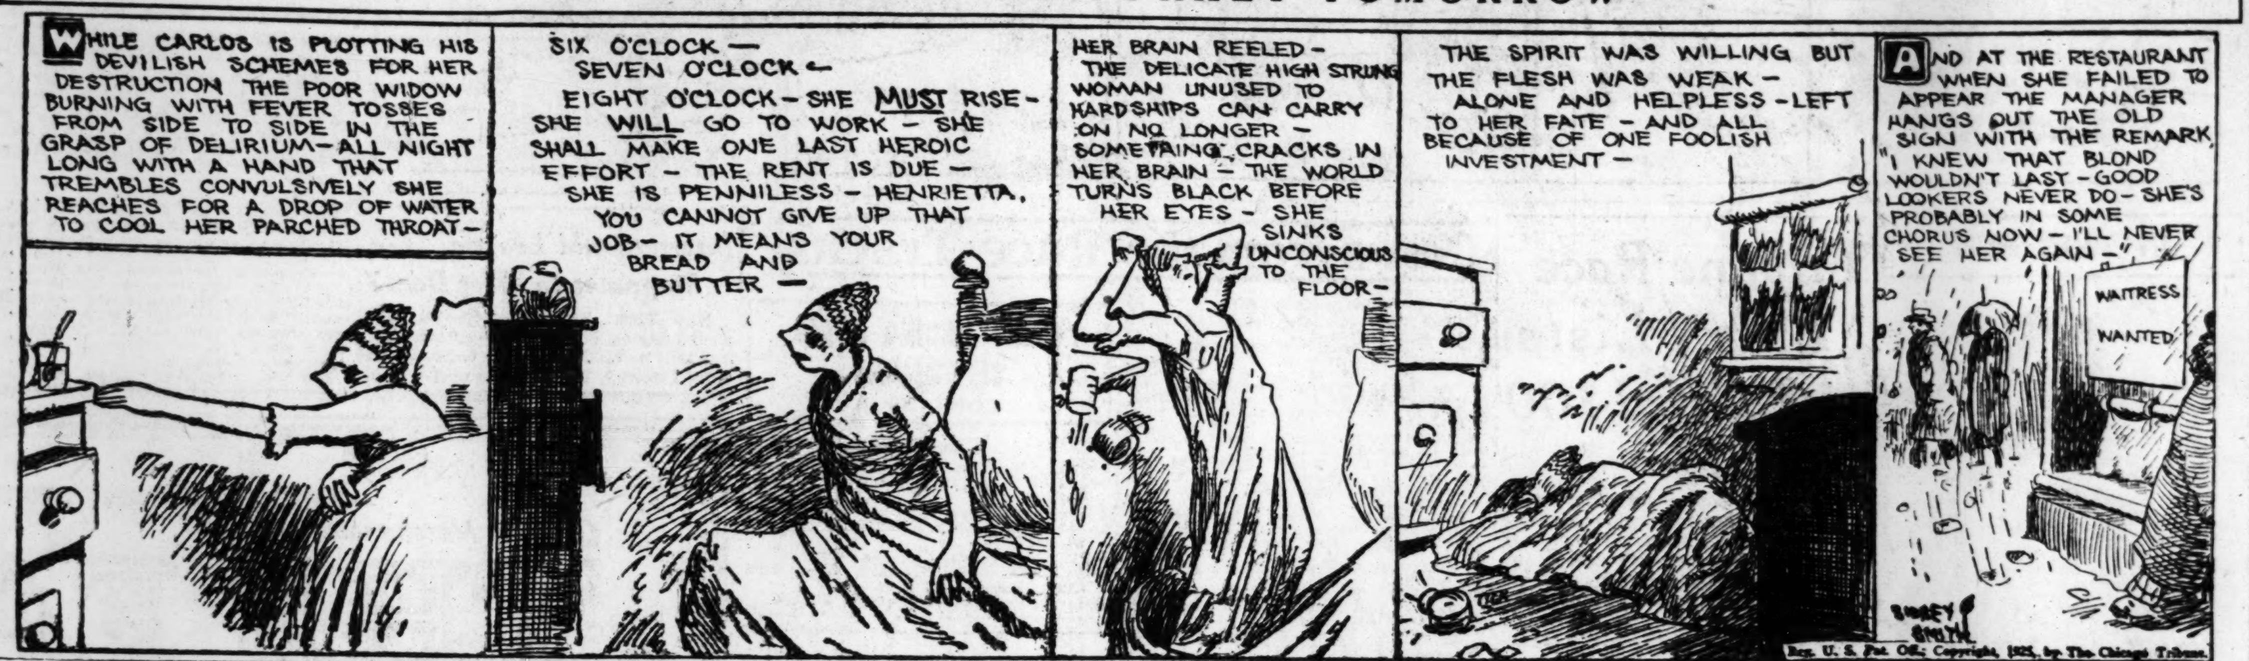
BEARS AND CARDINALS DRILL IN SECRET

THE GUMPS—NO TURKEY TOMORROW



While Carlos is plotting his devilish schemes for her destruction the poor widow burning with fever tosses from side to side in the grasp of delirium—all night long with a hand that trembles convulsively she reaches for a drop of water to cool her parched throat—
Six o'clock—
Seven o'clock—
Eight o'clock—she MUST rise—she WILL go to work—she shall make one last heroic effort—the rent is due—she is penniless—Henrietta, you cannot give up that job—it means your bread and butter—
Her brain reeled—the delicate high strung woman unused to hardships can carry on no longer—something cracks in her brain—the world turns black before her eyes—she sinks unconscious to the floor—
The spirit was willing but the flesh was weak—alone and helpless—left to her fate—and all because of one foolish investment—
And at the restaurant when she failed to appear the manager hangs out the old sign with the remark "I knew that blond wouldn't last—good lookers never do—she's probably in some chorus now—I'll never see her again—"

EUROPE SENDS EQUINE CHAMPS TO HORSE SHOW

Belgium and French Teams Coming.

OTTO LEHMANN.

The flags of three nations, Belgium, France, and the United States, will be unfurled to the strains of the national anthems of these countries when the curtain goes up on the National Horse show at the Chicago Riding club on the evening of Dec. 3.

The great show, the most important of the year in America, assumed an international complexion yesterday when definite word was received that the governments of Belgium and France had consented to send their teams to Chicago to compete against the fashionable United States team stationed at Fort Riley.

The invading teams comprise the finest horses in all Europe. Their entrance in the Chicago show, secured through negotiations carried on by Otto W. Lehmann, brings a competition which in the past only has been found at the Olympic games.

Competition of the official army teams of the three nations is only one of the attractions secured for the horse show here, which are already making it a show of superlatives.

1,500 Horses Coming.

Capt. Maxwell Corpening, manager of the Chicago Riding club, has already announced the cash prize list, totaling $28,500—by far the largest ever offered at a horse show in this country—the 53 silver trophies, some of them valued at more than $1,000; and the entry of 1,500 of the finest pure bloods of the United States and Canada.

While an army of carpenters is building the 160 special boxes from which the social elect of Chicago will watch the show, Capt. Corpening is completing plans for what he calls "the greatest equine spectacle ever staged in this country."

Picture the opening night.

In the great circle of boxes, each box draped with a magnificent Spanish shawl, will be the society leaders of Chicago. The famous diamond horseshoe at the opening night of the opera season never has been more brilliant than will be this grand circle of boxes. Behind the boxes 1,700 folk will be seated in the tier of seats which circle the picturesque tanbark arena. The promenade will be crowded with 2,000 persons.

The amphitheater will be shrouded in semi-darkness. Only the $50,000 organ and the bandstand will be in view.

Plan Colorful Opening.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock spotlights will be thrown upon one end of the inclosure. The lights will reveal the unfurling of the Belgian flag. The band and the organ will play the strains of Belgium's national anthem.

Darkness and quiet. Again the spotlight. This time France's flag will be unfurled. And now the band and organ unite in "The Marseillaise."

Darkness again.

And then as President Coolidge presses a button in Washington the message will be flashed to Chicago and flood lights will illuminate the amphitheater. The band strikes the opening notes of "The Star Spangled Banner," and through the gates prance the finest horses in America. The National Horse show is on.

Surpasses Shows in N. Y.

It is difficult for the layman to realize the magnitude of the coming show. In the number of entries, the cash prizes, the valuable trophies, the show will reach a standard never attained by the famous New York shows in their most vaunted days.

And for years the New York horse shows were the first in the land. They were held in Madison Square Garden and attended by the Four Hundred. The wealth of the nation was represented in the boxes when the show opened. Of late years the brilliance of the New York show has faded. They are still great attractions, but society interest has waned.

Sale of Seats Opens.

Capt. Corpening explained yesterday that all the profit realized from the Chicago show will go to charity. The money will be given to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society.

Sale of the seats for the nine sessions of the show will be opened today. Private subscriptions have completed the sale of the entire list of boxes, and only the reserved seat sections remain to be sold.

The ticket sale will be on at all hotels, at Marshall Field & Co., Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Mandel Brothers, and at the following clubs: University, Saddle and Cycle, Union League, Chicago, Standard, South Shore Country, and Saddle and Sirloin.

TROJANS, N. DAME MAY CLASH IN CHICAGO IN '26

Coast Team Anxious to Play Here.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Denver, Colo., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—The Southern California football eleven, coached by Howard Jones, former teacher of the gridiron game at Iowa, may go east next fall to meet Iowa or Notre Dame.

Coach Rockne is willing to meet the Trojans, providing the schools can agree upon a date. The western conference schedule meeting will be held in Chicago on Dec. 3, 4, and 5, while the Pacific coast conference slatemakers will get together on Dec. 11. If conference games do not interfere with the tentative plans of the Trojans' eastern invasion, Coach Jones may lead his galloping herd eastward next fall.

May Play in Chicago.

Southern California is willing to give Iowa a return game, but seating accommodations at Iowa City are not large enough to make the game a paying proposition. If Notre Dame slates the contest it will be played on Soldiers' field in Chicago.

Coach Jones and other Southern California authorities are in favor of intersectional games. Such struggles have done much to popularize football along the coast. The caliber of game as played in the coast conference is as good as that played in other sections of the country.

The Pacific coast conference, which has undertaken to stage the tournament of roses game in Pasadena on New Year's day, is meeting with numbers of obstacles. Latest reports have it that Washington, the champion, will not engage in the struggle. Invitations sent to Dartmouth, Yale, and Illinois have been declined. If Washington turns down the offer, the next in line will be Stanford, but it is learned the Cardinal does not want the game.

Alabama May Play.

Southern California is eager to play and may be the final selection. Alabama is a possible foe. A southern team has never appeared in the Tournament of Roses games, and a clash between the Trojans and a recognized representative of Dixie appears to be about the best attraction available.

Western conference coaches and athletic directors have gone into the east to witness football struggles tomorrow and Saturday. Some will take in the Cornell-Penn game at Philadelphia, while others will attend the Pittsburgh-Penn State clash on the former's gridiron. All will move over to New York to witness the Army-Navy game on Saturday.

Chicago will be the Mecca for the middle west intercollegiate coaching fraternity next week when the annual conference meeting will be held at the Auditorium hotel. Football charts of the Big Ten will be drawn, while coaches from various parts of the country will be on hand to slate games with conference members. Baseball and track schedules will also be adopted.

Turfman Provides for His String of Horses in Will

Cleveland, O., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Provision for the upkeep of his vast string of horses until their natural deaths and the erection of stones over their graves, were made in the will of the late David Shaw, millionaire horse fancier, who died here Nov. 13. His will was probated today.

"YALE" ASSAULTS "HARVARD'S" LEFT FLANK

Warren Klein, Yale full back, makes gain around right end in annual freshman game at Stagg field yesterday, won by Harvard, 14 to 0. Neither team was able to do much on offense, the passing of Klein and running of Kelly, a teammate, being features. A crowd of more than 6,000 saw the battle.

Old Point System Is Discarded.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—As part of its campaign to eliminate unsatisfactory boxing decisions, the New York state athletic commission today decided to have bouts judged on the basis of the number of rounds won and lost instead of on points.

To put this radical change into effect the commission will transmit special instructions to all metropolitan referees and judges at a meeting next Tuesday.

Fidel LaBarba, California youngster who won the American flyweight title from Frankie Genaro, is being considered as a participant in the Christmas fund benefit show at the new Madison Square Garden Dec. 23. His prospective opponent is Joe Lazarus of Bayonne, N. J., former Cornell athlete and a member of the 1924 Olympic team.

The commission will not permit LaBarba to box more than six rounds in this state, as he is under 21.

25 MICHIGAN FOOTBALL MEN EARN LETTERS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Coach Fielding H. Yost of University of Michigan's football team announced today that twenty-five players had been awarded letters. This is the largest number that has ever received M's.

Thirteen of the M men are sophomores, seven are juniors and only five are seniors, meaning that next fall Coach Yost will have twenty letter men back to form his 1926 eleven.

BUNNELL MADE CAPTAIN OF YALE ELEVEN FOR 1926

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Philip W. Bunnell, Yale's quarter back, this afternoon was unanimously elected captain of the football team for 1926. Bunnell comes from Scranton, Pa., and prepared for Yale college at Mercersburg. He has played two years.

Kearns' Wardrobe, Walker's Crown at Stake Tonight

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Mickey Walker, who succeeded Jack Dempsey as good provider for Jack Kearns, will go to the office for a half hour's work tomorrow night, meeting Sailor Friedman of Chicago in a twelve round bout in Newark, to earn the price of a winter kit of hour-glass overcoats, chowder-bowl derbies and fawn anklets for his expensive dependent.

Mr. Kearns recently noticed that there were only a few shots of heliotrope left in his squire gun and Walker will doubtless provide him a few demijohns of this faint, fair breath, wrung from the tender petals of the bloom at morn.

This will be Walker's first serious application to the official duties of welterweight champion since that evening last summer when he entered the ring as Smiling Mickey, to have the smile knocked down his throat by Dave Shade.

Not Very Serious.

The business is not so very serious, either, inasmuch as Friedman long ago was proposed for membership in the Order of Those Who Can't Lick Mickey Walker. Furthermore they will pursue their rough deliberations in Walker's native state of New Jersey, where a champion can't lose unless he is knocked as stiff as a lord on Coronation day.

There is a strange circumstance about this affair, which makes it advisable to consider the same with restrained enthusiasm. Thus far there has been no intimation that the fight is in the bag, which is a trade phrase, meaning in the bag.

The fact that the fight appears to be on the level, with both men below the welterweight limit of 147 pounds, is not a serious impairment of its drawing powers. However, the fake fight clientele of New York and New Jersey realizes that many peculiar things happen unexpectedly in all ranks and divisions of pugilism in Jersey.

Few Walker Fights.

Walker has been out of the barn three time since last spring and he has come home with more scars and fewer teeth each time. Friedman met him in a no decision fight in the region of Chicago and, after being tumbled into several unconventional postures in the first round, he was surveying Walker for a parking space on the carpet at the end of the tenth.

In his fight with Harry Greb, Walker was almost knocked out in the fourteenth round and some of the clientele who heard the bout by radio say they heard Walker gasp into Greb's ear: "Don't do it, Harry; don't knock me out. It always gives me a headache."

Then Shade came along and made a gory smear of Walker's smile, beating him from rope to rope most of the way, only to wabble in the fifteenth and final round and thereby lose the decision.

IN RING TONIGHT

MICKEY WALKER.

738,555 See Red Play in 3 Years at Illini Stadium

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Red Grange and the Illinois football team played to 738,555 paid admissions during the three years of Red's career at Illinois, which have established a new mark for attendance in this part of the country. In Red's first year more than 185,000 saw him play. He was absent from the Mississippi A. and M. game that year. The following season 182,000 watched him and he sat on the bench when De Pauw and Ohio State were played. In 1925, appearing in every game on the chart, 371,000 witnessed the play of the Orange and Blue.

"HARVARD" WINS IN ANNUAL FROSH GAME AT MIDWAY

"Yale" Loses in 14-0 Battle.

Harvard gave Yale a trimming, 14 to 0, at Stagg field yesterday afternoon, when University of Chicago freshmen formed two teams and played the battle which winds up football activities at the Midway each fall. Both the Crimson touchdowns came as results of long runs after Bulldog passes had been intercepted.

Both elevens tried all sorts of tricks to advance the ball, but fumbles and interceptions were costly. Yale's only dangerous threat came in the third period after Bill Mooney had taken a long pass from Klein. With Kelly and Rice tearing around the ends and off the tackles, the Blue took the ball to Harvard's 10 yard line, where little George Reed, Harvard quarter, intercepted a pass.

On the first play after the second period opened Dunn, Harvard half back, grabbed Klein's pass and raced 40 yards to score. He kicked goal. A few minutes later Spence took the ball when the Yale backs tried a double pass and sped 25 yards to the goal line. A pass, Palsich to Baker, brought the score to 14 to 0. Lineup:

Players and Officials Laud Michigan Record.

Dispute over the claims of Michigan and Northwestern to the Western conference football championship was settled yesterday when Northwestern officials wired President Clarence Cook Little of Michigan congratulating his school on winning the Big Ten title. The telegram follows:

"The undersigned, representing and speaking for the 1925 football team of Northwestern university, its football coach, its athletic director, the chairman of its faculty athletic committee, the administrative officers of the university, and the board of trustees, all join most heartily in extending to the University of Michigan the congratulations of Northwestern university upon the splendid showing made by its 1925 football team.

"We have noted in the Chicago press, and it undoubtedly appears elsewhere, that Northwestern university is being accredited with joint honors with the University of Michigan.

Purple Concedes Title.

"In view of the remarkable showing that has been made by the 1925 football team of the University of Michigan, we believe that the University of Michigan is entitled to sole and undivided honors in the conference, and we wish you to know that Northwestern makes no claim for any share in them, but regards it as a privilege to be even for a few minutes placed in a class with the University of Michigan's team.

[Signed]: "Capt. Tim Lowry, Glenn Thistlethwaite, K. L. Wilson, L. F. Long, Walter Dill Scott, and Robert W. Campbell."

Little's Reply.

"The telegram which you and others have sent me is a splendid example of the spirit of fine sportsmanship and honest statement of opinion which has characterized all the actions of your institution in its contact with the University of Michigan. Honors of the type mentioned in your telegram are always more or less problematical, but no one can do more than share first honors of sportsmanship with your institution and one is fortunate who can claim that right.

[Signed] "C. C. LITTLE."

GUARD ATHLETIC FIELD

Although Northwestern university students, who slugged Mayor Charles H. Bartlett and set fire to a house during a football celebration Monday evening, were quiet last night, the Evanston police continued to guard the wooden stands at the Northwestern football field, fearing that another attempt would be made to burn them.

Chief of Police Wiltberger sent a car on which a machine gun was mounted to the athletic field in the evening. It was later withdrawn, but the guards were left with a tank of gas to be used if the riots broke out afresh.

Order Police to Fire.

The police were also given orders to fire if necessary to protect themselves and property. Mayor Bartlett approved this and asserted that in future the officers had orders to shoot to kill in similar outbreaks.

President Walter Dill Scott of the university and the mayor held a conference during the afternoon. Following this, President Scott said the university would see that all damages were paid and that if the police prosecuted any of the rioters for violations of the law the academic authorities would not interfere.

"That's all I have to say," he declared, "except that we are sorry there was damage and that policemen were ill treated."

The Evanston authorities, however, asserted that if the leaders were found they would be prosecuted to the limit. The threatened renewal of hostilities failed to materialize and last night all the students seemed to have settled back to their studies.

SOUTH SIDERS COUNT ON LINE TO STOP RED

Grange Wears His 77 on Bruins Jersey.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

PADDY DRISCOLL.

When the Cardinals and Bears, the great "Red" Grange among them, stack up in their monumental pro battle tomorrow morning at the Cub park it will be a case of "take your pick."

And the "taking" already has been done to the extent that the north and south precincts of the municipality have split over the merits of the two contenders, who yesterday donned the college night hat by holding secret practice in their respective yards.

The "take your pick" view is the curbstone fan's answer of one good line against another and four fast backs against four others, the presence of the magnetic Grange in the Bear lineup notwithstanding.

No Open Road for "Red."

What's more, the meandering red head who showed the boys his heels on more than one occasion on Big Ten gridirons is not going to get away with any long runs merely for the purpose of supplying the multitude of 45,000 or so with a thrill. If "Red" goes strolling down the field it will be because he earned it and not because the Cardinals obligingly looked the other way and gave him a clear track.

The gents who breathe the campus atmosphere may be inclined to believe the road has been paved for "Red," but in place of paving he'll find a few steam rollers in the persons of Cardinal clad employés.

The Bears have their Grange for a menace but the Cards have an equally dangerous customer in Paddy Driscoll, who was waltzing on Big Ten gridirons even before "Red" hired out on the ice wagon. Paddy, who remembers that he once scored a touchdown that won for Northwestern over Chicago, is still a wild goose on the chalk lines and what's more has a toe that is dangerous anywhere inside the forty yard mark.

Dunn May Start at Quarter.

There is some doubt as to how the Card back field will be made up at the start, but Dunn probably will be able to return to quarter with Koehler at full and Erickson and Driscoll at the halves. Dunn is the Joe Sternaman of the south side when it comes to worming about the premises and when he gets through work the Cards can shoot in Frank Mahoney, the Creighton offspring, who has been performing so sensationally that not a few folks suspected him of being Elmer Layden, one of the former Notre Dame horsemen. But Layden is not a Card.

The starting back field for the Bears probably will be Joe Sternaman at quarter, Grange at left half and Walquist and Mohardt in the two other berths. Neither Walquist nor Mohardt specialize at full, but that combination may be worked until some tight defensive play requires the services of Larry Knop. What really makes the Bears formidable is that the Cards will be primed to watch Grange, thus making it easier for one of the other backs, all dangerous at the ends or off the tackles, to get away.

"Red" at Home with Illini.

Grange will feel perfectly at home in his new rôle because at least five former Illini notables will be battling with him. Joe Sternaman, who would have constructed a name for himself if he hadn't been declared ineligible after one year of varsity competition for the Orange and Blue, is the lad who in 1921 heaved a pass to Larry Walquist and beat Ohio State out of an undisputed claim to the conference title. Mullen and Halas, both ends, and Jim McMillen, one of the best linesmen ever developed at Urbana, also wear the Bear togs.

In the matter of a line the Bears may have a slight edge because of weight, but the real story will not come through the lines but through the air or around the ends. And the Cardinals are not worried much about one end with Anderson guarding it. The other is a problem, however, because Swanson, the former Lombard satellite, is not yet eligible owing to difficulties with officials of the National Pro league.

Cards Speed Up.

In the excitement over the appearance of Grange and the consequent clamor for tickets, the fact that the Cardinals are going to be half of the game has almost been lost sight of. But the Cards, unmindful of the oversight, were drilling on the turf of Comiskey park yesterday with the idea of perfecting an attack and a defense that will stop the phenomenal red head and his newly found companions.

The south side contingent backing the Cards has such faith in Paddy Driscoll & Co. that even money is being offered on the result. Part of the Card confidence is born of the fact that the south side eleven whipped the Bears, 9 to 0, early in the season. The passing combination of Dunn to Driscoll also is helping to make the Cards' backers forget that Red Grange is in the habit of running wild to the extent of eighty yards, more or less.

When the Bears appeared on the field for practice yesterday, Grange was bedecked in a new yellow sweater, on the back of which was plastered a conspicuous "77," a number that for three years was bad news to many conference teams, not to mention Penn. Grange took things easy during the drill, his chief concern being the ab-

TICKETS—NO TICKETS

The merry-go-round for the elusive pasteboards goes on in full blast in the city. Yesterday morning fans again swarmed on the A. G. Spalding store in South State street and the 1,500 tickets left from the previous day disappeared in less than an hour. The disappointed ones refused to disperse, however, and it was necessary to call mounted cops to break the congestion.

Meanwhile a similar scene was being enacted at the park. In forty-five minutes four ticket sellers had unloaded the thousand or more grandstand seats that were available. Then a large flock of cops managed to bring about order until another storm broke at 1 o'clock, when 3,500 bleacher seats were offered. Sledwalk scalpers did a rushing business while this was going on. The cops were too busy to interfere with the cost plus traffic in tickets.

Another board of trade scene is assured for this morning, when more than a few thousand standing room seats will be placed on sale at the Cub park booths. None will be procurable down town. This sale will open at 9 o'clock, and continued until there's nothing left, so if you don't hold a ducat by nightfall you're out of luck for you won't have Red Grange and Turkey on the same day. Tickets for the Sunday battle also will be on sale today, both at the park and at Spalding's.

Complaint Soon Dies.

The standing room tickets would have been sold yesterday if the officials of the Cubs, who are handling the sale, hadn't been mildly threatened. Ald. Arvey broke out with a blast that one scalper had a block of 1,500 seats and another 500. If one scalper had even one hundred in a block he printed them himself because no large blocks were sold to individuals.

The alderman carried his complaint to Mayor Dever on the theory that the Chicago Bears had no license to operate. The mayor promptly called in Thomas P. Kearns, city collector, who said that no permit or license was needed for the game, inasmuch as the Cub park has a yearly amusement license. That ended that. Meanwhile scalpers have a limited quantity of tickets, just as they have for every other big sporting event and theatrical attractions.

HOLTZMAN AND MILLER TO BOX AT EAST CHICAGO

Two featherweight boxers of the first water will top the East Chicago Athletic club's program Monday night. Ray Miller, a Chicago performer, will meet Al Holtzman of Trenton, N. J., who lived in Elgin before he went east and gathered a reputation.

Connie Curry, Sioux City flash, will meet a tough customer in another of the night's attractions when he battles Ray Rychell, a product of the stockyards. Rychell has become a favorite since his showings against Tiger Jack Burns and Archie Bell. These boys will go ten rounds and weigh 120 pounds.

Eddie Raynor and Steve Adams will battle ten rounds for the lightweight title of South Chicago. Jim Savage and Bill Hart of St. Paul will provide four rounds of entertainment, while Mickey Kelly and Marty Walsh will clash in a six rounder. Al Fields and Al Greenfield and Patsy Boyle and Tommy O'Neil also are on the program.

Ten bouts will constitute the card of amateur pugilism which will be staged at Jim Mullen's loop gymnasium tonight. Final selections of boys to represent the club against Notre Dame will be made after tonight's matches. The first bout will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Winners of bouts in the card of ten amateur boxing matches, which will be staged at the regular Wednesday night program of the Swedish-American Athletic club tonight, will form a team to represent the club against other local organizations in the inter city next month. The first bout tonight starts at 8:30 o'clock.

KOMAR THROWN BY STEINKE AND FORCED TO QUIT

Hans Steinke, the massive German, pinned Joe Komar, Lithuanian grappler, in 53:20 to win the windup bout of the mat show at the Coliseum last night. The match was to go two out of three falls, but in winning the first fall Steinke threw Komar with a crotch hold and so injured the Lithuanian that he was unable to continue. After being pinned Komar lay on the mast unconscious for 15 minutes.

The semi-windup between Whladel Zbyszko and Frank Judson was the best bout of the evening, the two grapplers going 55 minutes to a draw, the bout being stopped at 10 o'clock to allow the wind-up to go on. Raeselle Grenna pinned Tony Hatches in 7:15 with a body lock, and John Freberg downed Big Bill Beth in 3:22 with a headlock in the preliminary matches. About 2,000 fans turned out.

Among the teams that have entered the contest are the runners of the Illinois Athletic club, the Finnish A. A., and the Danish American A. C.

Brings Anti-Aircraft Gun Into Action.

BY BOB BECKER.

Lower Illinois River, Nov. 24.—[Special.]—One needs an anti-aircraft gun for some of the cloud bustin' mallards that are now eating Illinois corn. Occasionally you'll run into a bird that apparently thinks he is a scout plane or a bomber and the way he'll climb and smash into the clouds is a caution.

This afternoon Bill, the guide, drew one of these mallards that like the higher altitudes. In a little flurry of shooting in which Harve, Cliff and the rest of us engaged, one bird was dropped in the cornfield way to the left of the blind. Bill, the guide, hustled over to pick it up. Suddenly a single was spotted coming straight toward our pen. Everybody dropped down to do a fadeway act which might fool the mallard into thinking no one was around.

The bird circled several times, each swing bringing him lower and lower. Looking toward Bill, who was crouched like a Roman gladiator, and not moving a muscle, we suddenly saw some activity as he rose up, took aim as the mallard swung over his head, and then—wham! spoke his 12 gauge.

The mallard must have bounded upwards for forty feet. From where we were watching the bird looked way out of range. Bang! went Bill's gun again, and we let out a yell when we saw that the bird was touched up. It hovered way up in the air, its head in a cloud, a seemingly impossible shot. Bang! Once more Bill's gun distributed some number sixes, and down came the bird, its cloud exploring days over.

Indiana to Keep Old Oaken Bucket Until 1926 Game

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The "old oaken bucket" presented by Indiana and Purdue alumni this season as a victor's trophy in the annual football contest, will repose for the next year in Indiana's trophy chest, despite the fact that the Crimson and the Boilermakers played to a scoreless tie in the first clash for the bucket.

Since last Saturday's tie game the bucket had been Indiana's most prominent orphan. Nobody knew who would care for it until one team won the right to display it. A decision was reached to leave the pail here until the 1926 game.

Lindblom High Invades East for Grid Tilt

Led by Coach E. L. Moore, the champion Lindblom high school football team will leave for Baltimore, Md., this afternoon at 1 o'clock to battle City college preps Saturday. The squad of 33 men will be accompanied by Principal Keeler, two assistant coaches and student managers, which will make a party of forty. The team will be given a rousing send off by Lindblom students this morning. A special assembly will be held at 11 o'clock, and the championship shield formally presented.

Englewood to Go East.

The City college eleven, while it will be a formidable opponent, is not the strongest team in the Baltimore section of the country. The eastern boys have lost two games. Englewood high, which gave Lindblom a fight for the championship, will also go east for a game and, from all indications, it has booked a stronger foe. Chuck Palmer will take his gridders to Lock Haven, Pa., to play the high school there Dec. 5. Lock Haven claims the Pennsylvania state title.

Hard Battles Tomorrow.

High school fans will not be without their turkey day games. Many good battles have been arranged tomorrow, particularly the Deerfield-Evanston clash at Evanston. They are two of the best elevens in the Suburban league. Other contests carded tomorrow are St. Patrick vs. St. Mel; St. Philip vs. St. Rita; Morgan Park vs. Alumni; Senn vs. Alumni; Pullman Tech vs. Fenger.

De La Salle, one of the teams tied for the Catholic league title, will tackle a formidable aggregation Saturday at Normal Park, meeting the strong McBride preps of Missouri.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

"Player of Greatest Value."

DEAR WAKE: "Fighting Tim" Lowry of Northwestern has first claim to THE TRIBUNE trophy for "player of greatest value to his team."

Lowry was an outstanding figure on defense in all Purple games and was down the field with his ends on kicks. It was his judgment which made possible Northwestern's victory over Michigan. And it was Lowry who broke through in the Notre Dame game to recover a fumble and score the Purple's only touchdown against the Irish. Think of a center making a touchdown!

In addition, his fine qualities of leadership, inspiring his men at all times, give "Fighting Tim" a permanent place in Northwestern hall of fame.

Purple.

Dear Harve: Capt. Brown of Michigan has all the requisites for your trophy winner: Leadership, sportsmanship, self-sacrifice, besides being an outstanding player, both defensively and offensively.

While press reports are high in praise of Friedman and Molenda [and rightfully], methinks the greatest credit for Michigan's victory over Illinois, 3 to 0, is due Capt. Brown. With the field a veritable pool of mud and water, not once did the Michigan snapper-back make a faulty pass, and it was Brown time and again who nailed Grange and the rest of the Illini back field before they could get under way.

Conrey.

Dear Wake: Leo Harmon of Wisconsin is not the greatest player in the conference, but in value to his team there is none greater. He is a triple threat man and can punt, pass, and run with the best of them.

In the Minnesota game it was Harmon's passing that enabled the Badgers to come from behind and tie the score after the Cardinals at the end of the half appeared hopelessly beaten. It was Harmon who saved the day at Iowa City. Standing behind his own goal line, he four times punted an ice covered ball out of danger directly in the face of one of the worst blizzards that ever harassed a football team.

It Can Be Done.

When you have a task before you,
Just because it isn't fun,
Don't you think it can't be done.

And you sure can't make it light
Just by sitting down and dreaming,
Just by watching others fight.

Show your spirit! Fly your colors!
Work and fight until you've won;
Then you'll find it was quite easy;
Then you'll say, "It can be done!"

Wise Cracking.

Why all this talk about the swan song of noted football players? Did you ever hear a swan sing?

Iowa's Defeat.

Iowa's defeat by Southern California was not unexpected in the middle west. In fact, the Hawkeyes performed creditably to hold the Trojans, 18 to 0.

Starting brilliantly with wins over Illinois and Ohio State, Iowa's strength ebbed with injuries and defeats by Wisconsin and Minnesota. It was not in condition for a hard game Saturday.

Teams taking the long trip to the Pacific coast should be 25 per cent stronger than their opponents to have equal chance of victory. Possibly that figure is too conservative if the game is played at the Christmas holidays. Nor is this said in disparagement of far western football, which is of high grade, capable of meeting the best in the east, south, or middle west.

Dear Harve: Let me call attention to the impressive record of Lake Forest academy, which ended an unbeaten season by downing St. John's M. A., 20 to 0. Lake Forest defeated Marquette, Notre Dame, and Princeton freshmen. It has lost only three prep games in six years. It has sent to colleges Straight of Dartmouth, Kopf of W. and J., Pearce and Frump of Ohio Wesleyan, Pagenkopf of Princeton, and Kidd of Illinois.

RUTH, MAYS SALE COSTS RED SOX $27,575 IN TAX

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The baseball deal by which Babe Ruth and Carl Mays were sold by the Boston Red Sox several years ago to the New York Yankees had an echo today in a decision of the board of tax appeals, which held that the Boston club must pay an additional $27,575.09 income tax on profits on the sale.

The $140,000 paid for the two players fell due over a three year period, and the Boston club contended that the profit should be taxed in installments over the three years, thus reducing the net rate of tax levied. The tax board held otherwise, upholding the internal revenue bureau.

N. Dame Off for Nebraska; Flanagan Out

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Notre Dame today started its last trip of the football season. Tired from a heavy schedule and long travel earlier in the campaign, Rockne and his squad left this afternoon for Lincoln, Neb., to battle the fresh Nebraska team Thanksgiving. Notre Dame's claim to the western championship is at stake.

Flanagan, sensational half back, will not be in the game. Enright, full back, reported today and may get in if necessary, but Rockne is planning on using Wynne at full back and Roach for Flanagan in the first string lineup. Notre Dame spirit, both on the team and among the students, is at a high pitch.

CHANCE TO EVEN SERIES

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Knute Rockne early this fall predicted that his Notre Dame football team for 1925 would lose at least two games this season. To date Notre Dame has lost but one game, that to the Army. Only one more game remains on the Notre Dame schedule, Nebraska being the opponent. Will Rockne's prediction be true?

Only two days remain before the question is settled. Thursday Notre Dame and Nebraska will clash before 45,000 fans in their eleventh successive battle. Four times in the last ten years the Cornhuskers have won; five times Notre Dame has won; once no one won, a scoreless tie being the result. Football fans in all parts of the United States now are wondering whether Nebraska will even the score of games or Notre Dame will assume a two game lead.

MISSOURI CHUCK HOLES GIVE TRIB TOURISTS BATTLE

Expedition Reaches Cairo After Rough Ride.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 24.—[Special.]—Many a stormy mile remains on the Missouri end of Chicago's new gulf coast highway. Trial promoters for the Florida midwest route may promote, and a crack Missouri highway commission may lay down new concrete at the rate of 1,000 miles a year but the southeastern tip end of the state between the Mississippi and the long St. Francis waters is still Missouri in its pristine condition and a place of painful memories for the motorists.

THE TRIBUNE expedition homeward bound crossed the long railroad bridge from Memphis early and rumbled over the long wooden causeway spanning the old river bottoms to enter Arkansas with misgivings. Strangely enough, the state made famous by the "slow train" and funny songs offered fifty miles of the best 18 foot pavements encountered from the Gulf to the Illinois line. The road strikes north across the bottoms and through almost solid fields of cotton to Blytheville.

West Out of Blytheville.

It is possible in good weather to drive the direct route from Blytheville north through Hayti, New Madrid and Sikeston, taking the detours as they come, but local authorities strongly advise against it. We were routed almost twenty miles west from Blytheville and then north through Senath, Kennett and Malden to Dexter, there turning east straight into Birdespoint and the ferry to Cairo.

Down in Arkansas and in Missouri too they have just been weaned of the bad habit of building stone roads and letting them alone until they are lost to sight under chuck holes. Those briefly are the type of roads to be found all along the detour.

Missouri-Arkansas Best Route.

The Birdespoint ferry carries traffic from Cairo down the Ohio and up the Mississippi to the road at two hour intervals. Another ferry line plies between Cairo and Wickliffe on the Kentucky side. At present the Chicago driver making for the Gulf coast will find the Missouri-Arkansas route south of Cairo the best bet, despite the famous detour.

Lane and Tilden Booters to Play for Title Friday

The Lane and Tilden Tech soccer teams will make another attempt to decide the championship of the City Public High school league Friday afternoon at De Paul field. Last week they battled to a scoreless tie, with neither team showing any marked superiority.

This truly unique blend cannot be copied—or even imitated

The taste you find here you can't find elsewhere

THERE are forty-odd steps in the making of the Chesterfield blend; change any one and you change the taste—it is no longer Chesterfield.

More complicated than the average, to be sure; it is no job at all to produce a standardized cigarette of the average sort—and if good tobaccos are used, the result will be reasonably pleasing, too.

It is when you depart from the commonplace that difficulties enter—particularly when, as in Chesterfield, it is required that the full tobacco character be retained. For it is not enough then to use standard methods, nor even to average up crops from year to year to maintain tobacco uniformity. That spicy, rich mildness and that satisfying fullness which distinguish Chesterfield are secured by the most exacting balancing of one tobacco against another, to tone down heaviness or over-richness, and to bring out in fullest measure those subtle "overtones" which set it apart so definitely from all other cigarettes.

The natural methods by which this "balance" is achieved are unique—as distinctive in their field as is the technique or phrasing of a master pianist in his, and equally the result of long practice and thorough knowledge. And when we say that the Chesterfield blend cannot be copied, we mean it literally—not because it is patented or legally protected, nor even because it is a secret closely held, but because without detailed knowledge of every step, the rare delicacy of the tobaccos themselves is inevitably lost.

No—there is only one cigarette that combines so fully the aroma of Turkish and the "body" of Domestic tobaccos; there is only one blend of which men say, "They're mild—and yet they satisfy!" For men who want natural tobacco taste at its smooth and mellow best, there is only one cigarette—and that cigarette is Chesterfield.

BULLISH REPORTS FROM ARGENTINA ADVANCE WHEAT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Sensationally bullish crop reports from Argentina, with black rust, rain, and hot winds damaging the wheat in various sections of that country, was reflected in a violent upturn in the world's markets. Liverpool closed 3¾@5¼d higher; Buenos Aires opened 5½@5¾c higher and closed at a net gain of 4⅛@5c. There was a wild scramble to buy wheat here at the opening, a majority of the local element having been short overnight, and opening prices were 3c to 5c higher. Immense profit taking made a sharp reaction from the top, but on the declines there was an excellent class of buying, and the close was at net gains of 3⅛@5⅝c, with July leading. Winnipeg gained 6⅝@6¾c.

Development of a good export demand for corn, with buying of December by cash houses, closed that grain 1⅜@1⅞c higher. Oats were unchanged to ¼c higher and rye 2⅞@3c higher.

Lower Argentine Estimates.

Cables on the Argentine wheat crop were the most bullish of the season, with several suggesting an exportable surplus of 128,000,000 bu or about in line with the Murray & Bryant figures. The rust has apparently spread to the central zone and the outcome in that important producing section is in doubt. Rains and warm weather were favorable for the development of the rust and foreigners showed extreme excitement, with export sales of 3,000,000 bu or more in all positions, largely Manitobas, but including some durum. The continent was a free buyer, whereas recently the bulk of the business was with the United Kingdom.

Cash Houses Buy Corn.

Removal of hedges against export sales of corn, which were estimated at 600,000 to 1,000,000 bu by the seaboard, the largest business in many months, combined with the strength in wheat, frightened shorts. With aggressive buying prices moved up readily, with the finish within a fraction of the top. Cash basis here was 1@3c lower as compared with December, buyers refusing to follow the upturn in the future.

Strength in hogs and corn caused shorts in lard, especially in the January delivery, to become nervous. Cash houses and shorts bought freely and prices moved up readily and closed at net gains of 22½@32½c. There was some selling of May, attributed to foreign account. Ribs and bellies were unchanged. SOUTH SELLS COTTON; PRICES HOLD WELL

The south was a free seller of cotton against purchases in the country, while speculators bought on the belief that the crop has been overestimated and that present prices discount all bearishness.

It is estimated there will have to be 600,000 bales more cotton ginned the remainder of this season to bring the actual crop up to the estimates of the government. This theory is the basis for buying that has rallied prices the last two days.

Liverpool was 1@3 points lower at the close. In New York values advanced for a time, but closed only 7@17 points higher. New Orleans finished 10 points higher to 25 points lower, and Chicago 21 points lower on December to 2[illegible] points higher on distant deliveries. Deliveries of 2,500 bales were made in Chicago, and in New York 257 notices were sent out on December contracts.

Spot cotton closed 5 points higher, with New York 21.5[illegible]c and New Orleans 20.40c. Prices in leading markets follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat in all positions yesterday were conservatively estimated at 3,000,000 bushels, including some durum, but largely Manitobas. The demand was largely for November and early December shipment, and ocean freights were firmer as the result of the liberal business. Corn sales were 600,000 to 1,000,000 bushels with 100,000 bushels barley.

Chicago handlers sold 8,000 bushels wheat, 153,000 bushels corn, 51,000 bushels oats and 6,000 bushels barley to the domestic trade. There was 15,000 bushels wheat sold from Minneapolis to Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Demand for cash wheat in the southwest was only fair with the Kansas City basis unchanged while St. Louis was 1c lower. Omaha No. 2 hard sold at Chicago December price or the same as Monday. No. 1 hard here brought 5c over December. Minneapolis basis was unchanged to 1c lower with shipping sales of 85,000 bushels.

Offerings of cash corn were heavier and while demand was fairly active buyers refused to follow the advance in futures and the basis was 1@3c lower with No. 3 grades 1@3½c over December; No. 4 grades, 1½@4½c under; No. 5 grades, 6@8c under and No. 6 grades, 7@13c under the future. Old No. 2 yellow sold at 8¾@9c over December. Outside markets were unchanged to 1½c higher.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Wheat traders who were bearish and short have for the most part covered and many have gone long on the advance of 20c of late, and those who were bullish a few weeks ago have largely taken profits. This is said to have weakened the technical position. For the present values are being influenced largely by the weather and crop reports from the Argentine.

It was said at the close that should Liverpool wheat prices show materially higher today they may offset the effect of the [illegible]tter w[illegible]r in Argentina and make an unsettled [illegible]market. The trade is at sea for the present.

It was said that seaboard exporters who have been long wheat offered their wheat abroad over night at relatively low prices and had large acceptances which increased the export sales to the largest of any day of time.

For heating your GARAGE

You can do it better with GAS

Frozen battery; frozen radiator; cracked cylinder block and burned out bearings—these are the dangers of keeping your car in a cold garage. Heat your garage. Heat it with GAS; that's the safest, best and easiest way.

Gas-Fired Garage Heater

A gas-fired garage heater, thermostatically-controlled, will automatically keep your garage at any desired temperature, 40 to 60 degrees. Thermostatic control gives protection both ways. No *under*heating; and no *over*heating which spells ruin to body finish when taken out into the cold.

Through saving a repaint, or a single costly motor repair, a gas-fired garage heater can easily pay for itself in one season! And what a comfort to enter your garage on the coldest morning, step on the starter and get immediate response.

See this efficient garage heater at any of the Peoples Gas Stores. For illustrated literature, phone Wabash 6000, House Heating Department, or mail the coupon.

All the requirements of a safe investment are present in this issue of 6½% First Mortgage Gold Bonds. Location—building—income—land value—borrower—all meet with the high standards of Leight, Holzer & Company

RECOMMENDATIONS

Location—The Millsfield Apartments will be located at 3933 Clarendon Avenue, Chicago. This location is within three and one-half blocks of Lake Michigan and one block from the rapidly growing Sheridan Road-Broadway business center. Transportation is excellent. The Elevated, the surface lines and the bus system are all conveniently available. Shops and theaters are close to The Millsfield. The Lincoln Park Golf Links, the yacht harbor and bathing beaches are also close at hand.

Security—The loan of $250,000 is secured by a direct closed first mortgage on the land and six-story modern, fireproof apartment building, which will contain seventy-six one and two room furnished apartments. It is further secured by a first lien on the income which we estimate at $60,000 annually.

Borrower—The bonds are a direct obligation of The Millsfield Building Corporation and will be personally guaranteed by Chief Justice Harry Olson, president and principal owner.

*From "The Jolly Testator Who Makes His Own Will."
Lord Neaves (1800-1876)

TODAY is yours, but there are ten thousand tomorrows with which you cannot reckon. Are you willing to risk the safe handling of your estate, the protection of your family, to those ten thousand uncertain tomorrows?

Your will, properly drawn by a competent attorney—your executor or trustee, selected with an eye to the careful management and disposition of your estate—can anything be more vital to the safeguarding of your family's future? And is anything more apt to upset your plans and imperil the interests of those you leave than an improperly drawn will, or the absence of any will at all?

Our experience of more than forty years in banking and investments is at your service and that of your attorney in making your will and, if you desire, in carrying out its provisions.

Henry Ittleson, Esq., President, has provided us with the following information:

BUSINESS

Commercial Investment Trust Corporation, through its subsidiaries, is engaged in a special field of banking, supplementing the usual functions of commercial banks. The business consists principally of financing manufacturers and merchants through purchasing notes and accounts arising from the sale of a large variety of nationally marketed products such as automobiles, electrical appliances and machinery. A considerable portion of the transactions differ from the usual bank loan or discount in that they represent the purchase of secured obligations resulting from completed sales of merchandise in moderate amounts to a large number of purchasers throughout the United States and Canada. A number of leading automobile manufacturers have contracts under which they obtain the services of the corporation in assisting their dealers to finance purchases and sales of cars. These companies include the manufacturers of the following cars: Dodge, Willys-Overland and Willys-Knight, Nash, Paige-Jewett, Hupmobile, Chandler and Cleveland. The soundness of the corporation's business is shown by the fact that total credit losses, not covered by indemnity bonds or insurance, for the period January 1, 1916, to October 31, 1925, have amounted to less than ⅛ of 1% of the total volume of business during that period.

MARKET EQUITY

On the basis of current quotations of common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the market equity for the First Preferred Stock (represented by the common stock now outstanding, but not including common stock to be presently issued) amounts to more than $27,000,000. The corporation has heretofore paid regular dividends on its common stock at the rate of $2.50 per share per annum. At a recent meeting of the board of directors a dividend at the rate of $3.60 per share per annum, was declared for the period from November 15, 1925, to December 31, 1925, after which the dividend period on this common stock will coincide with dividend period of the First Preferred Stock.

EARNINGS

Consolidated net earnings, after taxes and all other charges, available for dividends, including earnings of subsidiaries on the basis of present ownership, as certified by Messrs. Touche, Niven & Co., have been as follows:

1920	$ 507,762
1921	574,764
1922	1,088,462
1923	1,858,506
1924	2,275,146
Ten months to October 31, 1925	2,490,860

Consolidated net earnings for the first ten months of 1925, adjusted only to give effect to a saving of interest (at the rate of 6% per annum) resulting from new capital, but without giving any other effect to the present financing, would amount to $3,010,444 or over 4 times dividend requirements for a like period on the total amount of First Preferred Stock to be outstanding upon completion of this financing.

We offer this stock for delivery if, as and when issued and accepted by us, subject to the approval by stockholders of contemplated amendments to the certificate of incorporation and subject to the approval of legal matters by counsel. Common Stock Purchase Warrants will be attached to, and delivered with certificates for 6½% First Preferred Stock as above stated. Deliveries will be made in the form of Interim Receipts of Dillon, Read & Co. on or about December 10, 1925.

Price $99 per Share and Accrued Dividend

The corporation has agreed to pay an amount equal to interest at the rate of 6½% per annum on the par value of 6½% First Preferred Stock from the date of issue of Interim Receipts to January 1, 1926, from which date dividends will accrue.

Further information is contained in a circular which may be had on request

Have You a Real Cause for THANKSGIVING?

Experience has taught the average man of affairs how wise it is to prepare today for the emergencies of tomorrow. But, have you any assurance that you will be here tomorrow to personally protect the interests of your family? In that case wouldn't you have something to be thankful for today, if you knew with certainty that your estate was in order and that your Will naming the Trust Division of the "Republic" as executor was on file in your safe deposit box? The advantages of this complete service are explained in our booklet entitled, "When Your Estate Changes Hands." May we send you a copy?

Why not a Christmas Club

of your family?

The simplest way to finance your family's need for Christmas spending money next year would be to create a "sinking fund" this year for each member, in the form of a "Republic" Christmas Savings Club. There are five clubs now forming. Small weekly payments of 25c, 50c, $1.00, $2.00 or $5.00 during the coming months will give them $12.50, $25.00, $50.00, $100.00 or $250.00 plus interest next December. Why not come in and "sign them up" this week? There is a club for everyone.

Some widows keep funds in unbreakable bonds

"Cynical men tell me," said a widow, "that most estates left to women are exhausted in five years. My $10,000 inheritance has lasted longer than that, for I have it in good, safe bonds. Yet I need more income. What can I do?"

The remedy was simple. She had confused safety with marketability. Her holdings were sound, but they had the low yield that highly marketable, popular bonds always have. She reinvested, upon Compton advice, in securities with a high margin of safety, but with an average yield of 6.12%, in practically even monthly amounts.

Every investor has a different investment need, and requires a different balance between yield, marketability and safety. William R. Compton Company has been helping investors for thirty-eight years. Its nationally known service can help you.

PLAN 22 STORY APARTMENT ON LAKE SHORE DRIVE

BY AL CHASE.

Plans for a skyscraping apartment building at the northwest corner of Lake Shore drive and Schiller street have been revived on a much larger scale than originally outlined three years ago by Joseph M. Cudahy, president of the Sinclair Refining company.

It was disclosed yesterday when the "1400 Building corporation" transferred title in the property to Ora L. Hamilton for an indicated $400,000 that instead of the ten or twelve story building contemplated by Mr. Cudahy the limit probably will be around twenty-two stories if the zoning law permits.

Takes Title for Syndicate.

Ora L. Hamilton took title for an undisclosed syndicate which is having plans drawn for a building to contain one, two, and three room suites. That's about all the definite information available just now. Who the architects are also is kept a secret. Nelson C. Anderson of Crowe Bros. was broker.

It is interesting to recall that when Mr. Cudahy in 1922 bought this corner, then improved with the famous old mansion designed by the world famous architect, H. H. Richardson, and for years the home of Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury under President Taft, he paid $250,000. The property fronts seventy-five feet on Lake Shore drive and 200 feet on Schiller street. It's just across Schiller street from the old Potter Palmer castle.

Occidental Building Sold.

The Garrett Biblical institute yesterday bought from William A. Sheehan the eight story Occidental building at the northeast corner of Market and Washington streets, lot 180x160. The sale was negotiated by Frederick J. Tucker of Willoughby & Co., representing the buyers, and Albert A. Wilbur of the Ritchie Bond and Mortgage company. Willoughby & Co. will manage the property.

"The new owners will remodel and handsomely improve the building," said Mr. Tucker, "the aim being to devote it to a high type of occupancy, seeking electrical and radio equipment companies and kindred lines and retaining the present desirable tenants now occupying the building."

The Occidental building is in the heart of the telephone section, being near the three big buildings of the Illinois Bell Telephone company.

GARRETT BUILDINGS
CHICAGO

First Mortgage Serial Gold Bonds
Series "A" 5¾%
Secured by Fees and Improvements

Dated December 1, 1925 Due Serially 1926 to 1940

UNION TRUST COMPANY, CHICAGO, TRUSTEE

Redeemable as a whole or in part on any interest-payment date, on thirty days' notice, on or before December 1, 1930, at 103; thereafter on or before December 1, 1935, at 102; and thereafter at 101. Principal and interest at the rate of 5¾%, payable June 1 and December 1, at the Union Trust Company, Chicago. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, and with $100 bonds only in the last maturity. The Corporation agrees to pay interest without deduction for any normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 2%, which it may be required or permitted to pay thereon. Total authorized issue, $3,500,000

SECURITY: These bonds will be a direct obligation of the Garrett Biblical Institute, an Illinois corporation organized in 1855. It is one of the oldest and is the largest theological school of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Institute is located on the campus of Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois. Subject only to an unimportant lien on one property, securities for the satisfaction of which have been deposited with the Chicago Title and Trust Co., these bonds will be secured by a first mortgage on the following well-located real estate and buildings in Chicago which form a part of the Institute's endowment fund:

1. A nine-story reinforced concrete building and land at the southeast corner of Lake and Market Streets.
2. The Occidental Building, an eight-story reinforced concrete structure at the northeast corner of Washington and Market Streets.
3. A five-story office building and land at the southeast corner of Wells Street and Wacker Drive.
4. 309-319 Wacker Drive, a group of brick mercantile buildings and land extending through the block to 310-316 W. Lake Street.
5. A group of three connected buildings and land fronting on Michigan Boulevard, Indiana Avenue, and Thirteenth Street.

The Chicago Title and Trust Co. will issue its Mortgagee's Title Guarantee Policy for the full amount of the Series "A" bonds.

LOCATION: All of the properties are located in the downtown business district of Chicago, where there is a constantly increasing demand for high-grade mercantile space. The first four properties above mentioned are situated in the immediate vicinity of the new Wacker Drive, an improvement provided for under the Chicago Plan Commission, and which has already substantially enhanced real estate values in that neighborhood.

VALUATION: These properties have been appraised at $4,794,274, of which $2,543,600 is for the land and $2,250,674 is for the improvements. The value of the land alone is in excess of the total of first mortgage bonds outstanding of this series.

EARNINGS: The special act of the legislature by which the Garrett Biblical Institute was organized exempts it from the payment of taxes on any of its properties. Net earnings of all the buildings, including the newly acquired property, covered by the mortgage, for the year ended July 31, 1925, were at the rate of approximately 1⅔ times maximum interest charges of this entire issue. These earnings do not include the increased income which will result when the improvements to the property on Wacker Drive have been completed, nor do they reflect increased rentals from additional leases now being consummated.

For Men of Large Affairs

Many business projects require years to carry out. Often their completion rests upon the activities of one individual or a small group whose removal might cause serious impairment — even failure.

My business is to provide means by which such an emergency may be tided over, and the transaction carried to a successful conclusion. Men of large affairs are turning more and more to this safeguard of their most important projects. An explanation will take but a few minutes and put you under no obligation.

FIRST NATIONAL STOCKHOLDERS GET YULE MELON

BY O. A. MATHER.

One of the largest bank melons in recent years was announced last night by the First National bank of Chicago. The directors voted to increase the capital stock from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000 and to offer the additional stock to stockholders at $100 a share.

The advantage to the stockholders may be seen from the fact that First National bank stock is quoted in the open market around $565 a share. It is planned to give the privilege of buying one new share for each five shares held to stockholders of record Jan. 8. On this date the stock books will be closed in preparation for the annual meeting on Jan. 12, when the proposal for increasing the capital stock will be voted on. Payment for the new stock may be made up to Feb. 13. The dividend rate is $22 annually.

Increase Savings Bank Capital.

At the same time it is planned to increase the capital stock of the First Trust and Savings bank from $6,250,000 to $7,500,000, it being the policy to have its capital always one-half that of the parent institution. But this latter change will be accomplished by a transfer of undivided profits and so will not involve any payment of new money by stockholders.

The additional stock of the First Trust and Savings bank, like the present stock, will be held in trust for the stockholders of the First National bank, thus giving each stockholder a beneficial interest of half a share of First Trust stock for each share of First National stock owned. On the basis of the market price, it is figured that the right to buy new stock will be worth about $77 on each present share of First National stock.

Some Dividend Announcements.

Cheerful dividend announcements again figured largely in yesterday's news. The Phillips Petroleum company increased its annual rate from $2 to $3 by declaring a quarterly payment of 75 cents. The increase is applicable to the 25 per cent additional stock to which stockholders of record today may subscribe at $40 a share. The Paige-Detroit Motor Car company increased its annual common stock rate from $1.40 to $1.80 by declaring a quarterly payment of 45 cents.

The General Railway Signal company placed its new common stock on a $4 annual basis by declaring a quarterly payment of $1. An extra of 25 cents also was declared. The common stock recently was split up on a five for one basis, so that the new rate is equivalent to $20 on the old stock, which paid $6 a year and extras.

Island Creek Coal Raises Rate.

The Island Creek Coal company declared a dividend of $5 on the common stock, compared with $3 paid in seven previous quarters. The Bucyrus company declared an extra of $2 on common stock and the Gabriel Snubber Manufacturing company declared 62½ cents extra on its common shares. The Jewel Tea company declared an additional dividend of $2.25 on preferred stock, thereby reducing accumulated dividends to $29.75 a share.

The American Locomotive company declared the regular quarterly dividends of $2 a share on the common and $1.75 on the preferred, both payable Dec. 31.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Stock prices broke to a new low level for the current movement today when selling pressure was renewed against the motors and other vulnerable industrials.

The selling, which again originated largely with bear traders, was facilitated by the marking up of the call money rate to 5 per cent on a withdrawal of funds in anticipation of holiday requirements. Closing quotations disclosed a large number of losses, ranging from 1 to 5 points, but they were generally above the low levels of the day. Total transactions again fell just below the 2,000,000 share mark.

Development of another financial crisis in France, coincident with the change in cabinet, caused heavy selling of French francs and the rate sagged to a new low level for the year at 3.79½ cents.

Motors Hardest Hit.

The most drastic readjustment of prices took place in the motor shares. Chrysler opened five points higher at 180, broke to 167½, and then rallied to 171½. General Motors dropped from 111¼ to 106 and then snapped back to 107⅝. Hudson dropped from 95 to 90 and then rallied to 94¾. Packard, Stewart Warner and Stromberg Carburetor closed a point or so lower, but Mack Trucks, White and the Pierce-Arrow issues showed substantial gains on the day.

Liquidation of some of the standard industrials appeared to be of a necessitious character. Net declines of a point or more were recorded by Anaconda Copper, Brooklyn Union Gas, California Packing, Crucible and Gulf States Steels, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Western Union and Woolworth. United States Steel common closed fractionally higher at 127⅝ after having sold a point below that figure.

Oils Resist Pressure.

Oils developed the best degree of resistance to selling pressure, but they failed to show much response to a further stiffening of crude oil and gasoline prices. Heaviness of the coppers reflected the easier tendency of the red metal market. Federal Mining and Smelting broke 16½ points to 66½ on a few sales. Sharp recessions also took place in some of the high priced industrial specialties. Coca-Cola, International Business Machines, Union Tank Car and Westinghouse Air Brake closing 4 to 5 points lower.

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Further irregularity developed in today's curb market in reflection of a further readjustment of a top heavy speculative condition. Although substantial losses were recorded by a large number of popular issues, good buying developed around the lower levels and closing quotations were generally well above the day's lows.

Several 1925 lows were reached in the radio group, the list including DeForest, Grimes and Music Master. Electrical refrigeration issues fell back sharply in the early trading but rallied later. Moderate recessions also took place in Canada Dry Ginger Ale, the Continental Baking issues, Railway Steel Spring [new], and Victor Talking machine.

All Liberty bonds moved lower, partly in anticipation of a new treasury offering next month. Price movements of domestic corporation issues were highly conflicting, with few groups following a definite trend. Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western convertibles resumed their advance and a good demand developed for some of the New Haven and Missouri Pacific issues. Delaware & Hudson, International Great Northern and Frisco obligations were lower. Sinclair 6s lagged behind the rest of the oil bonds and Goodrich 6½s were the most conspicuous weak spot in the rubber group.

In managing an estate
EXPERTS are paid no more than a LAYMAN

Trusteeship is no task for an amateur. It is too complicated. The expense of it varies greatly with the skill and experience employed.

The fee for the highly competent service of this Company is no more than would be allowed an inexperienced individual. The difference in favor of this Company comes in the saving in expense of outside technical assistance, the elimination of delays, the prevention of mistakes in handling complicated taxes, the avoiding of the hazards due to hasty liquidation and unwise investment.

It takes a trained organization to economically administer the modern will and manage property left in trust. Four important points to consider are discussed in our leaflet entitled "To those who have not named a Trust Company in their wills." A copy will be sent upon request.

LOW LIVING COST ADVANTAGES OF VILLAGES LOST

BY HARPER LEECH.

The theory that the United States is on the eve of a great industrial decentralization because manufacturers must seek smaller places in which labor can live cheaper receives scant encouragement from recent statistical progress.

As we learn more of living costs the notion that living is necessarily cheaper in the village or on the countryside appears to possess more historical than contemporary validity.

When villagers and farmers actually consumed locally produced products their living costs were naturally lower than the costs of the urbanite. But as the standards of life have been rising, both in city and village, and as the villager, like his city brother, demands more and more things which come from afar, his advantages in living costs grow less. Americans now insist upon eating fresh vegetables of some kind all the year round. They demand citrus fruit all winter.

Mattoon has no advantage over Chicago in California lettuce or Florida grapefruit, Detroit autos or Saskatchewan oatmeal. In fact, the Chicago housewife may have an advantage over her Mattoon sister, because, even if her retailer must pay higher rent, Chicago is a greater market, offers more competition, more range of selection—and may, in fact, be a central market for such things, from which Mattoon merchants replenish their stocks.

Studies of actual family expenses in the smaller centers have not been made on any scale extensive enough to warrant general statements, but the national industrial conference board's last survey of city living costs shows plainly—as previous studies have indicated—that living costs do not advance in proportion to population as between cities. On the contrary, it appears that after cities pass a certain size and attain a certain maturity which results in a great diversity of occupations and the development of all sorts of trade currents, which not only develop great competitive and well stocked markets, but also give the advantages of mass distribution, the larger centers offer opportunities for relatively cheap living.

Excluding towns now under boom conditions or affected by some one big industry, we find that it is cheaper to live in New York, Chicago or Philadelphia than in Buffalo, Portland, Ore., Memphis, or Norfolk, Va.

Some of the lowest cost cities are by no means small, such as Boston, Baltimore, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Minneapolis. Two cities, both of which have been largely promoted by advertising methods—Atlanta and Los Angeles, are far apart in living costs—Atlanta below the average for the country, Los Angeles far ahead of it.

Of course all such surveys are valuable as showing trends rather than absolute costs. Living costs are largely what the individual and family make them, no matter where they live.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1925.

Activity in Chicago stocks yesterday was confined to a little more than half a dozen issues which were irregular in tone. Weakness developed on small sales to a number of stocks. Omnibus was a feature, moving up 1⅛ to 13⅛. Stewart-Warner declined 1⅝ to 73⅝. Wahl lost 1¼ to 7¾ on sales said to be for the purpose of establishing income tax losses. The company reports operations of about 48 per cent of capacity. Real Silk Hosiery advanced ½. At the company's annual meeting yesterday stockholders were given a preliminary annual report showing net earnings after all charges except taxes of $2,058,259, or $10.29 a share, compared with $1,575,063, or $7.87 a share after all deductions except taxes. An increase of $3,357,230 in sales was reported.

Swift International closed unchanged at 29½. Edward F. Swift, president, issued a statement denying reports that a dividend increase is contemplated. He said reports from Buenos Aires indicate that results of this year's business are disappointing and any profits will be moderate. Armour B declined ⅝, and Auburn Automobile was ⅛ lower. On small sales, losses were: Yellow Truck, 3½; Great Lakes Dredge, 3 points; Montgomery Ward, 2 points; Kraft Cheese and United States Gypsum, 1½ each, and McCord Radiator, United Light and Power A common, Quaker Oats, American Shipbuilding, Gill Manufacturing, and Kellogg Switchboard and Supply, a point each. Balaban & Katz was up 1½, and Ward A gained a point.

THE CHASE NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, Trustee

The following information regarding the Company has been summarized from letter of Mr. Harry H. Hunt, Chairman of the Board of Directors:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTY

Virginia Electric and Power Company (formerly Virginia Railway and Power Company) into which the Spottsylvania Power Company was merged in October 1925, was organized in 1909 under the laws of Virginia. The Company through ownership or control furnishes electric light and power, transportation and/or gas service in Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Williamsburg, Suffolk, Petersburg, Hopewell, Fredericksburg and Ashland, Virginia, and Weldon and Roanoke Rapids, North Carolina, and surrounding territory with an aggregate estimated population of about 500,000. The present industrial and commercial development of this territory affords unusual opportunities for increasing the electric light and power business. The combined properties, which are conservatively valued at more than $55,000,000, include electric generating stations with a capacity of 165,000 horsepower of which 28,000 is hydro-electric, also rights for further hydro-electric developments of 100,000 horsepower.

CAPITALIZATION

Assuming the complete exchange of the preferred and common stock of Virginia Railway and Power Company for the new stocks provided for in the merger agreement and after giving effect to the recent sale of an additional $1,500,000 par value of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock locally through a customer ownership campaign, the consolidated capitalization of Virginia Electric and Power Company and its public utility subsidiaries will be as stated below, and the Company will have available for construction over $3,000,000:—

	Authorized	Outstanding
First and Ref. Mortgage Bonds (this issue)	Open	$ 3,000,000
Divisional Mortgage Bonds	Closed	20,847,000
Bonds and stocks of subsidiaries and Leased Company	......	5,746,000
7% Cumulative Preferred Stock	$15,000,000	10,487,000
Common Stock (no par value)	480,000 shares	478,020 shares

The $3,000,000 Series A, 5% Gold Bonds will be direct obligations of Virginia Electric and Power Company by virtue of its indenture dated November 2, 1925 supplemental to the First and Refunding Mortgage Indenture of Spottsylvania Power Company dated October 1, 1925, and are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first lien on electric light and power properties which have been valued at substantially more than the principal amount of these bonds, a first lien by pledge on the stock of Virginia-Carolina Power Company, owning valuable rights for future hydro-electric developments, and a direct mortgage, subject to divisional mortgage bonds, on the other fixed physical properties and franchises of the Company. The combined public utility properties now owned or controlled by the Company are conservatively valued at over twice the principal amount of all bonds at present outstanding thereon.

Additional bonds are issuable under said indentures, without limit as to maximum amount, on the basis of 75% of the cost or fair value of additional property or for purposes of refunding, all under the conservative restrictions contained in said indentures.

EARNINGS

The consolidated earnings for the 12 months ending September 30, 1925 of the properties (August 31, 1925 for Spottsylvania Power Company) are as follows:

Gross Earnings		$12,051,214
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes		7,054,218
Net Earnings		4,996,996
Required for rentals	$338,900
Required for Interest on Divisional Bonds, and charges on securities of subsidiaries	1,132,230
Required for interest on First and Refunding Bonds (this issue)	150,000	$1,621,130

Net earnings as indicated above are over 3 times the amount required for interest on these bonds plus charges on all prior securities and rentals. For each of the last 3 calendar years net earnings have been over 2½ times these requirements. The balance after all such charges is equal to 28% of gross earnings.

SHEEP — Fed western lambs yesterday	15.00@16.25

One year ago	13.25@14.50

After a week's steady decline in hog values the downturn was checked yesterday, with closing values 10@15c higher than the finish the previous session. Receipts totaled 8,000 short of the advanced estimate at 30,000, against 64,578 a year ago and 66,779 two years ago. Large shipping orders and liberal buying by local packers added tone to the trade. Top 230 lb butchers sold at $11.25, with 150@260 lb averages at $11.20. Price range was narrowest of the season, with general average $11.05, against $11.45 the previous Tuesday and $8.40 a year ago. Quality was fairly good.

Although cattle receipts were moderate for Tuesday at 14,000, the downward swing of prices was checked in fairly active trading. General quality was lacking and few loads sold above $12.00, with bulk of beef steers bringing $8.25@12.00. Yearling steers, averaging 946 lbs, culled from show stock, reached $13.00. Choice 1,418 lb averages topped at $13.75. Buyers showed a preference for medium and weighty cattle and activity in yearlings and light steers subsided in midsession. Butcher stock held steady and canners and cutters firm. Calves advanced 50c. Stockers and feeders were strong.

Lambs Bring $16.25.

Natives and fed westerns to shippers and packers reached $16.25, the highest paid for fat lambs since last June. Market ruled strong to 25c higher, with bulk of better grades at $15.50@16.00, 103 lb comebacks bringing $15.00. Aged sheep were firm and yearlings strong to higher. Prime 90 lb yearlings were $13.00, fed Texas aged wethers, averaging 117 lbs, $9.75, and 120 lb ewes, $3.50. Feeding lambs sold steady, best 65 lb averages bringing $16.00.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 18,000 hogs and 3,000 sheep, against 14,587 cattle, 34,521 hogs and 5,552 sheep the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

SALARY, BONUS, COMMISSION.

No experience necessary. Leads furnished. If you work consistently you can increase your income more rapidly with us than with any similar organization. A. A. M., who earned only $4,000 a year before we hired him, received more than $25,000 last year, his second year with us.

You can do the same if you are intelligent, willing to work, and over 21 years of age.

YOU want the best things of life. Money will buy them, and we offer you the opportunity to earn MORE MONEY in one year than you might ordinarily earn in five.

We require 100 more men to help us handle our ever increasing volume of business, already amounting to more than $1,000,000 a month. We can double it if we get the right men right away.

That's why we will hire men inexperienced in selling and give them the best sales training in this business.

We are not a new firm; we have 27 years of success behind us and are now ready to start the most amazing sensational, price smashing sales campaign "RIGHT HERE IN CHICAGO." Our advance advertising amounts to more than $100,000 worth of publicity.

Cash in on this great wave of Chicago real estate activity and at the same time know down in your heart that you are selling the "best on the market," that you are building a clientele of customers who will be your friends for life.

This means a permanent position, a STEADY, high income, and the best opportunity to rise to an executive position. All our managers are chosen from our sales force. Never before has there been such a great money making opportunity offered in these columns.

It may never come again. We need 100 men. Apply TODAY.
